Derived it in gift from Mattamma his Mother's mother

The share of Aramadraya was mortgaged to Tolasambatti Subbaya

This share in the enjoyment of Mortgagee Tolasambatta Obaiyan Son Venkatarayan yet enjoys the Jmam on Mortgage He has not appeared.

This is also in the enjoyment of

& A mortgagee Tolasambe Subbaiyar's son Venkatarayan.

§§ This share is under mortgage to Tolasambatti Subbarayan Amount 105 Rs.

Now prefer claim to the Inam are 1st, Daraumpuri Seshagiri Aiyan on the ground that he is the deceased's grandfather's uncle's grandson's grandson & that he performed the funeral of the deceased; 2dly One Tolasambatti Chenna Kesavaiyan, on the ground that he is the son of Subbarayan 2d daughter's son of Muttamma from whom the deceased had derived the Inam as inheritance, being the eldest daughter's son ⅜ 3 1/4 Nos 1 & 2 & their Co-sharer Ramaiyan who enjoys his share in other Villages, & No 3 claim the Inam as Cousins. The 1st claimant is too distant a Cousin, to have any just claim whatever to the paternal estate of the deceased. The 2d claimant's right is also inadmissible, as the property once gone in gift in one daughter's line cannot revert after the extinction of that line, to another Daughter's. His father was besides the mortgagee of the land, and now enjoys the land on the right of mortgage. The only persons that have any plausible right are Nos 1 & 2 & 3 Ramaiya of the original family. In the original family there were 3 brothers, the eldest branch was allowed 4/11 share; the 2d branch 3/11 share; & 3d branch 3/11 share. I would view the present lapse as giving an end to the 3d branch of the original family, & adjudge the right of this lapsed share to the Cousins of that branch viz Nos 1-2 & 3, Ramaiya & No 3.

To be Deed in the names of Nos 1, 2 & 3 Ramaiya Jodi
