

Handwritten notes at the top of the page, including a date '19th August' and various names and titles. The text is written in a cursive script and appears to be a header or introduction to the main document.

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	15	16	17	18	19	20	21	22	23	24	25	26	27	28	29	30	31	32	33	34	35	36	37	38	39	40	41	42	43	44	45	46	47	48	49	50	51	52	53	54	55	56	57	58	59	60	61	62	63	64	65	66	67	68	69	70	71	72	73	74	75	76	77	78	79	80	81	82	83	84	85	86	87	88	89	90	91	92	93	94	95	96	97	98	99	100
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	-----

[illegible]

It is better to recede than to fail, such of them as not yet feel the necessity to make the common to that last equivalent & the average distance from values to prices there.
In the future have values as a reference.

(Faint handwritten notes at bottom)

[illegible][illegible]

Quamvis
Bene

[illegible]

Reiner 19

[illegible][illegible]

~~Dear Sir,~~
Believe me,
Yours very truly,
Amos M. Randall
writing Potts Phenomenon mentions in Oct 15 she stated to Susan L.
that she was at home
for some time ago
with her mother & sister
The Chicago Tribune
in Nov 865 I received from
Wm. F.