Virachchipalayam

Trichengode Tq

Salem Dt.

(1–3)

Sheet No. 80

This is a Sarva Inam Village. The original grant consisted of Kasba Virachchipalayam & the hamlets of Pudupalayam, Vettuvapalayam, Komaragoundampalayam, Kodanjampalayam & Periampalayam. In Tippu Sultan's days, a Jodi equal to a half of the Beriz of the entire Agrahar was fixed & at the assumption of the Country by the British the half share of the Agrahardars & the half share of Govt was divided off in land. A part of the Kasbah Virachchipalayam, & the hamlets of Pudupalayam & Vettuvapalayam were surveyed & recorded as the share of the Agrahardars; & the remaining fields of the Kasbah Virachchipalayam, & the hamlets of Komaragoundampalayam, Kodanjampalayam & Periampalayam were surveyed & recorded as Circar villages. For the Circar villages a separate Karnam is kept & annual settlement is held on the Ryotwary tenure. The Agrahar hamlets are enjoyed distinctly & exclusively by the Agrahardars. Hence the Agrahar is known in the Accounts by the name of ~~[illegible]~~ Ardhamaniam Agrahar.

The soil is generally [illegible] the assessment is not heavy. The whole Ayakat is Dry.

Capt. McLeod granted his Pattah in F1206 for the Agrahar fields in the names of the Agrahardars collectively.

The Accounts available are the survey account & the ~~Kosam~~ Vrittiwar Kosam Account of F1207. The survey acct. details as each field the several Vrittidars that ~~any~~ held the field jointly, but it does not state down in group at one place the different fields in the enjoyment of each Vrittidar. An individual abstract of the survey would have to be made for making out the total quantity of each person's holding at the survey, but it would be vain to attempt this, for according to local custom, they have exchanged the Vritti fields so ~~[illegible]~~ often that the survey ~~would~~ statement would not again tally with the present enjoyments. In the periodical rotatory exchanges that have taken place, the equalization of Vritti values – not in assessment but in old Guntas, appears to have been carefully kept in view by the Agrahardars. The Vrittiwar rights & enjoyments are explained very clearly in the Kosam Account of F1207. The Agrahar was originally given in 40 Vrittis, & the present reduced Agrahar village, is enjoyed still in 40 Vrittis, which are, in value, only half Vrittis.

A Kadjan deed of transfer mortgage dated Chitrabhanu (1822) by Subbaya's son Ramaya transferring the mortgage of the 1/8 V to Ramaya (father of Venkatapataya) for [illegible]	This 1/4 V. originally belonged to Rajaram Gurumurti. It passed in mortgage to other families through 2 or 3 hands. Both the mortgages are shown by documents to have taken place in 1805. Both the acts from the mortgage to Kistnaya as having taken place in 1805. The early date of the other mortgage is not borne out by our old accounts. The family of Rajaram Gurumurti is said to have become extinct long ago. But the families of the mortgagees Kistnaya & Chennimali Narayana appear to exist at Parlapatti, & Salem.
