A close-up photograph of a small, irregularly shaped fragment of aged parchment. The parchment is a light tan or yellowish-brown color, showing signs of wear, including creases and small holes. Handwritten in dark ink is a cursive script, likely from a historical document. The visible text includes the words "usque", "ad", and "ad" on separate lines, though the fragment is too small to show the full context. The background is dark and out of focus.
