| From the Advocate-General—Explaining why it would be improper to apply to the Judges of the Supreme Court for their sentiments on the form of either a Judicial decision or an Extra Judicial declaration regarding a petition of Mr. T. C. Brown that Chevacara Koonje Puckey may be brought to trial for having sworn falsely before Messrs. Newnham and Vaughan acting under a Commission from the Supreme Court and expressing his opinion that if the Regulations recognise wilful and corrupt swearing before persons competent to administer an Oath as an Offence, the District courts ought to entertain the charge on being satisfied that there are real ground for it unless some forms and rules of practice interpose. | 23 <sup>d</sup> . | From Mr. Thomas Newnham— . Asks for sanction to save the writer from retrenchment during the time he has halted in his journey at Madras and mentions his having had an assurance of leave being granted, shews how it is questionable whether report of return is to be made from the station of Chittoor or from Tellicherry, acknowledges that after quitting Mangalore he received at Bangalore a permission to return to Europe on furlough, also that after he reached Chittoor he received account of the relief granted him from part of the retrenchment against which he made appeal, shews how the great weight of the retrenchment and its arrival as soon after the citation in October induced him to write two papers from Tellicherry on the 25 th . November 1830 the first to detail the reasons by which he was induced to seek the furlough and the second written to save the post of the day to apply for leave to return to Europe, that the most pressing reason was to obtain the alteration of a retrenchment | 28 th . The charges which the Government has brought about and the consequences being the removal of those motives which had obliged the applicant himself to change his plans and argued to afford the opportunity of his being permitted to defer the use of the indulgence until after the rains in Malabar—Endeavours are made to shew how an usage said to be either in some ordinance unknown to the writer or theory of the office of an applicant ceasing three months after he gave permission to use the indulgence being inapplicable to the peculiar circumstances of the writers case—Because the motives to force him home at an earlier period being of a public nature have been remedied by the Government in India and just now a remedy need not be sought at home also because he has been called and detained on services which have led him away from his home and place of embarkation and thence it has not become possible for him to embark in three months, on these and sundry reasons a return to Malabar and to office for a time necessary to make preparations to embark for Europe is asked, further that a return to Malabar to embark be permitted as the present fixed residence of the applicant still remains on that coast where he had lately been called—The necessity of a more formal certificate than has reached at Bangalore. | From Mr. C. M. Whish, late Joint Criminal Judge of— . Explaining that the dislocation of the wrist of a man named Shannar occurred from natural disease—that no delay has occurred in disposing of cases except with respect to two men who were diseased on their first arrival—that the court house and Jail are under the same roof so that he was obliged to go through the Jail to the court and that the jail was regularly visited once a week by the medical officer. | D <sup>o</sup> .                  | 6 D <sup>o</sup> .                  | ....                                          | 273 ✓ |

| From the —. The Military Board submit an Estimate for building a new Jail Hospital at Chittoor and state that no provisions has been made in the present plans for the accommodation of Females in consequence of the transfer of a large body of convicts to Bellary that the acting Chief Engineer has suggested that for the above reason a new building may be dispensed with altogether as the one used as an Hospital will afford a sufficient accommodation under the new arrangement but should it be necessary to erect a new building some portion of the expense may be saved by employing convicts in the preparations of materials. | 26 th . | From the— . The Military Board submit the copy of a letter from the acting Criminal Judge at Nellore stating that aid cannot be afforded either in the provision of materials or from the labour of the prisoners in the construction of a paper manufactory for the convicts at Nellore and as it also appears that the greater portion of the convicts were about to be dispatched to Masulipatam the expenditure of so large a sum as that shewn in the Estimate submitted with Board's letter of the 12 th . April 1831 may not therefore at present be considered necessary. | 21 st . June 1831.   | 1 5 th .
