The animal was killed for the purpose of the experiment at 7.10. The specimen is sent by post.

I have been very much surprised to find that the people who were sent to the Cape of Good Hope in 1806 were not sent there by the Government of England but by the Government of France.
I had thought they were sent there by the Government of England.
