...Field No 53 is claimed by Annappien, Venkatasubbayan & Venkat Ramyan as one party. They also claim ¼ of the field No 72 in the following case. They rest the claim on their alleged enjoyment & cannot explain how they came to acquire the shares. They further state that of the remaining ¾ ths of the Field No 53, 2/4 ths are enjoyed by one Parvatiammal the Inamdar in the next case, & ¼ th by Krishnayen. They further aver that of the remaining ¾ ths of the Field No 72 in case 42, 2/4 ths are enjoyed by the said Parvatiammal, & ¼ th by Krishnayen. Krishnayen the Inamdar in this case admits and supports the statements of the above party; and although he has given in a statement claiming the whole of this Inam for himself, he has no objection to give up the ¾ ths of the Dry Field No 53 in favor of the party consisting of Annappien and others and 2/4 ths in favor of Parvatiammal, provided a ¼ of the Dry Field No 72 in the next case is confirmed to him. If this is not so confirmed to him, he would not allow any share in the inam to another Person. Parvatiammal however denies her enjoyment of 2/4 ths of the Dry Field No 53 in this case, and contends that the field No 72 in the next case is her own, and disallows the enjoyment of any shares in it by either Krishnayen, or by the party of Annappien &c. In July 1270 when the Carnam had to examine an ... field adjoining the Field No 72, he found on inspection a deficiency in the latter field enjoyed by Parvatiammal which was then traced to ¾ ths of the field having been enjoyed by the 2 other parties. A dispute then arose between the two parties, & Parvatiammal who contended that she must have the whole of the Field No 72 alleging that the cultivators had been paying her for that field only & that the change in the holding as found in F1270 was a fraud of the 2 parties & the Cultivators. The Polygar's officers did nothing beyond saying that present enjoyment should not be disturbed. The land of the Field No 72 was under attachment in consequence of Parvatiammal's protest till it was taken by the 2 Parties for the ¾ ths of it under dispute. Parvatiammal has not ... her share of the produce which stands ... the cultivators. Annappien & others are brother's descendants of Parvatiammal's mother in law who states in their favor. Field 53 is poor while Field 72 is rich & capable of producing wet grain when occasionally irrigated by tank water tho' dry in the ... I consider that the alleged enjoyment of any share either in this Inam or in the next by parties not registered ... account ... of F1262 should be considered fraudulent & under this view I have recommended the confirmation of the inam to the registered holder only.

Parvati Ammal 55 years	Nangavaram Village Kulitalai Taluk	widow of the grandson (Gr. son) of Subsequent Registered holder Venkatachallam Iyer.	Narayana Iyer, Adopted son of Parvati Ammal	〃	At the time of the Inam Settlement in 1864 Parvati ammal had a widowed mother-in-law as her heir. The Inam Commissioner therefore then fixed quit rent at one fourth of the assessment with reference to para 4 of rule V of Inam rules page 214 of Appendices to Board's Standing Order No 116. 2. From the enquiry now held it appears that the widowed mother-in-law died about 16 years ago, that Parvati ammal adopted her sister's son Narayana Aiyer and that he is her heir. Narayana Aiyer is about [illegible] years old now. 3. Under rule V of the above appendices, adoption except out of the family of an undivided brother is not recognised. The adoption of a sister's son cannot therefore be recognised. This case therefore falls under para 5 of rule V as the case of an inamdar not possessed of heirs of any kind and without the possibility of having any issue. I recommend that a quit rent at one half of the assessment viz Rs 17-- may be fixed.	Vide correspondence with Collector's letter R.C. No [illegible] d/21-12-94. Confirmed C. S. C. N.
