219 Register of Inams in the Village of Rayanallur (late Jagir of Kollamalai) (No. 435) in the Talug of Chitambaram (late Mannargudi) in the District of South Arcot

This village belongs to the resumed ancient Jagir of Kollamalai & the first Inam acct existing was that taken on the assumption in fasli 1231 - Accounts of 50 years standing are wanting & as the Inams are shown to be enjoyed since the assumption I suppose they must be passed as valid Inams in the same way as if they were proved by evidence of 50 years (the Jagir being an ancient one) under Rule 3 of the Inam Rules - At the same time such other proofs of longer possession as are tendered in the shape of Parvanas &c. by the late Jagirdars are also recorded & recommended - 23rd Sept 1861 - Madaswa Pillay Dy Coll

N.B. In cases not supported by Sanads &c. showing 50 years possession I have generally recommended only ⅛th Quit Rent, tho' the Accounts are less than 50 Years old, in as much as the villages of Kollamalai belong to an "Ancient Jagir" for which there are no earlier accounts than those taken on the assumption of the Jagir; and this I presume is only in accordance with Section III of the Inam Rules.

The Commissioner's Proceeding dated 5th July 1861 No 332 enjoins ¼th as the proper rate of Commutation in cases resting on Account of less than 50 Years with the exception of Sarvamanyam[?] Inams, & I therefore beg to submit for Consideration whether this injunction is not at variance with the provision of the Rule quoted -

Madaswa Pillay
Deputy Collector Inam Commission

A few annas are added more than the rules allow in certain shares to prevent loss of 2 [illegible] by the division.

The whole of the Inam having been divided as in col: 16 has hitherto been in the sole possession of shares No. I, by the consent of the other parties, to allow of certain religious services & feasts being performed for the benefit of all – This arrangement they have cancelled among themselves & they have agreed by Razinama filed before me that the common Inam should be thus divided, money payments being made instead by each shareholder to Umarsaheb on account of these ~~rites~~ ceremonies under certain stipulations therein provided – It must be here noticed that the Inam itself is "Inamadmash" & its appropriation for religious purposes is a matter among themselves
