Report for 1872-73 reviewed. The small collections under "Rates on Houses, &c.," and "Tax on Arts, &c.," as well as the decrease in expenditure being attributed to the late date on which the budget was sanctioned, pointed out to the Commissioners that the Municipal Act nowhere compels them to await the orders of Government before commencing current operations of the year, but that pending such orders they should refrain from any important work or change in the administration of the funds. Statement II.-A called for

Sanitation.—Pending completion of arrangements for bringing the whole of this town under municipal administration, the Magistrate instructed at once to select sites for permanent latrines sufficient for the inhabitants of Barnacherri, and build on them at Government expense; meanwhile to erect temporary latrines, and take steps to ensure their proper use. Also to consult the Military authorities and officers of the Department of Public Works as to the best means to be adopted for abating the nuisance arising from deposits of the bay of the sea to the east of the barracks, owing to the proximity of the dhobies' well, the regimental slaughter house, and an unenclosed cart-stand

— The charge for constructing ten latrines at Barnacherri, sanctioned. The monthly charge of Rupees 20 on account of three toties and for occasional repairs to the latrines, also sanctioned for the current year 1873-74; after which, remarked, that the extension of the municipal rates to the "Karar" limits will justify their debit to the municipality

— Satisfaction felt at the good progress made in the sanitary condition of the town
