The first

Inam Register of Bommalapalayam No. 26 Jodi Agraharam in the Paramati division of the Namakal Taluq Salem di.

Register No. 21
Sheet No. 161

Inam Agraharam Register No. ~~XXI~~ No. 21

There is a Jodi Agraharam

It is divided into 24 Vrittis. Each ½ Vritti is called a Kani & is managed by a Kanidar who ~~[illegible]~~ looks after the cultivation of the Kani lands & distributes to each Vrittidar his due share of the produce and rents.

The assessment is complained of as too heavy. The average assessment of the wet is only 12 & odd Rupees per Acre. Some individual fields would seem to bear a very high rate. But unless a general scheme of reduction is sanctioned, we cannot do any thing in the way of revision. The Agraharadars of Bommalapalayam & Kandalam expressed themselves with that if the ~~[illegible]~~ Melapatti were assimilated to the assessment in Circar villages, they would be willing to pay the full reduced assessment on the lands of the Agraharam. I asked them to file in a Muchilika to that effect. They have not done so ~~as yet~~. They are I believe at liberty to ask for their Inams being full assessed at any time they wish before the Revenue authorities. Therefore I propose the assessment as they have prevail.

This village formed one of the 11 villages which were attached for the non-appearance of the Inamdars in due time. I recommend that the attachment may be removed as the Agraharadars attended & got the village settled.

As regards the Mohturpha & tree tax, I do not think they form any component part of the Ayakat value. The Mohturpha has been since abolished & the tree tax must merge in the value of the land. I recommend that the Mohturpha & tree tax may be thrown out of the Ayakat value.

XXXX. It is unnecessary to wait for the report from Collr referred to as the Tahsildar appears to have reported to that officer on the Vellur Case lengthy — & as he has separately reported on this claim to us from which it would appear that the Dowledar & his widow Sembattayee ammal having died without issue the property fell to the inheritance of her brother and that the mortgage by the Dowledar to the family of No 3 is admitted by them as necessary to the appellant's right.
