[illegible] Zamindari Tirumalai Taluq Trichinopoly District (Inam Village)

11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22

Regd.

The Excess in this Entire Inam Village is allowed because it is within its recognized boundaries entered in the Ayakut accounts & because it is caused merely by a difference of measurements as made in F 1213 & subsequently – There is no reason to suspect any Encroachment as the only party that must be affected by it is the Zamindar who admits the Excess to be part of the original area. The Excess in minor Inams is also allowed on similar grounds – as the Zamindar in his capacity as the Proprietor of the Estate and as the representative of the Jagheerdar (The Pagoda) admits it to be within the limits of the Inams.

The allotment of portions of this Inam as subsequent Inams for the several services 2 to 12 is stated to have been made between Faslis 1228 & 1234 during Government Management of the Institution & can be allowed as it is for its benefit –

But the allotment of the portion No 13 – for service to a strange Pagoda which appears to have originated in a late Zamindar's arrangement and respected even during Govt. Managemt. can not I think be recognized.

To be therefore confirmed free in one T. D. to the Pagoda & its servants only 1 to 12 so long as it exists and the several services are rendered.

The Villages are within the limits of the original area specified in the Quinum's Hayam Famakundi of F 1213 — The Excess of ... only represents the difference of measurements as made in F 1213 and subsequently — There is no ground for suspecting any Encroachment — nor is any complained of by the Zamindar who admits both in his capacity as the Zamindar and the representative of the Jagheerdar that the Excess in minor area is similarly within the original limits ... is therefore allowed in both the cases —
