"The title for this Sarvamaniam is not available. It was entered as [illegible] in the year 1809 where been took in Wara. The 140 odd acres entered in Col. 4 are held as two Inams, one by far the larger as Sarvamaniam, and the other as a religious Endowment. Besides the ₨749-15-1¼ brought on this Register, including Poramboke, there are about 30 odd Vélis of [illegible] Nanja, Punjai &c. lands in the village. In the accounts of F.1210, Tirukkottikkaval appears as two villages, one Tirukkottikkaval [illegible], V 9-17-„ in ext. of which V 2-13-„ are entered as Tirukkottimamaniam [illegible], & the other Tirukkottikkaval Agraharam Sarvamaniam. The extent of this latter is ent.d as V 86-3-50 [illegible] Wet. By V 13-12-50 [illegible] Poramboke. Of these, V 64-12-50, being the extent of the Wet only, are [illegible] in the Register of 1809, in which it is [illegible] appending the [illegible] in the holders of the Inam. In this last mentioned [illegible], the length of the road is specified as 3 feet. [illegible] the Inam of Tirukkottimamaniam is entd. as being V 9-17-95¼. Regarding this [illegible] remarks in Part No. 2. The V 86-3-50 with a 13 feet road is equivalent to V 100-2-75 (without 12 feet long). This is more than the present extent of the Agraharam Sarvamaniam, is the extent for this case. [illegible] the [illegible] Sarvamaniam in the Tirukkottai [illegible] all from one village. [illegible] there [illegible]
