The deceased died without any heirs – One Subbachary of Bodarlatti son of Venkatachary claims the Inam on the ground that he has been enjoying the Inam from 12 years since his father's death & that he had enjoyed it for some years as a gift from Subbamma. He can produce no deed of gift. He has chosen 2 witnesses – one of them Subbaya of Karur states he knows of 3 years enjoyment of the Subbachary while the other Nippani Subbakka states he knows nothing about the gift nor enjoyment. Under these circumstances it is clear that it is an unclaimed property applied up by Subbachary. I would therefore resume the Inam 22/12/62	To be [illegible] A/ do

x Only Pujah to Pillari, but that they never engaged to him – The Karnam states that in the last year both parties have shared the produce equally – One Panchayet Mortgage [illegible] states that the 2 families were in dispute for 4 years about the enjoyment of the land, & that a verbal Panchayet Razinamah was agreed to by them to the effect that both should enjoy the produce equally – See 11.12/1848, Tale Goundan xx xx was ordered as to decision for the 2 temples & as to sole enjoyment of Mari – Tale Goundan does not prove any right further than his disputed enjoyment a few years – It is true he does Pujah to Pillari, but that itself does not prove sufficient xxx ground for recognizing his right. I have therefore rejected Tale Goundan's claim to equality & referred him to the Civil Court for his redress

Phippien	The name Phippien entered in the Kayam-thurva accounts of fusli 1207.	In the Inam accounts of 1248 it is entered that the Inam was sold by Phippien to Subbam-mall wife of Seenappa of Chatha Kadi-but that the par-ties were never pre-sent nor any documents were forthcoming. It is not known who was the original Inamdar.	Subba Chari of Nellur Bedara palli... His brother Rama Chari...2	Rammi Nellur Uttengeri Talug.	None.	1. Mother Narasamal age 56 2. Aunt Lutchumal age 35 3. Subbachari's wife Rangamal. 4. Ramachary's wife Kom-dammall.	Vengatrama chary father of Subbachari and Rama chary obtained this by gift about 25 years ago from Subbammall in Column 15 Deed of Gift not forthcoming.	It appeared from the records connected with this Case that the Inam passed by gift from Subbammall to Vengatramachorry who enjoyed it till his death and that his sons are now enjoying. I therefore recommend that the Inam may be confirmed in the names of Subbachory and Rama Chary the legal heirs and enjoyers on payment of annual quitrent of — 2 — in every Rupee in the Assessment (Signed) R. J. R. Atkinson Asst. Inam Commissioner	This Inam has been already resumed by the Depy. [illegible] in the Statement of Cases to be fully assessed sent to the Collr. The word "resumed" on the Inamdar's statement has been misread "Retained" apparently by the Tahsildar. [illegible]

The Tahsildar appears to have taken up this case by mistake reading the word "Resumed" in the Statement for "Retained" & thought, for the reasons recorded, to have been fully [illegible] for which purpose it was correctly included in the State-ment of Cases for full assessment furnished from this office to the Collector. It will be observed that the "Deed of Gift" produced before the Special Assist. on appeal & pronounced as an untrustworthy document, was not produced before the Tahsildar. The claim must, I think, be thrown out.
