the Patta for the second crop which had been issued in the name of Hari kara Bhagavath till 7.1272 was, at this request, cancelled by the Collector and issued in the name of the Pagoda in 7.1273. Olagammal appears to have hitherto neglected to claim the Inams as it appears from the statement of Venkata Rama Bhagavath that he has been rendering service on behalf of Olagammal. I think the Inam may be directed to be restored to Olagammal so long as she continues to render that service by proxy. But as this Inam was granted by the Pagoda managers for Venkateswara service, no separate title deed can be given for this Inam in the name of Olagammal. In the Title Deed of No. 1. in the 16th column, the name of Olagammal and the description service rendered by her with the extent of Inam 0.93 may be entered if necessary.

belated that the said Venkata Rama Bhagavata was entertained 4 years ago for the service of daily a certain quantity of Cooked rice (Sadam) and that the the restoration of the Inam to Harihara Bhagavata on the ground of his having continued to render Samsam service in succession to his father. Harihara Bhagavata died about 5 years ago, leaving behind him his mother Chagammal and widow Lakshmmal, who divided the property of the deceased in equal shares. The patta for the second crop of the said Inam was issued in the name of the Inamdar, Harihara Bhagavata. After the death of Harihara Bhagavata, the Pagoda Managers resumed the Inam including it with the Pagoda lands. For 4 or 5 months, nobody rendered service after the death of Harihara Bhagavata.

Subsequently Venkata Rama Bhagavata, Chagammal was employed by the Samsam in the Pagoda. He has been helping in succession to Harihara Bhagavata. The late Harihara Bhagavata has been daily allowed to Venkata Chagammal now claims the restoration to her of the Inam on the ground that her husband's Sister's Son Venkata Rama Bhagavata has been rendering service in the Pagoda on her behalf. Venkata Rama Bhagavata states that at the request of Chagammal, he has been rendering service on her behalf. The Managers of Samsam Bhagavata was entertained 4 years ago for the service of daily a certain quantity of Cooked rice (Sadam) and that the consideration of the terms of the grant, that Srinivasa-ayyengar should be allowed to enjoy the Inam free of tax as heretofore, and that the Pagoda Managers should pay the patta tax to the Government. Remarks: The dispute regarding the payment by the Inamdar of the Kaval etc fees to the Pagoda should be settled among themselves.

At the request of the Managers, Srinivasaayyengar has been paying from 7.12.57, $\frac{3}{4}$ Rs. of grain per annum (Co. 6.2) for "Kaval Samsam" or Pagoda expenses as particularized in the receipts granted to him by the Managers in addition to the items asked in the margin.

② The tax paid by the Inamdar to the Pagoda till 7.12.57 is as follows: -

Nelavari $\frac{3}{4}$ Canam	0.2.6	R. A. P.
Kalyanivari $\frac{3}{4}$ 50	0.12.9
Kaval $\frac{3}{4}$ No. of grain	0.6.2
		1.5.5

No payments of any of the items have been made by the Inamdar from 1270. He contends that $\frac{3}{4}$ Rs. of grain granted by him from 7.12.57 was not a public charge, and that he was at liberty to contribute or not for Kaval Samsam. This appears correct. It is therefore rejected. He is at liberty to contribute if he chooses. He then contends that Nelavari and Kalyanivari fees of his entire Inam were abolished in 7.12.68 under the order of Government, and that therefore no such fees should be levied from him. I think the Managers of the Pagoda have no right to collect taxes which have been abolished by Government. These two items are therefore disallowed. They have a right to collect the usual Kaval etc of Rs. 0.6.2 only. As this is an abridgement in the Patta land, it is recommended to be comprised upon one half assessment. This is, no doubt, a

I want to know the circumstances under which the excesses have been allowed. A copy of the Revenue record order on the subject should be sent for.
