Decision of Regr. No. 280. Ellakkichittalai

"Kellitidal a piece of land sold about 57 years ago or in Prabhava last to Subbaiyan father of the party named in col. 16 by the Co-Sharers of Saravanamien village of Sadayandiottam as part of their Inam and now held by the Watan pandal Chavadi in this case was measured in 1 Mg along with the land of the village of Ellai in 1 Mg and a number of others surveyed together in 1858 and it was written off in the Godpara of Ellai to the account of Sadayandiottam. In the abstract of this last named village however it is not brought to account. But in the Kaiyilolai of Ellakkichakkaram it is included and encumbered with this inam land 1 Mg 14-24-14/20 being the sum of this Inam land 1 Mg 9 Chavadi 0 Mg 4 Chavadi 5-20-6½ the Survey extent of Kellitidal, are entered as Saravanamien belonging to the Watan Pandal Chavadi there in the Godpara or abstract by an apparent error 5 cents of the 5 dasams are omitted to form part of Sale for the Kellitidal and the entry in the Patta after a 5-20-6½ appear to have belonged to and part of Sadayandiottam though it is situated away from it is not right to include it in the Dittam of this village and settle it as part of the Inam. I have therefore entered it and settled it as part of Sadayandiottam. I have come across many cases in this district where a piece of land measured as part of a village is situated at a distance from and unconnected with the rest. ... ..."
