III. Wet lands depend upon four tanks - they are in repair they are fed by Temple streams. The tanks are filled annually in ordinary seasons - The Channasamam supply 76 Acre of Wet & 30 Acre of Dry are cultivated annually & that the remaining lands that are cleared as waste are of long uncultivated lands - fit to be brought under plough within a period of 3 or 4 years - It is strange how the Channasamam left waste the lands that may be brought easily under plough - particularly during the last 10 years in which, high prices obtained over the country - but land is not cultivated 2nd time. No tank is raised. Scarcity of water is not much felt - The fontage is open Village is Minnaranjiam - The average wet assessment of the village calculated on a period of 14 years from 1258 to 1273 & from 1265 to 1270 comes to 729 per acre - The Channasamam say that the Dammasamam lands are equal in fertility to those of the open lands - but the Dammasamam has not such an influential source of irrigation as the open village - This seems to be true to some extent - The average Dry assessment of the adjacent open village varies from 0749 to 0709 per acre - It appears that seasons scarcity of water in fact, the lands produce scanty outturn from scarcity of water - The average income of the village as per statement of the Channasamam is 2298 - The consideration of the above presumptions I frame the valuation of the village as follows - The adjoining average open assessment is high & that the average income stated by the Channasamam is low -

- 75 Acre of Wet - cultivated annually at 5 1/2 Rs per acre - 412-8
- 1/4 Acre of Wet - Waste yet 5 Acre cultivated at 1 Rs per acre - 16-0
----- 428-8-0
Dry 30 Acre - at 12 Rs per acre ----- 360-0
Dry 6 1/2 Acre - Waste yet 1/2 Acre per acre ----- 11-0
----- 424-3-0
Total 450-11-0
