

Handwritten manuscript page from a ledger or journal, featuring a large illustration of a bird (possibly a hawk or eagle) perched on a branch in the upper left corner. The page contains extensive handwritten notes in cursive script, organized into columns and rows, likely representing survey data or land records. The text includes dates (e.g., 1820, 1821, 1822), measurements (e.g., 1-1/2, 2-1/2, 3-1/2), and names (e.g., John, William, James). There are also some printed headings like "Section 1" and "Section 2". The handwriting is dense and somewhat difficult to decipher in many places due to the cursive style and fading.
