The adjustment of Chas. A. 1836 being thus stated, the next point requiring attention is the nature of the enjoyment of the land.

See instructions contained in the Report of 1882 regarding the performance of the service. The largest part of the performance of that do not seem to have been called upon. All the shareholders have usually employed a lawyer to conduct the service, which they occupy the position of managers. Some of the shareholders are also in the actual work. And it is proposed a claim similar to the one brought up by us of 1882. I have not seen the Report of the entire thing in this manner. They likewise indicate the connection of us 5) with the party. I have not considered it advisable to submit the claim beyond the report of their names along with others, or to submit any to the already registered holders, as they are at the actual enjoyment of their respective shares, & have the joint duty of distribution.

The foregoing lengthened remark was called for by the Mayor's strong account of an incident that a clear & full statement of the facts to the Board was necessary, & would the recurrence of a further objection.
