

77
Shkalapuram
Krishnagiri Taluk
Palani District
Calicut

Chaco was a Pampa Indian village. The soil is generally reddish sandy clay, but in places of fine average quality. The whole of the remarkable agricultural land in Chaco is the greater part of the land is clay, to a small extent is clayed over, which depends upon a small hard shell; the upper sample is best. The soil commences on the side of the hill.

a whole Bagket of such broken & thin pieces
to make a bed of 30, making out for Mr. The Bag
of the Village of the same
Elkmanis in the Bagket
Value —————

[illegible]

[Handwritten signature]

Wm. L. G. & Co.

14-22-57/8

Janmilla

Regessee 3

Jitti Chansapah

of the Nongayee Taluk, Salem District
There is a Simbata village in the far north.
In April 1881
In 1881 census with the head of family

3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22

Religious	82-401
Grav.	94-106-58
Druck	106-119-77
Grav.	357-11	82-41-7
Druck	88-20	41-5-2
Grav.	178-21	165-77
Particular
82-407-10		382-1-4
165-11-21		82-9-3
278-11		165-77