The entry of the name Sesha Vaddyar in F. 1233 is erroneous — it would appear that the monigar of the village who was a relation of that man managed to have that name entered in the accounts — & soon after set up a claim for the Inam — the matter was brought to the notice of the Collr. — who on enquiry punished the monigar with a fine — the document entered in Col. 12 — produced before me ~~[illegible]~~ is the original takid of the Tasildar on the subject —

This is a [illegible] Inam — it would appear to have been given for the purpose of teaching Vedas — ~~but~~ the object seems to have been lost sight of as soon as the Inam was granted — At any rate the present holders do not teach Vedas gratis — some of them I fear cannot understand the [illegible] — It has been to all evidence enjoyed as "Personal" Inam — I would therefore deal with it as such & charge it with a quit rent — but it would be the lowest ×

× because it has been held under such circumstances for the last 50 years — [illegible]

One Subramanien advanced his claim for a share — which he never enjoyed since his birth — his age being above 16 years — for further particulars vide similar case belonging to the same parties in Mélmanavúr in this [illegible]
