G. O. BY MAJOR GENERAL GOWDIE.

The Officer Commanding the Army having received officially the annexed General Order dated Horse Guards, 1st February 1809, is pleased to publish it to the Army of the Establishment of Fort St. George.

Major General Gowdie feels sensible, that it would be superfluous in him to offer his sentiments to the Army on such an occasion, Every Officer knows how to appreciate the distinguished Military character and Talents of the late Lieutenant General Sir JOHN MOORE and every British Soldier will will emulate the Virtue and Glory that must ever render the Memory of that illustrious Officer dear to our Country.

GENERAL ORDERS.

The Benefits derived to an Army from the Example of a Distinguished Commander, do not terminate at his Death: his Virtues live in the recollection of his Associates, and his Fame remains the strongest Incentive to Great and Glorious Actions.

In this view, the Commander in Chief, amidst the deep and universal regret, which the Death of LIEUTENANT-GENERAL SIR JOHN MOORE has occasioned, recalls to the Troops the Military Career of that Illustrious Officer for their Instruction and Imitation.

SIR JOHN MOORE from his youth embraced the Profession with the Feelings and Sentiments of a Soldier;—he felt that a perfect knowledge, and an exact performance of the humble, but important duties of a Subaltern Officer, are the best foundations for subsequent Military Fame; and his ardent Mind, while it looked forward to those brilliant achievements for which it was formed, applied itself, with Energy and exemplary Assiduity, to the Duties of that Station.

In the school of Regimental Duty, he obtained that correct Knowledge of his Profession so essential to the proper direction of the Gallant Spirit of the Soldier; and He was enabled to establish a characteristic Order and Regularity of Conduct, because the Troops found in their Leader a striking Example of the Discipline, which he enforced on Others.

Having risen to Command, he signalized his name in the West Indies, in Holland, and in Egypt. The unremitting attention with which he devoted himself to the duties of every branch of his Profession, obtained him the Confidence of SIR RALPH ABERCROMBY, and he became the Companion in Arms of that Illustrious Officer, who fell at the head of his Victorious Troops, in an Action which maintained our National Superiority over the Arms of France.

Thus SIR JOHN MOORE at an early period obtained, with general Approbation, that conspicuous Station, in which he gloriously terminated his Useful and Honorable Life.

In

In a Military Character obtained amidst the Dangers of Climate, the Privations incident to Service, and the Sufferings of repeated Wounds, it is difficult to select any one point as a preferable Subject for Praise: It exhibits, however, one feature so particularly characteristic of the Man, and so important to the best interests of the Service, that the Commander in Chief is pleased to mark it with his peculiar Approbation;

The Life of SIR JOHN MOORE was spent amongst the Troops.

During the Season of Repose, his Time was devoted to the Care and Instruction of the Officer and Soldier; in War he courted Service in every Quarter of the Globe Regardless of personal considerations, He esteemed that to which his Country called him, the Post of Honor, and by his undaunted Spirit, and unconquerable Perseverance, He pointed the way to Victory.

His Country, the Object of his latest Solicitude, will rear a Monument to his lamented Memory, and the Commander in Chief feels he is paying the best tribute to his Fame by thus holding him forth as an EXAMPLE to the Army.

By Order of His Royal Highness the Commander in Chief.

HARRY CALVERT,
ADJUTANT GENERAL.

6th July 1809.

Fort St. George, 4th July 1809.

G. O. By the Honorable the Governor in Council.

Para. 1. The Honorable the Governor in Council judges it proper to announce to the Native Troops that the very improper conduct of some of the European Officers of the Company's Service, and the refusal of others to acknowledge their Allegiance to the Government, have rendered it indispensably necessary to remove for a time a considerable Number of European Officers from the exercise of authority.

2. This measure will not however affect in any respect the Situation of the Native Troops, who must know that their first duty is to the Government which they Serve, and from which all authority is derived.

3. The Governor in Council entertains the same Solicitude for the welfare and Comfort of the Native Troops that has invariably been manifested by the British Government.

4. He has no intention whatever of making any changes in their situation, and he expects that the Native Troops will display on every emergency the unshaken fidelity to Government which constitutes the first duty of a Soldier, that they will obey with zeal the orders of the Officers whom the Government shall place in authority over them, that they will refuse a belief to all reports calculated to agitate their minds and diminish their confidence in the Government, and that they will not allow allow themselves to be involved in measures in any respect adverse to their duty and allegiance.

5. The Governor in Council is pleased to express his approbation of the good conduct which has been recently manifested by the Native Troops at the Presidency, in the Camp at the Mount, at Trichinopoly and at Vellore, and he is confident that their Behaviour will be equally correct and loyal at all other Stations of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE HONORABLE THE GOVERNOR IN COUNCIL.

The Honorable the Governor in Council is pleased to direct that the following General Order by the Right Honorable the Governor General in Council be published to the Army serving under this Presidency.

General.

General Orders By the Right Honorable the Governor General in Council.

FORT WILLIAM, 20th July 1809.

The Right Honorable the Governor General in Council has received private but authentic advices, that orders having been issued by Major General Gowdie, the Officer Commanding in Chief on the Coast, to Lieutenant Colonel Innes, Commanding at Masulipatam, directing the embarkation of one or more detachments of the Madras European Regiment on board of his Majesty's ships, for the purpose of serving as Marines, the Officers of the Station were induced to entertain the erroneous supposition, that the object of those Orders was to separate, and finally to disperse that Regiment; a design which the Government of Fort St. George has formally and solemnly disavowed; and under the influence of this misapprehension, declared their resolution to resist the execution of them; that Lieutenant Colonel Innes having manifested a determination to enforce them, the Officers of the Garrison proceeded to the Barracks, and by personal representation, succeeded in seducing the Troops from their duty, and in obtaining from them a promise of support. That Major Storey, the next in command, who was then in the Cantonments, proceeded to the Garrison, and having endeavoured without success to induce Lieutenant Colonel Innes to depart from the obligation of his public duty, by abandoning his resolution to carry into effect the Orders which he had received, adopted the extreme measure of placing that Officer in Arrest under the charge of European Sentries.

The Governor General in Council has deemed it necessary to apprize the Army of Bengal, of an event so deeply interesting to the feelings of every loyal Subject, and especially of those who have the honor to bear a Military Commission. The Governor General in Council has received with sentiments of the deepest affliction, the intelligence of the excesses into which the Officers of the Station of Masulipatam have thus been gradually led by the effects of the late prevailing agitation in the Army of the Coast. He trusts however that this unhappy event will afford a serious, but salutary warning of the danger to which the combined interests of the Public and the Army must must ever be exposed by the first and slightest departure from the established principles of Military discipline on one hand, and on the other, of a just subordination to the laws of their Country, and to the legitimate Authority of the State.

The occurrence of this afflicting event, combined with the agitation which unhappily prevails among the Officers of the Army of Fort St. George, renders it the duty of the Governor General to proceed without delay to that Presidency, in the hope of being enabled successfully to appeal to those sentiments of Loyalty and Attachment to their King and their Country, which his Lordship in Council yet confidently ascribes to the General Body of the Officers of the Coast Army, whose zeal, fidelity, and professional achievements have hitherto been the theme of just and unqualified applause, and by an accurate knowledge of all circumstances which have attended the late agitation, to devise such means as may best tend to avert the impending dangers of anarchy and insubordination, and re-establish the foundations of Public Security and National Prosperity in this important Branch of the British Empire.

CHIEF SEC. TO THE GOVERNMENT.

By order of the Honorable the Governor in Council.

On an attentive perusal of the foregoing sentence, the Officer Commanding the Army in Chief cannot discover any just grounds for approving the sentence of dismissal, passed on Lieutenant Watson of the 1st Battalion of Artillery, he therefore confirms, but remits the sentence, and trusts that Lieutenant Watson's future conduct will justify the lenity he has shewn him him on this occasion—Lieutenant Watson is released from his arrest and will join his corps.

SENTENCE ON 3D ADDITIONAL CHARGE. The Court is of opinion that the Prisoner is guilty of the 3d Additional Charge, viz. "For Conduct discreditable to the Cha- "racter of an Officer, totally subversive of "Military Order, and contrary to the prin- "ciples which an Officer should ever display, to men "under his command, as in the following instance, viz. "in having on the 2d of Jan. 1809 most precipitately "and without permission, quitted the dow in which he "was embarked, with a part of the 2d Battalion 18th "Regiment for field Service, and taking to a boat, "upon the vessel's slightly touching the ground near "Cochin River, thereby showing an example tending "to discourage and alarm his men, and in which there "appears to have been no just cause for the step that "he had taken."

The Court therefore Sentence the Prisoner Lieutenant Wigan to be suspended from Rank and pay for the Space of Six Months, and to be Reprimanded in such manner, as His Excellency the Commander in Chief may be pleased to direct.

The

The Officer Commanding the Army in Chief confirms, but cannot approve of the Sentence on the 3d Additional Charge.

The Prisoner Lieutenant Wigan appears to have quitted the Vessel but for a moment, & then in consequence of a misconception of the condition she was in, and not without the example of the sailors, and in Company with a Senior Officer; although Lieutenant Wigan's Conduct in this particular was not what the Officer Commanding the Army in Chief can approve, yet he is persuaded from the evidence that appears on the proceedings, of Lieutenant Wigan's Conduct in presence of an enemy, that the error in this case did not proceed from any want of those principles of firmness that actuate the Conduct of Soldiers, but from a misconception of the condition of the Vessel, and the consequences that were deemed by the Commander of her to be inevitable, in the case, that did occur of her running aground.

It is with deep concern, that the Officer Commanding the Army in Chief has observed, in perusing the evidence on this trial, that Major Muirhead's Conduct towards Lieutenant Wigan in many instances, has not been marked with that temper and consideration, which are so essentially necessary in the exercise of Command.

The Officer Commanding the Army is in consideration of the above circumstances pleased to remit the sentence passed on Lieutenant Wigan, who is released from his arrest and will join his corps.

Fort St. George, 12th August 1809.

G. O. By the Honorable the Governor in Council.

The course of proceedings followed for some time past by the

the Officers of the Honorable Company's Army at this Presidency, has obliged the Government to adopt the most decided measures for the preservation of the important interests committed to its charge. These proceedings may be stated to have commenced with the transmission to the Government, by the late Commander in Chief, of a Memorial addressed to the Honorable the Court of Directors dated January 1809, and signed by a large proportion of the Company's Officers. Although that paper exhibits claims of an ungrounded nature, and contains observations equally improper and unjust on the Orders of the Honorable Court of Directors and the Government, The Governor in Council was induced to permit it to pass without the serious notice which it appeared to demand by a confidence in the discipline of the Army, and a persuasion that the objectionable passages in the Memorial were inadvertently and unintentionally introduced.

The subsequent Conduct of the Commander in Chief forced the Government to vindicate its Authority by a signal example of punishment. It was well known to the Company's Officers that the whole of this Proceeding was referred to the Supreme Government, and the authorities in Europe; that it would receive from their Wisdom a decision conformable to the soundest principles of reason and justice; and that its discussion could not belong to the cognizance of the Army who are precluded from becoming a deliberative body. Notwithstanding these considerations the Governor in Council, anxious to remove every cause of misunderstanding relative to a measure of so important a nature, published an Order dated the 31st January explaining to the Army the Grounds on which it was adopted. The Governor in Council had a right to expect on the most obvious grounds of discipline, and respect for the laws, that the question would have been permitted to rest here, and receive its final award from the only powers competent to decide on it; and it was with feelings of equal surprize and concern he learned that a memorial to the Supreme Government of the most intemperate description was circulated in the Company's Army. The Governor in Council, desirous to avoid a recurrence to measures of severity, and persuaded that it was sufficient to apprize the Company's Officers of the improper nature of their proceedings to induce them to desist from their prosecution, authorized the Commander in Chief to issue a circular letter dated the 5th of March 1809 explaining to those Officers the impropriety of their conduct, and calling upon them by the most powerful motives of duty, allegiance and honor, to abstain from such unjustifiable measures. A letter from the Right Honorable the Governor General in Council dated the 20th of February 1809 approving of the steps adopted by the Government of Fort St. George with respect to the late Commander in Chief was also circulated to the Army, in the expectation that the sentiments of the Supreme Government would have repressed the spirit of faction and insubordination which prevailed. These Letters appear to have produced no effect; the memorial to the Supreme Government made further progress; and an address to Major Boles, an Officer under sentence of Suspension, written in language of determined sedition, was circulated in the Army, and forced upon the notice of the Governor in Council by a Company's Officer holding a confidential situation on his Staff.—The Governor in Council was still induced to pursue a system of forbearance by the sentiments of affection and respect which he was disposed to entertain towards the Company's Officers, and by a conviction that the principles of zeal, discipline and national attachment by which he supposed they were actuated, would lead them to relinquish the reprehensible measures in which they were engaged, on being made fully acquainted with their impropriety and danger. The Commander in Chief accordingly, under the sanction of the Government, issued a second circular letter dated the 10th April 1809, again calling upon the Officers of the Company's Army to adhere to their duty, correcting the erroneous opinions which they had received regarding the powers of the Government, and describing the unjustifiable nature and dangerous consequences of their proceedings. The Governor in Council learned with deep regret that these measures of moderation, these repeated, and urgent appeals to the discipline, duty, national attachment and professional honor of the Company's Officers, were entirely nugatory; that the memorials continued to be circulated, and that sentiments of sedition were openly declared in many parts of the Army. The farther forbearance of the Government would have encouraged the progress of those evils; a course of explanation and exhortation had been pursued in vain, and it became imperiously necessary to check by a Salutary example of punishment a spirit spirit of insubordination that threatened the most dangerous consequences to the prosperity of the Empire. The General Orders of the 1st of May last were accordingly passed. The Governor in Council is concerned to state that this example, which was confined to the persons who were principally instrumental in promoting Sedition, and of whose delinquency the most ample proofs existed, and which was intended to obviate the necessity of more extensive punishments, failed to produce the beneficial effects anticipated from its adoption; and that principles of insubordination and sedition continued to prevail among the Company's Officers, if possible, with aggravated violence. The Company's Officers of the Hyderabad Subsidiary Force, whose good conduct in refusing to affix their Signatures to the Seditious addresses, had received the approbation of the Government, intimated to the rest of the Army in an Address, dated in May last, scarcely less reprehensible than the papers which had incurred the animadversion of the Government; their participation in the disaffection which prevailed so extensively in the Company's Army. The Officers at Hyderabad followed up this act by threatening in an address dated the 15th June, transmitted direct to the Governor in Council, to separate themselves from the authority of the Government established over them by their Country, unless a Submission should be yielded to their menaces, by abrogating the General Orders of the 1st of May, and the Company's Officers at Masulipatam imprisoned their Commanding Officer, and made preparations to desert the post entrusted to their charge and to join the Hyderabad Subsidiary Force, thereby involving on account of views personal to themselves the men under their Command in the Guilt of rebellion, and furnishing to the Native Troops a dangerous example of resistance to authority. The Governor in Council still anxious to impress on the minds of the Company's Officers a sense of the impropriety of their conduct, published to the Army the dispatch from the Supreme Government dated the 27th of May last, whih contained the entire approval of the measures of the Government of Fort St. George, and stated the most forcible and conclusive arguments against the system of faction and illegal combination which had been introduced into the Coast Army. This solemn decision of the Supreme Authority in India has also proved to be ineffectual, The Officers at Hyderabad although they knew the sentiments of the Supreme Government, refused in a body in a letter to their Commanding Officer dated the 5th July obedience to the Orders of Government for the march of a Battalion from Hyderabad, adding as a threat, that its services might soon be useful to their cause; and have since, forwarded to the Government in a paper dated 21st July the conditions on which they are willing to return to their duty, and which they require the Government to accept in order to avert the impending awful evils; evils which can result only from their own criminal determination to place themselves in the situation of Enemies to their Country. The conditions on which those Officers presume to state that they will yield obedience to the national authorities, afford further proofs of the nature of their designs; for they demand the public revocation of the General Orders of the 1st of May, the restoration of their rank and appointments of all Officers removed by this Government however obnoxious and criminal the Conduct of those Officers may have been; the dismission from Office of the Officers of the General Staff who may be supposed to have advised the Government; the trial by a General Court Martial of the Officer Commanding Masulipatam who was arrested by his own disobedient Officers; and finally an amnesty for the conduct of the Company's Army. The garrison of Masulipatam have placed themselves in a state of rebellion, the troops at Seringapatam and Hyderabad have followed their example, and it has been ascertained that the Military authority entrusted to Commanding Officers, has been usurped by self-constituted Committees, and that an organized system of combination for the purpose of subverting the authority of the Government has been established throughout the greatest part of the Army of this establishment.

The Governor in Council perceives in the foregoing course of proceedings on the part of the European Officers of the Company's Army, which has equally resisted measures of forbearance and punishment, a determined spirit of revolt, that must, unless speedily repressed, produce the most fatal consequences to the constitution and authority of the Government and the interests of the Nation. No means compatible with the Honc. and authority of the Government have been omitted to recal the Company's Officers to a sense of their duty as Soldiers, and of their allegiance as British Subjects; the forbearance displayed by the Government under circumstances of aggravated indignity, demonstrate the satisfaction with which it would have regarded any disposition on the part of the Company's Officers to manifest the usual obedience required from all Soldiers. No disposition however of that nature has appeared; on the contrary those Officers, by a systematic course of aggression and insubordination have forced the Government to adopt measures of the most decided nature for the support of its authority.

The Governor in Council would be guilty of a most criminal desertion of his duty, and the cause of his country, if he were capable of confirming the evils of Sedition and mutiny, by a submission to the menaces of a body of men placed by the law under his Government. Such a course of proceeding would prostrate the authority of the State before a disaffected and seditious faction; it would effectually incapacitate this and every succeeding Government from executing the functions of Administration, and would be fatal to the prosperity of the Empire in India, by affording an example of successful opposition to authority; and by weakening the power and dignity of the Government which in this country are peculiarly essential to its existence. Influenced by these considerations, the Governor in Council has considered it to be his sacred duty, to resist every appearance of concession to the threats of insubordination and faction, and to employ the power and means at the disposal of the Government for the restoration of discipline, and the maintenance of its honor and authority.

In this state of affairs it is a source of the most gratifying reflection that the zeal, loyalty and discipline of his Majesty's troops, and of many of the most respectable Officers of the Company's Army, combined with the fidelity generally manifested by the native troops will enable the Government to accomplish the important object of re-establishing public order. The good conduct of his Majesty's troops during the dissentions that have occurred, their zealous adherence to duty, the preference which they have manifested to the principles of honor, virtue and patriotism, over the personal views and disorderly passions which prevailed around them, reflect the greatest credit on their character, and demonstrate that they are animated by the same ardent love of their country which has distinguished their brother soldiers in Europe. His Majesty's troops under this Government will possess the gratifying reflection of having deserved the approbation and gratitude of their their country, and of having eminently contributed to the preservation of an important branch of the Empire.

The Governor in Council entertains a hope that the Company's Officers who have threatened the Government of their country with the most serious evils, who have demanded as the condition of being faithful to their duty, the execution of measures degrading to the character, and fatal to the interests of the State, will pause before they attempt to proceed further in the course of Sedition and Guilt which they have pursued. It has been the earnest wish, and anxious desire of the Governor in Council to avoid measures of extremity, to re-establish order by the course of the law, and to give up to Military trial the authors of the present seditious proceedings. In the prosecution of measures so consonant to justice, so necessary for the restoration of discipline, and so conformable to the ordinary course of Military Government, the Governor in Council is persuaded that he shall have the concurrence of all persons in the Civil and Military Services who have not banished from their minds every sentiment of national feeling; and he exhorts the Officers of the Company's Service, by submitting to that course of measures, to avert the evils which they are precipitating upon themselves. Such a result, gratifying at any period, would at the present moment of national difficulty, be peculiarly acceptable to the views and feelings of the Governor in Council; and adverting to the zeal and patriotism by which the Officers of the Company's Army have been distinguished, he still encourages a hope that by manifesting obedience to the Government, they will obviate the adoption of measures of extremity, arrest the certain consequences of their past conduct, and promote the restoration of general confidence order and discipline.

GENERAL ORDERS, BY THE HONORABLE THE GOVERNOR IN COUNCIL.

The Governor in Council has received intelligence that the Troops at Chittledroog consisting of the 1st Battalion of the 5th and 15th Regiment N. I. seized in the latter end of July the Public treasure at that Station, Deserted the post entrusted to their care, and in obedience to orders which they received from a Committee who have usurped the Public Authority at Seringapatam, marched on the 6th instant to join the disaffected Troops at that Garrison, plundering the villages on their route. The British Resident and the Officer Commanding in Mysoor prohibited in the most positive terms the advance of the troops from Chittledroog; and demanded from their European Officers a compliance with the resolution of the Governor in Council of the 26th ultimo, by either declaring that they would obey the orders of Government according to the tenor of their Commissions, or withdrawing for the present from the exercise of authority. The Officers having refused to comply with his requisition, and having persisted in advancing towards Seringapatam, it became unavoidably necessary to prevent by force their entrance into that Garrison. In the contest which ensued a detachment from the British force under the command of Lieutenant Colonel Gibbs, aided by a body of Mysoor horse and 1st Battalion of the 3d Regiment Native Infantry entirely defeated and dispersed the Corps from Chittledroog. During this affair a sally was made by the Garrison of Seringapatam on Lieutenant Colonel Gibbs's Camp, but was instantly driven back by the Pickets and 5th Regiment of Cavalry under the command of Captain Bean of H. M. 25th Dragoons in charge of that Regiment.

Nearly the whole of the Rebel Force was destroyed while one casualty only was sustained by the British troops. Lieut. Jeffries of H. M. 25th Regt. L. D. having zealously offered his service to carry a flag of truce which Lieutenant Colonel Gibbs, anxious to prevent the effusion of blood, was desirous of despatching to the rebel troops, was slightly wounded in the execution cution of that duty by a volley fired under the express command of a European Officer.

While the Governor in Council participates in the feelings of sorrow that must have been experienced by the British forces in acting against the rebel troops, and deeply laments the unfortunate but imperious necessity which existed for that proceeding, he considers it to be due to the conduct of the British forces to express his high admiration and applause of the zeal, firmness, and patriotism which they displayed on that most distressing occasion. Their conduct affords a further proof of the superior influence in their minds of the principles of virtue honor and loyalty over every other consideration, and eminently entitles them to public approbation. Lieut. Col. Gibbs, Lieut. Col. Adams, Major Carden, Captain Bean, and Lieut. Jeffries, availed themselves of the opportunities offered to them on this occasion of serving their Country.

The Governor in Council is also happy to distinguish the zeal and loyalty displayed by the 5th Regiment N. C the 1st Battalion 3d Regiment N. I. and the Mysoor Troops who all manifested an eager desire to perform their duty. The Mysoor horse on one occasion put the Column of the Chittledroog Troops to flight, and took two Guns and both the Colours from one of the Battalions; a memorable proof of the weakness of men acting in the worst of causes.

That a body of British Officers should deliberately disobey the orders of their Government, seize the public treasure under their protection, abandon the post entrusted to their charge, march to join a party of men in open opposition to authority, plunder the dominions of a British Ally, and finally bear arms against their country, must excite grief and astonishment, but the conduct of these Officers in urging the innocent men under their Command, who had the most powerful claims on their humanity and care, into the guilt and danger of rebellion, constitutes an aggravation of their offence that cannot be contemplated without feelings of the deepest indignation and sorrow. The Governor in Council is very far from wishing to aggravate the misconduct of those deluded and unhappy men; but he earnestly hopes that the example of their crimes and their fate will still impress on the minds of the Officers who have joined in their plans, a sense of the danger of their situation, and the propriety of endeavouring by their early obedience and future zeal to efface the deep stain which has been cast on the honor of the Madras Army.

In announcing to the Native Troops the distressing event described in this order, the Governor in Council must express his concern that any part of the Native Army should be so far deluded by misrepresentations, and so lost to a sense of the obligations of fidelity honor and religion as to act against the Government, which has so long supported them. The General Orders of the 30 instant, and the conduct that has been observed towards the Native Troops at the Presidency, the Mount, Vellore, Chehinopoly, Bellary, Gooty, and Bangalore, must convince the whole native army of the anxiety of Government to promote their welfare, and save them from the dangers into which they were likely to be plunged. The Governor in Council still places the greatest confidence in the fidelity and zeal of the native troops; and is convinced that they will not willingly sully the high reputation which they have so long enjoyed, by joining in the execution of plans that must end in their disgrace and ruin.

The Governor in Council trusts that the unhappy fate of the Chittledroog Battalions, who allowed themselves to be engaged in opposition to their Government, will have the effect of preventing any other part of the native army from suffering themselves under any circumstances to be placed in a situation adverse to their duty and allegiance.

The Governor in Council avails himself of this occasion to express in the most public manner his high sense of the zeal, moderation energy and ability displayed by the Government of Mysoor, and by the British Resident, and Commanding Officer during the transactions that have recently occurred in that Country. The British Resident and the Commanding Officer in Mysoor did not permit the adoption of coercive measures until every means of expostulation and forbearance had been exhausted, and until they were compelled to embrace the alternative of employing force in order to prevent the most fatal evils to the cause of their country.

The Governor in Council requests that the Honorable Mr. Cole, and Lieutenant Colonel Davis, will be pleased to accept the expression of his highest approbation and thanks for the moderation, moderation, firmness, and ability which they manifested on this unprecedented and distressing occasion.

By order of the Honorable the Governor in Council.

G. O. BY GOVERNMENT.

The Honorable the Governor in Council is pleased to publish for the information and guidance of the Army the following Regulation respecting the Police in Military Bazars and Cantonments.

A. D 1809. REGULATION VI.

A REGULATION for the support of the Police in the Cantonments and Military Bazars; for defining the powers of the Civil and Military Officers in the performance of that duty; and for fixing the local limits of the said Cantonments and Bazars.—PASSED by the Governor in Council of Fort St. George on the 5th May 1809, corresponding with the 25th Chittery 1729*th year of Saliwahana and with the 19th Rabe ul awul* 1224 Hejeree.

Preamble.

Under the existing regulations, the charge of the police in the Cantonments and military bazars is vested in the magistrates and their officers. This arrangement having however been in some instances attended with inconvenience, the following rules have accordingly been passed for the more effectual support of the police in places of that description, for defining the powers of the civil and military officers in the performance of that duty, and for fixing the local limits of the cantonments and bazars.

The support of the police and the maintenance of the

II. First. The support of the police and the maintenance of the peace within the limits of the cantonments and military bazars (which

The commanding officers will accordingly adopt the necessary measures, by means of the troops under their command, for preventing as far as possible, the commission of thefts, robberies, murders, and other public crimes within the limits of the said cantonments and military bazars, and for the discovery and apprehension of persons who may at any time be guilty of any such acts.

Commanding officers to adopt measures for preventing the commission of thefts or other public crimes, within the limits of cantonments and military bazars.

Second. Nothing contained in the preceding rule shall however be construed to authorize the commanding officers of cantonments, or the persons acting under their authority in the support of the police, to interfere with respect to assaults and petty affrays, or other offences of inferior magnitude, unless the persons guilty of those offences, shall be apprehended in the actual commission of such acts.

Commanding officers or others acting under their authorities, are not to interfere with respect to assaults and petty affrays.

Third. Any person apprehended under the preceding rules in any of the cantonments or military bazars, on account of the commission of any public crime or offence, shall be delivered over with all practicable expedition to the magistrate of the district in which such cantonments or bazars are situated, and the magistrate shall proceed against the accused in the manner prescribed by the general regulations.

Persons apprehended under the above rules, to be delivered over to the magistrate of the district, and to be proceeded against, in the manner prescribed by the general regulations.

III. First. If any person shall have a charge or complaint to prefer against any individual resident in any of the cantonments or military bazars, who may not have been already apprehended by the persons entrusted therein with the support of the Police, or if the charge or complaint be of a nature not to authorize those Officers under Clause Second Party aggrieved shall be at liberty to prefer his complaint against any individual, resident in the cantonments or military bazars, to the magistrate of the district.

cond of the preceding section, to interfere in it; the party deeming himself aggrieved, is at liberty to prefer his charge or complaint directly to the magistrate, who is hereby authorised and required to proceed with respect to it under the general regulations, in the same manner, as if the alleged crime or offence had been committed in any other part of his jurisdiction.

Magistrates to proceed against such individuals under the general regulations.

Second Under the foregoing clause, the magistrates are of course empowered to issue their warrants and summonses against any persons residing in the cantonments and military bazars, in the same manner as if such persons resided in any other part of their jurisdiction; and the commanding Officers of stations are hereby required to afford every protection to the officers of the judges, magistrates, and justices of the peace, in the discharge of the duty entrusted to them, whether any special application shall have been made to them for such aid or support, or otherwise.

Magistrates may issue warrants and summons against any persons residing in the cantonments. Commanding officers on special application or otherwise required to afford protection to the officers of the civil authority, in the discharge of the duties entrusted to them.

IV. On receipt of this regulation, the limits of the cantonments including the military bazars attached thereto, at which any division or corps of the army or any considerable detachment not being less than half of a battalion, may be quartered, shall be fixed by the commanding officer in concert with the magistrate. The commanding officer at each of those stations will accordingly submit to Government, thro' the usual channel, as soon as circumstances may conveniently admit, a report framed in concert with the magistrate of the district in which the cantonments may be situated, upon the local limits of the cantonments, forwarding at the same time any separate remarks which the magistrate may wish to make on the subject,

By order of the Honorable the Governor in Council.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE HONORABLE THE GOVERNOR IN COUNCIL.

A report has been received by the Governor in Council from the Officer Commanding in Mysore stating that the troops which composed the Garrison of Seringapatam surrendered at discretion on the 22d Instant, delivered up their arms, and proceeded to the Stations in Mysore, allotted for their Residence.

It has been ascertained that the Native troops which proceeded from Chittledrong were entirely ignorant of the real designs of their Officers; and marched under an impression produced by their Officers, that His Highness the Rajah of Mysore had commenced hostility against the British Government, and attacked the Fort of Seringapatam: The appearance of the Mysore horse confirmed this opinion in the minds of those troops; and when they found in the Contest before Seringapatam, which was begun by the Mysore horse, that the British force acted against them, they abandoned their Arms, and endeavoured to save their lives by flight. It appears that a considerable number escaped into the Fort of Seringapatam.

This explanation is due to the general conduct of the Native Troops under this Government who have in circumstances of peculiar difficulty manifested a fidelity and attachment to the State that reflects great honor on their character.

The

The Governor in Council was persuaded that it was only by deceiving the Native Troops that they could be misled from their duty; and their conduct in every situation where they had an opportunity of being made acquainted with the true situation of affairs justifies the high opinion which he entertained of their zeal and fidelity, and entitles them to the approbation and thanks of the Government.

The Governor in Council greatly ascribes the early termination of the disturbances in Mysore to the Vigilance, energy and talents of the Acting Resident the Honorable Arthur Cole, and the Commanding Officer in Mysore Lieutenant Colonel Davis, and he judges it proper again to express his high sense of the important services which they have rendered to the interests of their country in India.

By order of the Honorable the Governor in Council.

20.—All Public Officers both Civil and Military shall send to the Offices of the Paymaster, or other Public Officer from whom he shall receive his Pay, a list of the public letters despatched by him during the month preceding, with the following attestation upon honor at the foot of the same.

"I do hereby Certify upon my honor that the above is a correct list of all the Public letters despatched under my signature during the month of and that they were solely and entirely on the Public Service."

21.—That no abstract of pay be discharged, except it be accompanied by a List to the above effect, and if it be paid without attention to this point, that circumstance alone to be considered as a sufficient cause of retrenchment.

23.—That the lists so forwarded do remain in deposit in the Office to which they are sent for the purpose of comparing, if required, with the lists which will be ordered to be forwarded direct from the persons in charge of the Subordinate Post Offices to the Post Master General.

24.—With

24.—With the view of obviating the possibility of misconception with regard to the letters intended to be exempted from postage it is to be unequivocally understood, that with the exception of letters from the Honorable the Governor, Commander in Chief, a Member of Council, His Majesty's Naval Commander in Chief, the Judges of the Supreme Court, or such as are franked by the Chief Secretary to Government, all letters and papers that are not exclusively on the business of the Public Service, and that have not been previously entered as an official record, are to be subject to Postage, and should it come to the knowledge of the Governor in Council, that any of the Officers, Civil or Military, now authorized to address letters on the Service make an improper use of the trust so reposed in them, by conveying letters on their own private concerns under a cover superscribed "On the Service," the Governor in Council will consider it to be a disqualification for Office.

25.—Should the name of any Public Officer obliged from his situation to carry on a public correspondence be omitted in the list, he will address a letter to Government stating the nature of his public correspondence, when if it is deemed of sufficient importance, his name will be added to the list, or some public Officer already included in the list will be directed to superscribe his letters on the Service.

26.—Any Officer on duty, or leave of absence, at the Presidency, having occasion to correspond on public Service, will carry his letter to the Adjutant General, who upon being satisfied that the letter is exclusively upon the Public Service, will frank the same.

27.—All Officers similarly situated at the Subordinates will apply to the Commanding Officers of the Stations where they may be.

28.—With a view of preventing the suppression of private letters, and the misappropriation of their Postage, it is directed that in future all receipts granted at the Post Office, for letters delivered in, either at the Presidency or Subordinates shall be upon stampt paper specifying the rate of single Postage, date of letter delivered, place of destination, and size of letter, i. e. where single, double or more.

Distinct

Distinct stamps shall be issued for each description of letters which shall have engraved on them the word single, double, treble, quadruple, or Packet, and the same shall be repeated in each of the Native Languages.

With this facility of discovery, every individual both European, and Native, whose letter does not reach its destination will be enabled to obtain redress upon application to the Post Master General.

The Governor in Council deems it proper to repeat that any deviation from the preceding rules will not fail to subject the offending person to the severest public displeasure.

26th September 1809.

Fort St. George, 25th September 1809.

G. O. BY THE RIGHT HONORABLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL.

On my arrival at Fort St. George I learnt that several important changes had taken place in the affairs of this Presidency, subsequent to the Events which had come to my knowledge at the period of my departure from Bengal.

The first act of open revolt which had already been committed by the Garrison of Masulipatam, had been followed by proceedings not less criminal and desperate at some of the most considerable stations as well as at some subordinate posts of the Army—These measures had been undertaken in connexion with a guilty combination and concert the extent of which I cannot contemplate without the deepest concern.

I had cherished as long as Events would yet allow me to do so, that cordial Esteem for the Army of the Coast at large, which a long and uniform display of every Military virtue had, till this calamitous season, so well justified, and which had led me perhaps too pertinaciously, to ascribe the prevailing disorders rather to a partial, than to a general defection from duty.

This habitual regard for the Army of Fort St. George, has much embittered the necessity of renouncing even for an interval, and I trust I may now say a short one, sentiments which were once so just and are still so grateful to my mind.

It is matter of satisfaction to reflect, that I have yielded these favourable impressions to the evidence of fact alone, and that it has required those Scenes which have been acted in open day, without without affecting even the decency of concealment, to extort from me the reluctant acknowledgment of a too general participation in the late criminal confederacy, which, while it casts a wider shade over the former reputation of this Army has also given to their proceedings a more serious and awful character, since the blow which the Contest alone, but which success even without Contest, would yet more certainly have struck into the bosom of their Country, must have been proportionally the deeper and more incurable.

The anxiety and grief which would have attended the necessity of such a contest as this state of things appeared likely to require, has however been spared me, by the return of the Officers to their duty, a final renunciation of the criminal designs which had directed their late conduct, and an unqualified submission to Legal Authority before my arrival at Madras.

The leading and principal facts had been placed so entirely beyond doubt or question, by the bold, undisguised character of the revolt; and the general principles of the deliberation on which I was entering are so plain and manifest in themselves, that a resolution might perhaps have been safely taken with little reflection or delay.

The consequences however of the Judgment I had to pronounce, on one hand to the public interest, and on the other to a numerous Body, whose title to respect and regard could not be entirely effaced from my mind even by the culpable excesses of a short and distempered period, were so momentous, that I could not consent to hazard a decision unsupported by such previous investigation both of fact and argument, as the urgent nature of the subject admitted—It is matter of much comfort to my own mind therefore, and will I doubt not afford satisfaction to others that the measures I have now to announce to the Army, have been the result of individual enquiry as to facts, and of the most mature, as well as anxious personal meditation on every point of Justice, public policy and official duty, which ought to guide the deliberations and counsels of a Government on such a Question.

I have not neglected to look back once more to the origin of these troubles, & I am constrained to repeat the sentiments I have already delivered on that branch of the subject—Nothing can justify the revolt of an Army; but I have been disappointed in my search even for circumstances of mitigation in this revolt. No injury has, in my apprehension, been done to the Army, in any stage of a conflict which began in a factious attack on Government—But if in the necessary vindication of Authority any point may have arisen which might be thought interesting to the Military Body at large, the regular and legitimate recourse to the ultimate authorities was not only open, but was actually in progress—Seditious combination therefore can find no apology in the case, neither can punishments inflicted on individual acts of Sedition, furnish a just provocation to general confederacy.

The commission of Crimes draws after it the penalties attached to them, and in this process, it is Government which is driven to repeat punishments and multiply restraints by the growth and repetition of offences.—It does not lye in the Offenders mouths to say, that they have been driven into the commission of crimes by the repetition of punishments.

Such however appears to have been the false and inverted principle by which this contagion has spread from a partial faction to a general revolt.

The later excesses of the revolted Officers appear to have sought a justification, and perhaps to have found support, from an error extremely similar.

The necessary, because the only effectual means of defence which government could employ against the violence with which it was threatened, have been converted into arguments of greater violence, have been treated as Crimes, and as new provocations to that very rebellion, by which these measures were, themselves, rendered indispensable.

On the other hand I have examined with more than impartiality, that is to say, with an earnest desire to establish the most favorable conclusions for the Officers of this Army, all the circumstances which attended and might be supposed to have influenced the sudden return of the Army to its duty. I am little inclined to pronounce an adverse and ungracious judgment on that interesting point. I will not however, either on this or any other occasion sacrifice Truth to the indulgence of my personal disposition and wishes, and I have to regret that neither the particular circumstances of the moment, nor the specific information mation which has fallen under my observation, can warrant as clearly as I wish, the opinion I am desirous of entertaining, that the submission of the Army to Legal Authority may be exclusively ascribed to a returning sense of duty, and the mere operation of public principle—I am at the same time unwilling to probe that question more deeply than the occasion requires, and I am entirely disposed, amongst the complicated motives of an action good in itself, to discern at least the co-operation of worthy and honorable inducements—The latter sentiment has not been excluded from the considerations on which my judgment has been formed, and has been allowed a most welcome, and acceptable influence on the final measures that have been adopted.

It is not my intention to enlarge on the Grounds of the opinions I have now delivered, and I have touched upon them only for the purpose of explaining one of the principal foundations of my decision—The Acts being in themselves highly criminal, I have discovered neither in the motives that led to them, nor in the immediate inducements to submission, sufficient palliation to entitle offences so dangerous to our Country and the world to simple Impunity and Pardon. Clear and incapable of doubt as this proposition is, I have not yielded my implicit, and final assent to it without a repeated review of every consideration that could oppose that conclusion, nor without many struggles of private sensibility and feeling against the lamented consequences which must practically result from it—But these are questions not of private sensibility but of public trust. I have in charge the discipline of future Armies—The maintenance of that fixed and immutable principle, that Military Bodies are subordinate to the state; in a word the fundamental securities of human association—I cannot exclude from my mind the intimate conviction that the total impunity of revolt under all the circumstances of the present events is not compatible with those securities; that the silence of the Law, in the case of Arms turned against the Government that gave them, of Fortresses seized by those who were stationed to protect them, of Troops seduced by the Officers to whose better guardianship they were committed, could be ascribed to no motive, and produce on the minds of those who should witness it, even from a distance, no impression favorable to Obedience and Discipline. Upon what distinction shall we rely hereafter in the punishment of inferior offenders, and acts of minor insubordination, when impunity is the established result of mutiny, in which the officers of a whole army were the actors, and of which their Superiors and Commanders have been the principal promoters and leaders?

This painful argument is extorted from me, not for the purpose of reproach, but to fortify my unwilling judgment in the afflicting but inevitable conclusion, that total impunity is forbidden by every obligation of my high trust.

There is yet, I hope, a mitigating principle in the most austere exercise of English justice; that justice, which, while it obeys the call of public safety, is ever accessible to the interceding voice of clemency and mercy. A lenient and even a tender administration of justice is, at once the boast and privilege of our glorious and happy country.

From its sterner duties I must not entirely shrink, but if I am prompted, by the best propensities of every human bosom, to infuse into the correction of subdued offences the largest measure of indulgence compatible with the ends of justice, I shall be but a faithful representative of our common Sovereign, and shall but illustrate and exemplify the national character of his people. To this truly English virtue I shall appeal, if any one should think that, either in the gratification of personal feelings, or in emulation of the characteristic lenity of England, I may have given too wide a scope to indulgence, and have done too little for public discipline.

In pursuance of these views, the principle I have thought myself at liberty to adopt has been to limit the number of punishments, since impunity cannot be general, and to mitigate their degrees to the utmost extent of lenity, not entirely incompatible with the public good, and the indispensable demands of justice.

In the execution of this principle, it has been necessary to make a small selection from a great mass of delinquency, all subject in strictness to the penalties of the law; and that such a choice should neither be capricious nor subject to the suspicion of partiality, I have adopted general criterions, the principles of which are manifestly just, and the application of which to particular cases is subject to no difficulty.

The

The first ground of selection is the commission of some overt act of rebellion or mutiny, such as seizing on Fortresses, or public treasure; actual hostility against the troops of His Majesty, the Company, or its Allies; quitting the Station allotted to troops without orders, or the refusal to obey the orders of Government.

This principle of selection would liberate a considerable proportion of the Army; but it would involve a much greater number than it enters into my views to exclude from pardon.

It is necessary therefore to select from the numerous class already described a smaller number comprized within a narrower head of distinction.

That selection is to consist of the Officers in command of Stations, or bodies of troops, Commandants of Corps and persons peculiarly distinguished for a forward and violent part in the most criminal acts or proceedings of the Army.

The whole of this highly criminal and peculiarly responsible, but not numerous class, will most justly be submitted to a trial by Court Martial.

But as the Courts Martial may of necessity be bound to pass sentences of greater severity than it is in contemplation to extend without distinction to the whole number of those submitted to trial, a more minute subdivision will yet be made, and the Officers in command of Garrisons or considerable bodies of Troops will be separated, on the ground of higher responsibility, from the Commandants of Corps. The former will be subjected at all events to trial; the latter will be allowed the option of a trial, or dismissal from the service.

In order that no anxious uncertainty may remain concerning the application of these rules of selection to individual cases, the names of all the Officers intended for punishment are expressed in the following list. It will be found not to include the Commandants of corps at Secunderabad, although that force fell too distinctly within the principle of selection, not only on account of the lead it assumed in the criminal combination and the violent proceedings of the army, but as having committed open mutiny in refusing to permit the march of the 2d Battalion 10th Regiment to Goa.

I have however thought the example, which that force was the first to set to the revolted Officers, of an early return to their their duty, and the influence of that example upon other parts of the army, may be admitted as a ground of special indulgence and pardon.

I have abstained from looking too narrowly into the variety of possible motives that may be supposed to have actuated the senior Officers of this force in their exertions to withdraw it from further resistance to Government. In my desire to restore my first esteem to the Officers of this army, the better and more honorable inducements may be allowed at least their share in this commendable part of their conduct; and, in my solicitude to extend the principle of clemency to its utmost allowable bounds, I have deemed the benefit derived both to the public and to the army itself from the submission of the Hyderabad force sufficiently important to warrant, even without regard to motives or inducements, the extension of indulgence to that body. It will be a signal testimony that Government is not unmindful of the services which are rendered to it, and that, while it is impelled, only by necessity, to the exercise of its severer functions, it seizes with satisfaction every opportunity to forgive and reward.

Reduced as the numbers contained in this melancholy list have been, by every consideration to which a sense of inviolable duty has permitted me to listen, it has not been without the most afflicting agitation my mind has ever experienced, that I have affixed my final signature to the order as it now stands.

It is with corresponding satisfaction and joy, I have now to perform the more grateful office of announcing to every other officer, who has been involved in any of the criminal proceedings of the army, since the 1st of May, a general and unqualified amnesty, to the benefit of which those Officers, who have hitherto declined the test, will be admitted on their signing that declaration.

This amnesty is not granted in the narrow spirit of, mere pardon. It is tendered as an act of total and sincere oblivion ; it offers on the part of Government a full restoration of confidence and esteem; and it invites from those, who are the object of it, not a sullen discharge of constrained duty, but obedience which comes from the heart, and the chearful, animated service of cordiality, affection and zeal.

My sentiments concerning the late events have been too clearly pronounced to admit of an amnesty thus general being so far misinterpreted as to bring in question the deep sense I continue to entertain both of the guilt and the danger of those actions to which this indemnity is granted. It is not on a principle of justification, but of pure indulgence unmixed with any other consideration, that I have acted on this occasion. I have recollected the proneness of our common nature to error ; the dominion of the passions over reason ; the influence of rank, authority and talents over young and feeble minds; the powers of contagion, and the irresistible torrent of general example. I have considered the small and scarcely perceptible degrees by which innocent men are conducted, from the first slight transgression, to crimes, the enormity of which their minds would have revolted at, if presented at once to their view. To resist these seductions is the part of sound judgment and manly character. Such efforts are most honorable to the distinguished few who are gifted with the union of these qualities, but they are I fear too rare to be required of all. To such considerations the extent of the present clemency must be referred.

When

When the Officers included in this act of Grace reflect on the happy change it has operated on their condition, I am sure the first sentiments of their breasts will be those of devout and fervent gratitude. It is my wish to point these acknowledgments to their proper objects.

Their first obligation is to the firm counsels and vigorous measures of that upright and honorable man against whom their hand has been so unjustly raised. To the fortitude of his mind, which must challenge the respect and esteem even of his adversaries, and to the energy of the Government of Fort St. George, the officers are indebted for their narrow escape from the guilt of a monstrous and unnatural conflict with their Country, and from the ruin, which, in every possible issue of that contest, must have overwhelmed themselves.

Next, for the recovery of life, honour, their own esteem, the confidence of Government, the regard of their Countrymen, and I trust a firm security for the perpetual duration of these blessings, their grateful benedictions are due to the benevolent genius of their country, of which I am only the Organ.

If the accents of reproof have not been entirely excluded from this address, they have not been dictated by an angry or vindictive mind, and in the full assurance that they will never recur in the intercourse between the Government and the Army of the Coast, I shall conclude with the last admonitions of a truer and safer friend than any flatterer of their passions and errors can ever be.

If in this awful moment I have acquired any title to their confidence and attention, let me implore them to think less lightly than it is evident their minds have been accustomed to do, of violating the first, the most sacred, and the most characteristic duty of a soldier, fidelity to the power he serves. Let them think less lightly of turning the arms they have accepted in trust, against the Government, which has reposed that confidence in their probity. Let this be the true point of a soldier's honour, which stamps with infamy every spurious pretence to that sacred title; every pretence which is in contradiction with this primary obligation, and which would strangely and unintelligibly postpone a first engagement, for the performance of legal duties, to a posterior and gratuitous pledge to commit crimes—Let them reflect on the guilt, the dishonor, and the peril, exemplified but yesterday, of this false casuistry.

I

I intreat them to be persuaded that no man of honor at the head of a Government will ever compromise with revolt, and that in every case the conflict must be carried to the last extremity.—My sentiments on that subject are not equivocal, and are not assumed for this occasion.—They have been pronounced long since, and previous to any indication of troubles on the Coast. My fixed and firm principle is, that the utmost evils that can flow from a contest with revolt, and even from defeat, are much inferior to the greater, more permanent and more extensive mischief of Concession. In such cases the revolted party may recede, and will always do so with Honor, sacrificing nothing but passions and crimes—The Government against which the revolt is made has no option but to maintain the contest, or abandon its trust, and fly from its duty.

My final and best advice is to reject the first step that leads from the beaten track of professional demeanour, as if the worst extreme of ripened and atrocious guilt were proposed at once to their acceptance—The widest stride of all is from Innocence to Guilt. That boundary once passed, the gradations of Crime are shorter and less sensible.—He who withholds his voice from early clamor, and his pen from the first irregular signature is safe and blameless: Beyond that clearly defined line, all is perplexity and danger—With these friendly suggestions prompted by a pure solicitude for the honor and welfare of those whom I address, I take leave even of admonition and every other form of address which can imply reproof; and purging my mind of every painful recollection, embrace the happier prospect which is now presented to our view, by the final termination of public discord, violence and trouble, and the re-establishment, on a firm, and I trust secure and permanent basis, of tranquillity and order.

MINTO.

G. O BY THE RIGHT HONORABLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL.

At the moment when the sentiments of the Governor General respecting the late disorders on the Coast & his determination with regard to the Officers of the Army of Fort St. George who have been led by a train of unhappy circumstances to place themselves in a state of opposition to the local local Government of this Presidency, are announced to the public; it becomes the special duty of the Governor General to publish his highest commendation of the exemplary conduct of the Officers of his Majesty's Military Service and of such of the Officers of the service of the Honorable East India Company who in the late crisis of general agitation have resisted the contagion of example, and adhering to the obligations of public virtue and professional duty, have manifested their zeal and fidelity in the cause of their King and their Country.

The Governor General accordingly takes this opportunity of expressing in General Orders his acknowledgments to those highly meritorious Officers, who at such a period of public danger, have stood forth to support the dignity and vindicate the authority of the Government which they serve and to maintain those principles of Constitutional Order and Military Subordination, on which the existence of every regular and civilized government must depend.

Although the Governor General deeply laments an occasion on which the applause of distinguished loyalty and fidelity so justly bestowed on one portion of the Officers of a British Army, is unavoidably contrasted with the errors of another, yet he confidently believes that the same honorable spirit of patriotic zeal which has hitherto been inseparably connected with the character of the Officers of this establishment, [illegible] pervade the minds even of those who for a moment already past, had ceased to obey its dictates and that no memory or impression of this unhappy season of delusion and disorder, will remain, that should impair the esteem, or disturb the harmony which have in all former times united every part of this Army.

MINTO.

Fort St George, 25th September 1809.

G. O. BY THE RIGHT HONORABLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL.

From the first establishment of the British Power in India, the Zeal Fidelity and Subordination of the Native Officers and troops belonging to the Presidency of Fort St George, have been generally and eminently displayed—On occasions of public danger and of foreign war, they have employed their exertions exertions with distinguished honor and success in the Service of that Government from which they and their families derive their support and to which they are indebted for the enjoyment of benefits and advantages unknown to the Armies of the surrounding States of India. But their honorable qualities of Loyalty and gratitude have never been more conspicuously manifested than at the period of the late commotion in the Army of the Coast; when, exposed to the severest trial, their innate sense of honor and cordial attachment to the Government, has led them to withhold their concurrence in the execution of measures subversive of its prosperity and incompatible with the principles of their professional duty.

The Governor General therefore has the satisfaction of declaring to the Native Officers and Men of the Coast Army the high sense which he entertains of their exemplary conduct on the late trying occasion; a conduct which has so amply justified the unbounded confidence of Government in the Loyalty and Attachment of its Native Troops.

Obedience and Fidelity to the Government is the common duty both of Officers and Soldiers; and the particular duty of Soldiers is to yield implicit submission to the orders of their Officers in every case in which they are not forbidden to do so by the express prohibition of Government—The Governor General is therefore satisfied that the Native Troops will permanently maintain their claim to the applause and approbation which it is the object of this proclamation to bestow upon them, by the merit of their accustomed subordination and attachment to those who are appointed to command them.

G. O. BY THE RIGHT HONORABLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL.

The Governor General having attentively perused the proceedings of a Court Martial, assembled by the orders of Major General Gowdie for the trial of Lieutenants M'Cormick and Powley, has judged it expedient that the crimes and sentences should be published to the Army. The sense entertained by that Honorable Tribunal of the nature and degree of criminality attached attached to the offence of which those two Officers have been pronounced guilty, will be sufficiently evinced by those documents.

It has become necessary to determine whether these sentences should be carried into effect, or whether the amnesty which, with some specified exceptions, has terminated the disorder of the late unhappy period, is to be considered as embracing also the cases of these two Officers.

In deliberating on this question, the Governor General has observed, that the proceedings of the Court Martial were closed, and the sentences pronounced, some time before the amnesty was published. He was not apprized that any proceedings of that description were either in progress, or actually concluded. The case was not in his contemplation when his General Order was issued; and he should not therefore, in strictness, consider his judgment as pledged by that order on a question which he had no opportunity of considering.

The Governor General has, nevertheless, reflected, that the comprehensive terms in which the amnesty has been proclaimed, and especially the broad principles of oblivion and reconciliation, which characterize the whole measure, may appear to many sufficiently large to afford an interpretation favorable to these individuals, even under the circumstances adverted to. Averse therefore, as he must always be, to bring even into question the faithful performance of a solemn promise, he has chosen rather to extend the general indemnity a little beyond its contemplated objects, and to incur the partial inconvenience of adding to the general mass of pardon, the impunity of these two offences against discipline, than to hazard the slightest deviation, either in letter or spirit, from the obligations of public faith.

Under these considerations, he has requested Major General Gowdie to remit the sentences and restore the Officers to the Service, under a single condition, the indispensable necessity of which, both for public and private atonement, requires no argument.—The condition is, that an ample and distinct apology shall be made to Captain Campbell, their Commanding Officer, for the contempt of his authority, and insult to his Person, of which they stand convicted.

It would not be the wish of the Governor General to burthen an an act of grace with any reflections that might either wound or humiliate the objects of it; but waving all retrospective reproof, as applicable to this, or any other antecedent case, he should think he neglected the future interests of the Public and the Army, if he omitted this occasion of bringing strongly to the notice and recollection of the Officers of this Establishment, the culpable nature and mischievous consequences of the practice which was the subject of the trials now under consideration. That is to say, concerted insult to those who have either uniformly done well, or who having fallen by the force of general example, into the prevailing disorders, have withdrawn themselves from former errors, and returned to a faithful discharge of public duty. Such combinations against individuals, of which examples have not been wanting in the late troubles, are always reprehensible, but assume a much more criminal character in that state of things which has arisen out of the submission of the Army, followed by the amnesty announced by the General Order of the 25th September.

The Governor General trusts that every disposition to this serious offence has been extinguished by those events, but as it affords the only means that now remain, either for nursing the seeds of Military disorder, or for prolonging the discord of the Army, some exposition of its dangerous and malignant tendency appears peculiarly seasonable.

To make a return to duty the subject of concerted affront and indignity, is in the first place a great breach of discipline. It requires a very clear cause to render such measures of personal enmity to individuals tolerated in any circumstances. No one can be ignorant of the displeasure uniformly manifested, and of the punishment invariably inflicted, in every case of such offences against discipline, by the supreme Military authority of the Sovereign himself—Let any one imagine, therefore, what judgment would be formed on a complaint for such an injury, the excuse alleged for which should be, that the party against whom it was levelled, had withdrawn himself from a conspiracy against his Majesty; or in a case arising in India, that he had renounced a further participation in revolt against the Company's Government.

In the next place, the continuance of such practices extinguishes all hope of cordial and general reconciliation, by which alone alone the traces of past calamity can be obliterated, and the individual comfort and happiness of the Officers can be restored.

But last and chiefly let it be remembered, that the offences which are the subject of these remarks, are in total contradiction with every profession of a return to duty. They demonstrate the still subsisting spirit of Military combination, which is in itself a deep and dangerous offence. The combination in this case would be, to stigmatize by general and concerted measures those who relinquish criminal and therefore invalid engagements, in order to fulfil the first indefeasible obligations of professional duty.

It must be recollected also, that those who persist in such practices forfeit every title both to confidence and clemency. Clemency on the late occasion has been founded on the hope, that the return of those who should accept pardon, to the paths of fidelity and duty, would be sincere, and that every pledge and every combination, that has the slightest reference to the late lamented period, should be dissolved and abjured for ever. To continue therefore, or to renew similar combinations in the very moment of accepting indemnity from the penalties of past transactions, must be felt to be a violation of public faith and personal honor, enhanced by the aggravation of the deepest ingratitude.

To sincere and cordial reconciliation, which authority alone cannot enforce, the Army can only be invited and exhorted by every consideration which should influence their sounder reason, and their better feelings. But to repress every open attempt to obstruct the return of public harmony by putting indignity upon individuals, who have the merit of an early retreat from error, is a fit and indispensable object both of the vigilance and power of Government.

Under these impressions, the Governor General has thought it a point of candour, to apprize, thus early, every ill-advised individual who might fall inconsiderately into that snare, that no future example of this offence can be exempted from punishment, and that every Officer accused of it shall be brought to trial before a Court Martial, or if the peculiar circumstances of the case should render it more advisable, the charge shall be submitted to the investigation of a Military Court of Enquiry and if established by the proceedings of the latter tribunal, the Officer so offending must be suspended from the service, subject to the judgment of the Honorable the Court of Directors.

Officer

G. O. BY GOVERNMENT.

The Right Honorable the Governor General in Council is pleased to extend the indulgence granted to Officers commanding corps, by the G. O. 9th December last, to Officers commanding stations and accordingly directs that Officers under the rank of Colonel holding Government Commands when absent by leave or on sick certificate shall continue to draw the established allowances annexed to the command deducting therefrom the difference between the half and full batta of the regimental rank of the Officers on whom the temporary command may devolve during their absence, but when absent from their stations to attend Courts Martial (either as Members or to give evidence) or on any other public duty, they are to draw those allowances without any deduction, and the Officers on whom the temporary command may devolve are to draw the difference between the half and full batta of their regimental rank.

The difference between the half and full batta to Officers in the temporary command of stations, in either of the foregoing cases, is to be drawn from the Paymaster on separate abstracts supported by copies of the orders placing them in charge of the station and relieving them from that charge on the return of the respective commanding Officers.

It is however to be clearly understood that Officers succeeding to the temporary command of stations, as above are only entitled to draw the difference between the half and full batta of their regimental rank in the event of their not being already in the receipt of full batta for commanding corps.

By order of the Right Honorable the Governor General in Council,

The quarterly returns of camp equipage, sick carts and doolies in store are to be discontinued, and monthly returns to be transmitted, in lieu of them to the Quarter Master General of the Army.

The monthly lists of articles received and issued will be continued, as at present, and accompany the monthly returns.

G. O. By Government.

The Right Honorable the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct that the following alterations shall take place in the arrangement of the Camp Equipage establishment as constituted by the G. O by Government of the 3d of May 1808.

1st.—Bamboo coolies, for the carriage of tent poles, are in future allowed, in all cases when camp equipage is conveyed on bullocks, in the proportion of one cooly to four one poled private tents, and 2 coolies to three two poled tents of the same description.

2d.—One poled tents are directed in future, for the use of Native troops of every description, and two poled tents are never to be issued to them when the former are procurable.

3d.—The allowance above granted, of bamboo coolies for the carriage of the tent poles will render necessary a reduction in the establishment of bullocks allowed for the carriage of the tents and stores attached to the Native corps of the Army; and that part of table number 7 annexed to the General Order of the 3d of May 1808 which relates to the bullock establishments of those corps, is accordingly hereby annulled, and the following proportion directed to be substituted,

To

	Bullocks.	Chowdries.	Dhuffadars.	Drivers.
To a Regiment Native Cavalry,	42	1	1	15
Battalion Native Infantry,	71	1	2	21
Battalion Pioneers,	20	0	1	8

4th.—To parties of Native troops ordered on detachment not amounting to the strength of a complete troop or company, camp equipage is directed to be issued, in the proportion of two private tents to all parties exceeding the strength of half a troop or company and one private tent to every detachment of inferior strength when commanded by a Native Officer.

5th.—The 12th paragraph of the General Orders of the 3d May 1808, not having hitherto met with sufficient attention, wherein committees of survey are directed to describe the nature of the injuries sustained by the tents subjected to their examination and the dimensions of the broken and damaged parts that may require new materials, it is ordered that all committees of survey will in future be attentive to insert the above particulars with regard to every tent surveyed, in a separate column of the account of tents surveyed, founded as much as possible upon actual inspection and measurement and introduced immediately before the column of remarks.

6th.—The estimates of all future proceedings of committees of survey on camp equipage are required to be verified by a declaration, agreeably to the following form, signed by the President and Members of the committees assembled, and annexed to the foot of the estimates.

"We do hereby solemnly declare, that to the best of our "knowledge, the materials and number of workmen required "by the above estimate are absolutely necessary for the com-"pletion of the repairs required and that the prices of the seve-"ral articles specified are at the lowest rates procurable at this "station."

7th.—It has hitherto been customary to detain the proceedings of all committees of survey at the office of the Military Board, the estimates alone, after receiving the sanction of that board, being transmitted to the Quarter Master General to be ordered for execution—but as it is absolutely necessary that the Quarter Master General, on whom all responsibility rests for the efficient efficient state of the camp equipage department should be provided with the means of ascertaining that the repairs required have been duly executed, the Right Honorable the Governor General in Council directs that in future all proceedings of committees of survey on camp equipage after receiving the sanction of the Military Board, shall be transmitted to the Quarter Master General, copies of the estimates being previously taken in the office of the Military Board.

The Right Honorable the Governor General in Council is further pleased to direct that the above regulations and forms prescribed for committees of survey on camp equipage shall be equally applicable and in force for all committees held on carriage for the sick.

By order of the Right Honorable the Governor General in Council.

HEAD QUARTERS : CHOULTRY PLAIN, 6th Dec. 1809.

G. O. BY MAJOR GENERAL GOWDIE.

The Officer Commanding the Army is pleased to publish for general information the following Extract from General Orders dated Horse Guards 10th October 1808, and directs the attention of Officers commanding corps and bodies of Troops in particular, to the responsibility, that attaches to their respective commissions and situations for the discipline and good order of all ranks under their command.

"At a General Court Martial held at Messina, on the 18th "June 1808, and continued by adjournments to the 25th of "the same month, Lieutenant W. Jenkin of the 62d Regiment, "was arraigned upon the undermentioned charges, viz.

"1st.—For having, on or about the 5th day of April "connived at or permitted a soldier, irregularly to quit "his rank, while marching to his guard, for the private "accommodation of the said Lieutenant Jenkin."

"2d.—For insubordinate and menacing language to Brigadier Major Druitt, who in his official capacity had "noticed and reported the circumstance."

"3d.—For habitual insubordinate language and conduct "at the Mess of the 62d Regiment, tending to inculcate "irregularity and disobedience, altho' admonished and "warned, that his former improper conduct, so highly pre- "judicial to good order and Military Discipline, should "only be overlooked, in consequence of future good beha- "viour."

"The court found the Prisoner Guilty of the whole of the "charges, and sentenced him to be dismissed from His "Majesty's service and rendered incapable of serving "again in any Military capacity whatever."

"His Majesty has been pleased to confirm the sentence of "the court, but, in commanding that the sentence should "be carried into effect, His Majesty was pleased to observe, "that there appeared to have existed in the 1st Battalion of "the 62d Regiment an impression that, at the mess or other "meetings of release from absolute Military duty, there was "also a release from professional responsibility and obedience, "and therefore His Majesty was pleased to command that it "should be expressly signified to this Battalion, that the commanding

" manding Officer present with the Regiment is responsible for " the discipline and good order of the corps in every particular, " and that whether the Battalion is actually under arms or " otherwise, His Majesty considers every Officer and individual " belonging to it equally accountable for the maintenance and " preservation of good order, and the rules and discipline of " war, according to the powers granted to them by their re- " spective commissions and situations."

HEAD QUARTERS: CHOULTRY PLAIN, 9th December 1809.

G. O. BY MAJOR GENERAL GOWDIE.

The Officer Commanding the Army is sorry to notice the number of Officers "absent from their corps" and "on their way to join" whose first duty it was to repair direct to the Head Quarters of their respective corps without a moment's unnecessary delay, he therefore directs all Officers to join their corps forthwith who have not obtained special leave from Head Quarters, or are detained after the publication of this order by certified ill-health, and that all Officers not employed "on staff duty" or "command" who may be otherwise absent on the 1st of January 1810, be reported "absent without leave."

The Officer Commanding the Army takes this opportunity of explaining to the Officers of the Army, that upon all occasions of removal from one corps to another or on being exonerated from any duty or charge, they are required to join their corps immediately by the most direct route, and that it is their duty to report their departure for that purpose to the Head Quarters of their corps, that the most accurate information may be possessed relative to the absence of Officers, the authority under which they are absent, and the probable time of their joining.

It is also directed that Officers shall not visit the Presidency, but with special leave from Head Quarters, unless it be the most direct route to their station or corps, in which case they are not to remain longer than three days without express permission to do so from Head Quarters.

The

The General Orders of the 8th March 1808 not having been sufficiently attended to in all instances it is directed, that Officers conform to that regulation, and no cause will be admitted in excuse for personal attendance, but that of ill health, in which case it is expected that a personal report be made at the Adjutant General's Office at the Presidency, or to the Commanding Officer of an out station, as soon as they are permitted by the Medical Officer attending them to leave their quarters.

All applications for leave of absence are to specify the date to which leave is solicited, and the General Order of the 15th of March regarding "applications for a renewal of leave," must be pointedly attended to, Officers in command of divisions, stations and corps of the Army, are directed to return officers "absent without leave" who fail to join on the day their leave expires.

All leave of absence granted from Head Quarters will in future be notified in General Orders.

The following is a list of Officers whose leave has not before been published in General Orders, and who have obtained leave of absence for a further period than the 31st of December 1809.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF—HEAD QUARTERS: CALCUTTA, 25TH OCTOBER 1809.

Extract from the Proceedings of an European General Court Martial held at Muttra the 17th and continued by adjournment until the 29th day of July 1809.

CRIME.—Lieutenant R. Saunders of His Majesty's 17th Regiment Infantry put in arrest by me on the following Charges:—

1st CHARGE.—For counteracting my orders for the interior regulation of my company on the evening of the 22d June instant, and for again counteracting my orders on the morning of the 23d June instant, and by making use of the following words, viz. "You are a damned mean fellow and Sir, I tell you again for fear you do not hear me that you are a damned mean fellow."

2d CHARGE.—For uttering the same insulting words in the most threatening manner and tone thereby endeavouring to excite and provoke me his superior Officer, to a duel when in the execution of my duty—The whole of such conduct being unbecoming the character of an Officer and a Gentleman, and highly subversive of good order and Military discipline.

MUTTRA, (Signed) A. D. LEE,
June 24, 1809. Captain H. M. 17th Foot.

ADDITIONAL CHARGES preferred against Lieutenant Saunders His Majesty's 17th Foot, by Major Armstrong of the 8th Regiment Native Infantry.

FIRST.—For conduct unjustifiable, unprovoked and unbecoming the character of an Officer and a Gentleman, in having made use of the expression "Rascal or Scoundrel" or words to that effect, on the evening of the 5th December last at my quarters, and of which I had no intimation until a few days since.

SECOND.—For having boasted to others that he had used such language to me to the injury of my reputation.

(Signed) R. ARMSTRONG,
MUTTRA, July 11, 1809. Major 8th Regt. N. I.

By order of His Excellency the Commander in Chief.
(Signed) W. HIATT,
A. M. B.

SENTENCE.—The Court having maturely weighed whatever hath appeared in evidence both on the part of the prosecution and the prisoner Lieutenant R. Saunders of His Majesty's 17th Foot, is of opinion that he Lieutenant Saunders is guilty of

of the first part of the first charge, viz. "For counteracting my orders for the interior regulation of my company on the evening of the 22d June instant, and for again counteracting my orders on the morning of the 23d June instant"—but acquits him of the second part of the 1st charge, viz. making use of the following words "You are a damned mean fellow—and Sir, I tell you again for fear you do not hear me that you are a damned mean fellow."

The Court is further of opinion that the prisoner is not guilty of the 2d charge, viz.

"For uttering the same insulting words in the most threatening manner and tone, thereby endeavouring to excite and provoke me, his superior Officer to a duel when in the execution of my duty—the whole of such conduct being unbecoming the character of an Officer and a Gentleman, and highly subversive of good order and Military discipline.

The Court is further of opinion that the prisoner Lieutenant Saunders is guilty of part of the 1st additional charge, viz. in having made use of the expression "Rascal or Scoundrel" or words to that effect on the evening of the 5th December last at my quarters, and of which I had no intimation until a few days since "but acquits him of the former part, viz. For conduct unjustifiable, unprovoked and unbecoming the character of an Officer and a Gentleman."

The Court acquits the prisoner of the 2d additional charge, viz. For having boasted to others that he had used such language to me to the injury of my reputation.

The Court adjudges that for such parts of the crimes as the prisoner Lieutenant Saunders has been found guilty of, being in breach of the Articles of War, he shall be suspended from Rank and Pay for three calendar months, and further that he be reprimanded in such manner as His Excellency the Commander in Chief may please to direct.

(Signed) W. HIATT, O. D. J. A. C.

(Signed) F. HARDYMAN, Lieut. Col. H. M. 17th Regt. and President.

It appearing from the proceedings of the General Court Martial held at Muttra for the trial of Lieutenant Saunders of His Majesty's 17th Regiment of Foot that the Court refused to receive or record the testimony of certain witnesses who were stated to be in attendance in support of the 2d additional charge previous to the prisoner having entered upon his defence, the Commander in Chief deemed it proper to direct that the proceedings

ceedings of the Court Martial should be revised for the purpose of recording the testimony of those witnesses, and to reconsider consequently thereto that part of the sentence which relates to the 2d additional charge.

Proceedings on the revision of the European General Court Martial of which Lieutenant Colonel Hardyman, His Majesty's 17th Foot, is President, for the trial of Lieutenant R. Saunders of His Majesty's 17th Foot, re-assembled by order of His Excellency the Commander in Chief.

MUTTRA, 2ND SEPTEMBER 1809.

SENTENCE.—The Court having maturely weighed the foregoing additional evidence in support of the second additional charge, viz. "For having boasted to others that he had used such language to me to the injury of my reputation"—and having revised and reconsidered the former evidence in support of the same charge, is of opinion that the prisoner Lieutenant R. Saunders, His Majesty's 17th Foot, is not guilty, and confirms its former opinion of acquittal on that charge.

(Signed) W. HIATT, O. D. J. A. C.

(Signed) F. HARDYMAN, Lieut. Col. H. M. 17th Regt: and President.
