Ecclesiastical Travelling Allowances.

The following rules and decisions of Government are published for general information and guidance,

Financial Notification, No. 1653, dated the 7th August 1868 :—

The Governor-General in Council is pleased to promulgate the following rules regarding travelling allowances to Chaplains.

The rules will take effect from the 1st day of August 1868.

I. Travelling allowances at the rate of 8 annas a mile per road, and 3 annas a mile per rail, will be allowed to a Chaplain who has already no charge for his joining a station to which he may be appointed, either substantively or officiating, also to a Chaplain on his permanent transfer from one appointment to another under the orders of Government, and not at his own request. Provided that on return from furlough or any other leave, a Chaplain will join his station at his own expense. If his appointment has been changed during his absence, he will draw travelling allowance for the excess distance, if any, between his old and new station, from the Presidency, at the rates above mentioned.

II. If, while absent on privilege leave, a Chaplain is required to perform duty for an absentee at a station other than his own, he will draw travelling allowance at the rates in Rule I. from his own station to that at which he is required to do duty.

III. Travelling allowance at 12 annas a mile by road, and 3 annas a mile by rail, will be given to a Chaplain sent to officiate at other stations, or visiting out-stations, provided he proceeds farther than 5 miles, if in receipt, at his own station, of conveyance allowance, or farther than 3 miles, if not in receipt of that allowance. This rule is applicable to Chaplains of the Church of Scotland, Clergymen of the Additional Clergy Society, Missionaries of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, and the Church Missionary Society, and Roman Catholic Priests when visiting out-stations.

IV. If any Chaplain or other person to whom Rule III. applies obtains a free pass on any railway for visiting railway stations on the line, his travelling allowance by rail will be limited to 1½ anna per mile.

V. A Chaplain officiating at a station to which a conveyance allowance is attached, will draw that allowance during his stay at the station.

VI. A Chaplain may exchange the mileage admissible under Rule III. for an allowance of Rs. 6 a day for the period of absence from his principal station ; but, should he do so, he will not be entitled to any conveyance allowance under Rule V.

VII. A Chaplain in receipt of conveyance allowance for a station will forfeit it when absent from his station on gazetted leave, but not when visiting another station and retaining substantive charge of his own.

* Proceedings of Madras Government No. 17 of 1870.

Copy of letter from the Military Department, India, to the Military Department, Bombay, No. 1401, dated 29th January 1869.

"In reply to your letter, No. 5923, dated 27th November last, I am directed to acquaint you, for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Governor in Council, that, in this Presidency, when any necessity arises at an out-station for a Roman Catholic Priest to visit the latter, to minister to a British soldier or his family in sickness, the Officer commanding the station must address the Officer commanding the division or station at which the priest resides, stating clearly the circumstances; when, if the latter Officer considers the necessity made out, he authorises the priest's proceeding on the requisition, at the Government expense, by the issue of a Division or Station Order to that effect.

"2. If the journey (or any portion of it) can be performed by rail, a free pass must be given the priest there and back; and, for such portion as must be travelled by dâk, &c., the priest has to submit a contingent bill for the sum actually expended, vouched by a certified copy of the Division or Station Order, and the receipt of the Dâk Company or person supplying the conveyance.

"3. As in some cases the requisition may be sent by the persons requiring his services direct to the priest, the latter, if he considers it an occasion requiring his attendance, should, on receiving it, at once apply for the order to the Officer commanding the Station (or Division if he is on the spot), who must use his own discretion in complying with the application or not.

"4. The dignitaries of the Roman Catholic Church in this Presidency have recently been called on to impress on the priests within their respective jurisdictions the necessity of strictly observing the course above laid down.

Copy of letter from the Military Department to the Quarter-Master General, No. 942, dated 28th July 1869.

"With reference to your letter, No. 1163C, dated 11th March 1869, I am directed to acquaint you, for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, that the provisions of Military Department letter, No. 1401, dated 29th January 1869, apply to cases where the presence of a priest is required at an out-station for administering to a single soldier or his family, or other Government servant, in exceptional cases of sickness; whilst the provisions of the Financial Resolution of 1868, No. 1653,* are applicable in all ordinary tours of duty, that is, when the Roman Catholic servants of Government at an out-station are of such a number as to entitle them to the ministrations of a priest, and who not being available on the spot, one is deputed from a neighbouring station under the orders of his ecclesiastical superiors, drawing the mileage rate of travelling allowance."

No. 338.

Regimental Institutions—Workshops.—The annexed Forms of Regimental Workshops Reports (D and E) are to be adopted in supersession of those laid down in G. O. No. 276,† dated 20th November 1866, and Commanding Officers are directed to furnish the next Annual Report for the year 1869 in these Forms.

‡ Madras G. O. C. C. 11th January 1867, page 8.

2. Commanding Officers must closely examine the accounts at the end of the year before signing the certificate at the foot of the Form (D), verify all the items, and take care that the value of the tools, plant, and stock is not over-estimated.

3. A separate account should be kept under each of the following heads, viz. :—

Cash (Form A.)
Stock (Form B.)

Canteen Fund (or Mr. A. B. or Messrs. C. D. & Co. or Ferozepore Arsenal, &c., &c.* (Form C.)

4. All sums of money received are to be debited, and those disbursed credited in the Cash Account. If the Balance thereof be Creditor, the amount is chargeable to the General Workshops' Fund, but if Debtor it is an asset in favor of the Fund.

5. All materials, tools, plant, &c., received are to be shewn on the Dr. side of the "Stock" Account, those expended being entered in detail on the Cr. side, care being taken that the value of the stores received corresponds with the disbursement entries in the "Cash" Account.

6. It should be observed that the balance of the Stock Account can never be Cr. ; for, as the issue of materials cannot of course be in excess of the quantity actually in store (as shewn on the Dr. side of the Account.) the balance (if any) represents the quantity and value of those remaining on hand. It is of no consequence whether such stock has not been paid for ; as in such a case, the amount due would stand to the credit of the account of the person, or firm or institution from whom the Articles

* Any person, or firm or institution with whom credit transactions occur, or from whom any advances or loans are obtained ; or to whom any moneys are due, such as workmen's wages, &c., &c.

were purchased, (see Form C.) and in that way would become a charge against the General Workshops' Fund.

7. In the case of loans received, as well as in all credit transactions, a separate Account (Form C.) must be opened with each party; all such receipts whether in cash or material being shewn on the Dr. side, and all payments on the Cr. side of the Account; the balance of which is to be treated similarly to that of the "Cash" Account.

8. The Balances of the above-mentioned accounts form the items of the Balance Sheet (Form D.) forwarded to Army Head Quarters with the annual Regimental Report (Form E.); the Balance Cr. of each Account being placed on the Dr. side of the Balance Sheet, and the Balance Dr. of each on the Cr. side. Although it may occasionally happen that debts due to the Workshops become irrecoverable on "bad debts," yet the amount thereof must not form a distinct item under that designation, in the balance sheet, inasmuch as it will have been already included in the separate account of the person from whom it is due, and the balance of such account entered in the Balance Sheet with those of other accounts as above described. It is obvious, however, that such "bad debts." being necessarily shewn as assets, the balance of the Balance Sheet must be fictitious to that extent, in which case the true balance can only be deduced by placing the amount of that debt as a counter-charge on the Dr. side of the Balance Sheet. It is only necessary to add that when such "bad debts" are thus disposed of in the Annual Balance Sheet, they must not re-appear in any subsequent account, unless indeed they may be afterwards recovered when they would as a matter of course be brought to credit.

9. It is to be understood that at the close of any given period, whether a month or a year, the balances of these several accounts, Balance Sheet excepted, must be "brought forward" in the corresponding accounts of the succeeding period. In the case of the Balance Sheet, however, that account is final in its character, as exhibiting in the aggregate the financial condition of the workshops; and the balance thereof is consequently not transferable to any succeeding Balance Sheet.

"2. The terms 'Officers of the British Army holding permanent staff appointments in India,' will include Officers of Artillery and Engineers formerly in the Indian Army now holding permanent staff appointments under the Government of India, and such Officers of the Engineers of the Imperial establishment as are permanently employed on the staff in India.

"4. But the rules of 1868 are not applicable to the regimental Officers generally of Her Majesty's British Service, whether formerly belonging to the Indian Army and now in the Royal Artillery, Royal Engineers and new Line Regiments, or on the old Line establishment.

"5. I am to add, that the provisions of Government General Order No. 1072, of the 19th December 1866, under which Officers holding staff appointments in India, but not on the strength of regiments on the Indian establishment, are restricted to six months' leave on sick certificate with Indian allowances and half staff salary, and on private affairs to four months' leave without pay, are still in force.

"6. Cases of Officers of the British Service proceeding on furlough will be dealt with under the decision laid down in this communication, which will be reported for the confirmation of Her Majesty's Government."

Clothing. Great Coats. The following copy of a letter from the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India to the Right Hon'ble the Governor-General of India in Council, No. 138, dated 9th July 1866, received with Docket No. 725, dated 22nd November 1869, from the Government of India in the Military Department, is published for information, in supersession of General Order No. 70* of 1866, and in continuation of the General Orders marginally noted.

G. O. No. 274, dated 20th November 1866.
G. O. No. 290, dated 25th September 1868.

"1. The Secretary of State for War has informed me that the Authorities at the Horse Guards have expressed their opinion that the arrangement recently agreed to, that new Great Coats should be issued to drafts proceeding to India, is undesirable, inasmuch as the recruit during the voyage is exposed to the force of the elements, and rendered for a time utterly helpless and incapable of taking care of anything, and also perpetually in contact with salt-water, tar, tallow, and other greasy substances.

"2. I have therefore agreed that part-worn Great Coats should be taken by recruits on the outward voyage, care being had that the Officer Commanding the draft should be furnished with a detailed statement shewing the period each Coat has been worn, and the further wear required by the Regulations.

G. O. No. 97, Embarkations—New form of Nominal Mess Rolls of Troops embarking. (11*th September* 1869.)

The form of "nominal mess roll" (W. O. Form 1122) which has hitherto been in use for troops embarking at home for foreign service having been materially altered, commanding officers at home stations are directed to obtain a supply of the new forms at once from the War Office, and to comply with the instructions given on the fourth page thereof.

The form bears the same number as before—1122.

G. O. No. 98, Embarkations—of Soldiers' wives near their confinement. (11*th September* 1869.)

Considerable expense and inconvenience having been occasioned by soldiers' wives being confined while on board the vessel in which they are embarked, women near their confinement are not in future to be embarked in mail or contract steamers or other vessels on short voyages, such as to or from the Mediterranean, West Indies, British North America, &c., and the husbands of such women are to be detained with them.

This rule will also apply when troops are ordered to or from India and other stations by the overland route, but not when they are proceeding between this country and India, viâ the Cape, or on other long voyages.

No. 18.

Veterinary Department.—The following procedure will be observed in future on occasions when Inspecting Veterinary Surgeons visit regiments of Cavalry, or batteries of Artillery, for the purpose of veterinary inspection :—

G. O. 248 and 299 of 1866.
(Madras G. O. G. 18th December 1866, Page 226.)

The Inspecting Veterinary Surgeon on arrival at a station will wait officially on the Brigadier General or other Officer Commanding, in order that the day and hour for his inspection may be published in station orders.

The Veterinary Surgeon in charge of the horses of the corps concerned will accompany the Inspecting Veterinary Surgeon during his inspection. Officers in command of troops and batteries will invariably be present on these occasions.

As a general rule, Commanding Officers of regiments or batteries should be present when the inspection is being carried out, in order that the enquiries and observations of the Inspecting Veterinary Surgeon may be carefully noted ; and the Commander-in-Chief in India would beg to impress on them the importance of the responsible duty which, under the orders of Government, devolves upon Inspecting Veterinary Surgeons, and the good results which must accrue from harmonious action between themselves and those Officers. When the presence of the Commanding Officer himself is inconvenient or impossible, he should order the Second in Command to take his place.

Inspecting Veterinary Surgeons must take the utmost care to afford to Commanding Officers every information which may be useful in improving the health or condition of the horses ; and they should invariably, without hesitation, point out any defects which they may observe in the stable management, and mention the steps it would seem desirable to take to remedy them.

Before leaving, Inspecting Veterinary Surgeons will forward to the Officer commanding the station a short precis of the result of their inspection, being careful to note in it all unfavorable remarks, if any, which they feel compelled to enter in their official report.

By order of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief,

P. B. ROE, Colonel,
Adjutant-General.

Bhootan and Hazara. Medal Rolls.

G. G. O. No. 86, dated 17th January 1870. (Madras G. O. G. 1st February 1870, p. 20.)

—In re-publishing to the Army the General Order by the Government of India, noted in the margin, the Commander-in-Chief in India directs the submission to the Adjutant General† of the Medal Rolls for the Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers and men entitled to the decorations for Bhootan and Hazara respectively.

2. In regard to Bhootan, the Rolls will include all troops belonging to the Bhootan Field Force who were in position before the enemy, whether actually engaged or not.

3. In the case of the Hazara campaign, those troops who were at Oghee prior to Major General Wilde's advance, as well as those who formed part of the advance from that place, will be included in the Rolls; but the troops that remained in support and observation at Abbottabad, Manserah, or Derbund, will not be entitled to the decoration.

4. Those who have already received the Indian War Medal of 1854 will receive clasps only for Bhootan and the North-West Frontier, according to the service. Should the clasp for the North-West Frontier have already been earned by prior service, no fresh application under the present order will be made.

5. The rolls will be prepared in duplicate in the following form :—

(Signature of the Commanding Officer or individual furnishing the Roll.)

Certified that the individuals named in this Roll were actually present on the occasions for which the decoration is claimed.

(Signature of the Commanding, or other Officer actually cognizant of the services of the applicant.)

6. In the 3rd column of the roll must be stated in each case, in the terms of paras. 2 and 3 above the service which entitles the individual to the decoration claimed.

7. The Rolls are (when practicable) to be signed, or countersigned, by the head of the department or Commanding Officer under whom the claimant served.

8. If the Commanding Officer of the corps in which the applicant is serving is not personally cognizant of his services, the signature to the certificate at foot, of an Officer who is able to make the declaration, must be obtained.

9. In the case of individual Officers furnishing their own rolls the certificate of a Commanding, Staff, or other Officer cognizant of the applicant's services should be procured to the certificate at foot.

(† Fort Saint George.)

10. If the claimant has left the service, the Rolls after verification may be transmitted direct to the Adjutant General.

11. When the services of the claimant cannot be verified by any Officer actually cognizant of them, a certificate from the claimant himself may be appended, together with an explanation of the circumstances under which the prescribed certificate cannot be procured.

12. The Commander-in-Chief desires that transmitting authorities will be good enough to scrutinize the Rolls and to return them for correction when necessary, with a view to their being forwarded in correct form to Army Head Quarters. Great delay is frequently caused by a neglect of the orders for the preparation of Medal Rolls.

The following General Order by the Government of India in the Military Department, is re-published :—

No. 86, dated 18*th January* 1870.—His Excellency the Governor-General in Council has much satisfaction in publishing for general information, the following Military letter from the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India, No. 372, dated 14th December 1869 :—

To His Excellency the Right Hon'ble the Governor-General of India in Council.

My Lord,—Para. 1.—I have had under my consideration in Council your Lordship's letter dated the 26th August 1869, No. 289, recommending the grant of the India medal to the troops employed in the Bhootan war of 1864 to 1866, and the Hazara Campaign of 1868.

2. Her Majesty's Government fully concur in the encomiums passed by your Lordship on the spirit and gallantry displayed by the troops employed on these occasions, in operations which were frequently of a peculiarly arduous and harassing nature, involving much privation, and calling for the display of great endurance, skill, and courage.

3. I have much pleasure, therefore, in conveying to your Lordship the information that Her Majesty has been graciously pleased to sanction the proposal, and to command that it be carried into effect.

4. The India medal of 1854, with a bar for "Bhootan" will be conferred on all the Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers, and men who served in any part of the operations in that war, and formed part of the force in position before the enemy, whether in reserve or not; those who have already been granted the medal receiving the bar only on this occasion.

5. In the case of the Hazara Campaign, the medal, with a clasp for the "North-West Frontier," will be conferred on those who actually took part in the advance under Major General Wilde, including the force under the Command of Colonel Rothney, which was previously engaged with the enemy at Oghee, but it will not be granted to the troops that remained in support and observation at Abbottabad, Nowshera or Darbund. Those to whom the medal has already been awarded will now receive the clasp alone, and those who have already obtained the "North-West Frontier" clasp will not receive any further decoration on account of the Hazara Campaign.

6. A copy of the correspondence which has taken place with the War Office is transmitted for the information of your Lordship, and I have to request that you will give the necessary instructions for the announcement of Her Majesty's Commands in General Orders, and for the preparation of returns in the usual prescribed manner.

To War Office, October 29th, 1869, (5182-1004W).
From War Office, November 30th, 1869.

ARGYLL.

With reference to the foregoing, His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief is requested to adopt early measures for furnishing the rolls of the Officers and Soldiers of Corps who are entitled to the decorations now authorized by Her Majesty.

By order of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief.

P. B. ROE, Colonel,
Adjutant-General.

At a General Court Martial, assembled at Secunderabad on the 10th day of January 1870, Quartermaster Joseph Henry Pickles, of the 18th Hussars, was arraigned on the following charges :—

CHARGES.

First Charge.—For conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline, in having, at Secunderabad, between the first of January and sixth September, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine, failed to take proper care, and to keep a correct account of the issues of forage, stored for the use of his regiment, and under his charge as Quartermaster, whereby a loss has accrued to Government amounting to Rupees one thousand seven hundred and fifty-six.

Second Charge.—Having at Secunderabad, between the first and third of July, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine, intentionally submitted to his Commanding Officer a Return for the quarter ending the thirtieth of June, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine, of the daily expenditure of forage stored for the use of his Regiment, and under his charge as Quartermaster, duly signed by him, the entries in which Return of the amount of straw issued he well knew to be false.

The above being in breach of the Articles of War.

FINDING.

The Court find that the prisoner, Quartermaster Joseph Henry Pickles, of the 18th Hussars, is—

Guilty of the first charge ; and the Court find the loss resulting from the prisoner's neglect, amounts to Rs. 1,685-9-11.

Guilty of the second charge.

(Signed) W. C. R. MACDONALD, Colonel,
4th Madras Light Cavalry,
PRESIDENT.

SECUNDERABAD, 14th February 1870.

CONFIRMED.

Having found the prisoner guilty of the two charges, viz., of neglect of duty in the discharge of his office, involving very considerable loss to the State ; and, secondly, of intentionally sending in a false Return, he, the prisoner, knowing it to be false, the object of the false Return being to conceal from his Commanding Officer his, the prisoner's misconduct, and the consequent large deficiency.

Having further awarded the sentence indicated by the law for the second offence, the Court have recommended the prisoner to mercy, on account of "his long and meritorious service, both in the field and in quarters, and hitherto unimpeachable character."

I am sorry to say that, with regard to the evidence adduced by the prosecution, and to the necessity of severely marking such offences as those of which the prisoner has been found guilty, it is out of my power to disturb either the conviction or the sentence.

The recommendation to mercy will, however, be forwarded to England, for such consideration as His Royal Highness the Field Marshal Commanding-in-Chief may be pleased to extend to it.

Committees should have the articles counted, and their numbers entered in the proper column, Repairable or Unserviceable, of the Form of Report. Care should be taken that in counting Clothing and Bedding, pieces are not reckoned as whole articles.

II. As a rule all articles condemned as unserviceable, should be made over to the Commissariat Department, but Committees may exercise a discretion in ordering to be destroyed such Miscellanies as from wear and tear are of no value, and such Clothing and Bedding as cannot by reason of their fabric or from their torn and tattered state, be used in cleaning Rifles. Committees should also clearly understand that they have the power to order condemned articles of Clothing (even fit to be used in cleaning Rifles) to be destroyed in special cases, such as the recent prevalence of any infectious disease or on other similar grounds. The manner in which the several articles have been dealt with should be noted in the Survey Report, a copy of which should be forwarded to the Principal Inspector General, Medical Department.

III. Officers of the Commissariat Department should, if required, grant a detailed receipt for the articles and numbers made over to them.

IV. Miscellaneous articles should be sold by the Commissariat Department, and the proceeds credited to Government.

V. But cotton, woollen, and flannel articles should be retained for issue to Corps for the purpose of cleaning Rifles.

VI. The supply to Corps for cleaning Rifles, should suffice to provide each Soldier annually with twenty pieces each 6 × 3 inches, in accordance with the custom at Home, as laid down in War Office Circular No. 678, dated 26th April 1861. The supply should include such proportion of cotton, flannel and woollen clothing as Regiments desire, so far as the quantity available will permit.

No. 1665.—The following Rules for the treatment of official correspondence are published for general information, in continuation of No. 3388, dated the 10th September 1869 :—

OFFICIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

The rules regulating the treatment of official correspondence are those notified by Government under date the 4th May 1866, but from the 1st April 1870 the following revised code of rules will come into operation (except Rule 19, which had effect from the 1st October 1869).

A.—PRIVILEGED OFFICES.

(1).—The public Offices enumerated in the annexed list will be privileged to send and receive by Inland Letter or Packet Post (without actual pay-ment of postage) all covers* bonâ fide and exclusively on Her Majesty's Service, an account of the postage due thereon being kept by the Post Office against every such privileged Office.

* For limits of weight and size and directions respecting Banghy Parcels, see Rule 25.

(2).—For rules relating to Tour Postage Tickets, and Local Postage Tickets, see head D.

Official covers despatched from a privileged Office.

(3).—Official covers despatched from a privileged Office must be properly tied up, faced and enclosed in a bag sealed with the seal of the Office.

(4).—Each cover must be endorsed and addressed according to the specimen form given in the margin, under the full signature (autograph or stamp) of the head clerk, or some other principal officer of the establishment. Such covers will be charged in the account of the despatching Office by weighment in bulk at the rate of 1½ anna per tola for letters and other closed covers, and 2 annas per 10 tolas for Gazettes and other open covers.

(5).—Official covers, which it may be inconvenient for a privileged Office to send to the Post Office in the official bag, should be pre-paid by stamps,* unless addressed to a privileged Office, in which case they may be posted under rule (8).

* See Rule 22.

At the Presidency towns and other places where there is a separately organized local post for the receipt and delivery of letters at frequent intervals during the day, it may often be convenient for privileged Offices to post local letters in a neighbouring pillar-box, instead of sending them to the Post Office in an official bag, and in such cases this rule ought to be availed of.

Official covers delivered to a privileged Office.

(6).—Official covers will be delivered to a privileged Office enclosed in the official bag and sealed and sent out with the ordinary delivery, or given to the messenger of the Office, should one be in attendence.

B.—OFFICES NOT PRIVILEGED.

(7).—Offices not privileged consist of those Government Offices which are not included in the list, and do not, therefore, enjoy the privilege referred to in Rule (1).

Official covers despatched from Offices not privileged to the address of privileged Offices.

(8).—Official covers despatched from an office not privileged to the address of a privileged Office, must be endorsed and addressed according to the specimen form given in the margin, under the full signature and official designation of the person by whom they are despatched. The address must include the full official designation of the Office to which the cover is directed. Such covers will be charged in the account of the receiving Office by weighment in bulk at the rate of 1½ anna per tola for letters and other closed covers, and 2 annas per 10 tolas for Gazettes and other open covers.

† See Rule 22.

C.—CORRESPONDENCE SUPERSCRIBED "SERVICE BEARING."

(10).—Communications sent by Government Officers in their official capacity, which relate, nevertheless, to the private interests and concerns of the individuals addressed, may be endorsed according to the specimen form given on the margin (a) under the full signature and official designation of the person by whom they are sent. Covers so addressed will be regarded by the Post Office as private letters, but will be charged on delivery with bearing postage at "forward" (i. e., pre-paid) rates, and not at double rates. Under this head come replies sent to communications of the kind noted in the margin, (b) as well as any other communications of a like kind which Government Officers may make to individuals whether private persons or Government Officers) relating to the private interests of the addressees.

(b) Petitions, applications for appointments, requests for transfer, enquiries about title to leave, &c.

(11).—Communications sent by private persons to Government Officials relating to the affairs o Government, may be endorsed according to the specimen form given on the margin, under the full signature of the sender. The address must include the full official designation of the public Office to which the cover is sent. Such covers will be charged on delivery at the rate to which they would have been liable if pre-paid by Stamps. This rule is intended to provide for cases of Zemindars reporting the occurrence of crime to a Police officer; of employers of labourers sending returns required by the Protector; of aided schools forwarding returns required by a Government Inspector, and of any similar reports or returns required by Government for its own purposes from private individuals, societies, associations, or institutions.

Service Bearing.
To
THE DISTRICT SUPERINTENDENT OF POLICE,
LUCKNOW.
Signature of sender.

(12).—In cases where it is not thought advisable to entrust postage stamps to a subordinate Official who has to correspond with, or send returns to, a superior (not being a privileged Officer), he may be allowed by his superior to address official covers to him under the above rule; and the same course may be adopted in other cases where it is found convenient or proper to make the postage charge fall on the receiving Office.

D.—TOUR POSTAGE TICKETS AND LOCAL POSTAGE TICKETS.

(13).—Privileged Officers proceeding on tour will be supplied by the Post Office at their head quarters with Tour postage tickets, on which will be printed instructions for their use.

(14).—If a privileged officer goes on tour without a Tour postage ticket, or, if having one, he does not present it at the Post Office, he cannot enjoy the privilege of sending and receiving covers without actual payment of postage, but he may in such case post covers under the rules prescribed for officers not privileged.

(15).—For a Governor or Lieutenant-Governor proceeding on tour, the same rules apply, except when a Camp Post Office is organized. In that case the Camp Post Office will keep the postage account, forwarding monthly returns to the Head Quarter Post Office.

(16).—A district officer (see definition of the term in the list, entry No. 23) may obtain from the Post Office at his head quarters local postage tickets for the use of assistants or deputies stationed in the interior of the district, the Postmaster who supplies such tickets being informed of the designation and locality of the subordinate office for which each is required. These tickets, when supplied to subordinate officers, will be placed by them in the Post Office where they desire to enjoy the privilege, and will entitle them to send and receive local official covers (i. e., covers addressed to places in the same Revenue District or Zillah in which they are posted) just as if they were privileged Officers. Instructions for the use of such tickets will be printed thereon.

(17).—Similarly, District Superintendents of Police may obtain local postage tickets for the use of assistants stationed in the interior of the district.

E.—MISCELLANEOUS.

(18).—Officers in charge of Telegraph Offices, when posting telegraph messages for onward transmission by post, are entitled to get receipts for them. Such receipts must be presented ready written in the form ordinarily used by the Telegraph Offices when delivering telegraph messages to the addressees. The Postmaster will compare the receipt so presented with the address of the cover accompanying it, and if correct, will affix the Post Office Stamp in acknowledgment of receipt. All covers for which receipts are claimed under this rule must be superscribed with the word "Telegram." Telegraph messages so sent are liable to the ordinary rates of postage, which must be pre-paid in full by means of postage stamps.* If telegraph messages are sent registered, the usual registration fee must likewise be pre-paid by postage stamps.*

* See Rule 22.

(19).—Complaints against the post Office, certified as such under the full signature and address of the sender, and addressed to any officer of the Postal Department, are not chargeable with any postage.

(20).—Official communications addressed to Government Offices "on Her Majesty's Service" under Rule (4), (8), or (9), or "Service Bearing" under Rule (11) or (12), are not liable to additional postage on account of re-direction.

(21).—Government Officers are bound to receive and pay any postage which may be due on covers addressed to them under the superscription "On Her Majesty's Service" or "Service Bearing." If the charge of postage results from any irregularity or omission on the part of the sender, his faults should be represented to the proper authority.

(22).—Postage Stamps required for official correspondence should be purchased at the Government Treasury, or other local stamp depôt. The stamps issued to official applicants for official purposes will be marked with the word "Service," and when used in payment of postage must be supported by the superscription on the cover "On Her Majesty's Service only," under the full signature and official designation of the Government Officer who sends the cover. The superscription and signature should be entered in the form marginally given. Service stamps affixed to a cover without the above-mentioned superscription will not be recognized by the Post Office in payment of postage. Treasury Officers are enjoined not to issue service stamps to any but Government Officers.

(23).—Covers posted by a privileged office under Rule 4, but not enclosed in the official bag will be treated as if posted by an unprivileged office, i. e., charged in the account of the receiving office if it be privileged, and charged with postage at pre-paid rates if addressed otherwise than to a privileged office. Covers sent by an unprivileged office under Rule 9, but without stamps, will be charged with postage on delivery at pre-paid rates, and if the stamps affixed be insufficient, the deficiency will be charged. Any other irregularity or incompleteness of the address or superscription will render the cover liable to be treated as an ordinary unpaid cover.

(24).—Government Officers when on leave, and those who have retired from the service of Government, can correspond only as private individuals.

(25).—The limits of weight and size, in respect of official letters or packets, are the same as those† prescribed for ordinary packets; a cover exceeding those limits can only be forwarded as a banghy parcel, and all banghy parcels must either be pre-paid by postage stamps‡ by the sender, or paid for in cash by the addressee. Receipts for such banghy parcels when presented ready written will be returned stamped with the Post Office stamp. Service banghy parcels are exempted from the rule requiring them to be packed in wax-cloth or tin, and sealed at intervals along the lines of sewing, but they must be securely packed.

† Not to exceed 200 tolas in weight, or one and half foot in length, or one foot in breadth or depth.

‡ See Rule 22.

(26).—In order to afford to public offices the means of checking the postage accounts kept against them in the Post Office, reasonable opportunity will be given, under the orders of the Postmaster-General, for the inspection of the Post Office account by an officer deputed for the purpose from any public office.

(27).—The Director-General of the Post Office is authorized to make annual arrangements with the Money Order Department for the conveyance of its correspondence without actual payment at a contract rate. Similar arrangements may be made in other cases in which they may be practicable and convenient.

F.—OFFICIAL CORRESPONDENCE WITH PLACES ABROAD OR BETWEEN INDIAN POST OFFICES WHEN CONVEYED BY BRITISH OR FRENCH MAIL PACKETS.

(28).—The rules contained in the preceding sections relate exclusively to official inland correspondence, i. e., correspondence conveyed between one Indian Post Office and another by Her Majesty's Indian Post.

* See Rule 22.

(30).—The only exception to the preceding rule has reference to official correspondence sent by British packet to or from the public functionaries or departments in London which have special accounts for overland postage with the London Post Office. Official covers intended for such offices need not be pre-paid if superscribed as on Her Majesty's Service under the full signature and official designation of the sender. Memorandum by the Director-General of the Post Office of India, dated 19th February 1870.

The accompanying rules regarding the treatment of official correspondence will come into force on the 1st April 1870, and it is necessary, therefore, to draw attention to the main alterations of system and to give instructions respecting the keeping of accounts of official postage.

2. Under the new rules the previously existing exemption in favour of what is called local official correspondence (i. e., official correspondence which does not pass beyond the limits of the district or zillah in which it is posted) has been withdrawn; and in future all official correspondence will either be paid for (by service stamps or otherwise), or charged in account against a privilege office.

3. It will be observed from Rule 4 that all* official covers posted by a privileged office will be charged against it. These should be stamped by the office in which posted with the dated stamp in red ink on the face (i. e., address side) just over the signature of the franking officer.

* Hitherto only those addressed to unprivileged offices have been so charged, the rest being charged against the receiving office.

4. The only covers to be charged in the account of the receiving privileged office will be those posted (under Rule 8) by a non-privileged office. Such covers should be stamped, as heretofore, by the office in which posted, with the dated stamp in red ink on the back.

5. Special attention must be given to the different way of stamping covers described in the two preceding paragraphs. The only guide which the office of delivery will have as to what covers have been charged by the posting office in the account of the sender will be the stamp of the posting office affixed above the franking signature on the face of the cover; and it will be necessary, therefore, to enjoin strict attention to the rule that covers charged by the posting office in account with the sender must be so stamped, all others being stamped as heretofore on the back of the cover.

6. A new list of privileged offices is attached to the rules, each having a distinguishing number. These numbers will be preserved, future additions to the list being indicated by intermediate numbers.

7. The accounts of privilege offices will be kept in the annexed form marked "A Account," which contains the necessary instructions. The total of each "A Account" will, as noted on the form, be transferred at the close of the month to "Register D," of which a form is annexed, and a copy of each month's Register will be sent to the Compiler direct.

8. In preparing A. Accounts, the Postmaster should be careful to enter in the appropriate place at the top the proper official designation of the Office for which the account is kept. The designations in all Presidencies and provinces are not precisely the same. For instance a district officer (entry No. 23) is in some parts of the country designated "Deputy Commissioner," and in others "Magistrate and Collector," and in all such cases the Postmaster should be careful to give the proper designation by which the office is known, applying, if necessary, for this purpose to the privileged officer himself.

9. The frank of a privileged office can be recognized only at the Post Office which keeps its accounts, i. e., the Post Office situated at its head quarters (or temporary residence): and no other office can recognize it except under the authority of a tour ticket. For instance, a cover bearing the frank of the Commissioner of the Allahabad Division will be recognized by the Allahabad Post Office if posted there, but if the cover be posted at any other office, it can only be recognized on the authority of a tour ticket signed by the Allahabad Postmaster. I find that in some cases privileged offices have resorted to the practice of distributing franked covers among their subordinates. This is very irregular, and will be put a stop to by this rule.

10. Privileged officers, removing for a season to another station, as in the case of the Government Offices going to a hill station for the summer, should have separate accounts opened with them at their temporary residence. This will be more convenient than treating such officers as on tour.

11. Rules 13 and 14 provide for the grant of tour postage tickets to privileged officers proceeding on tour. A form for such tickets marked "Tour B. Ticket" is annexed, and contains the necessary instructions. The object of these tickets is to acquaint Post Offices visited by a privileged officer on tour with the official designation of such officer, the fact of his being privileged and the name of the Post Office where his account is kept. Any Post Office at which a "Tour B. Ticket" is presented will copy the necessary entries on a "Tour B Account" sheet (form annexed), and then return the ticket, the official correspondence of the ticket holder being entered in this account, which, as directed in the form, must be sent in original at the close of the month to the office which granted the ticket.

12. Rules 16 and 17 provide for the grant of local postage tickets to subordinates of a district officer or District Superintendent of Police, the object being to allow such subordinates the privilege of a postage account for local correspondence, the amount being chargeable in the account kept against the superior officer. A form for such ticket marked "Local C Ticket" is annexed, and contains the necessary instructions. A Post Office at which such a ticket is deposited will open with the official named therein an account of the form marked 'Local C Account," which, as directed in the form is to be forwarded monthly in original to the Post Office which granted the ticket.

13. The terms "Assistants" and "Deputies" used in Rules 16 and 17 may be allowed to include Local subordinates in charge of sub-divisions or pergunnahs or talooks, whatever be their actual designations; but it is not intended that local postage ticket should be issued to any but principal subordinates of the class indicated, service stamps being used in all cases where correspondence cannot be included in the account of a privileged officer, or of a subordinate officer privileged under a local ticket.

14. Post Offices receiving supplementary accounts arising out of tickets (B or C) granted by them will transfer the results of each such account as received to the Abstract on the back of the A Account appertaining to the privileged office to which the supplementary account belongs.

15. It will not be necessary to require covers posted by, or delivered to, offices privileged under Local C. Tickets to be enclosed in official bags.

16. The Rules 10 to 12, respecting correspondence superscribed "Service Bearing," do not seem to call for any explanatory remarks. Such covers will be treated like private covers, payment of cash being required on delivery, the only difference being that the charge will be at prepaid or forward rates instead of at double rates, as in the case of ordinary bearing letters.

17. It will be observed that under paragraph 25 of the new rules, official banghy parcels must be separately paid for and not included in the account; and that any official cover exceeding the prescribed limits of weight or size can only be forwarded as a banghy parcel.

18. Under Rule 22 service stamps may be used for any class of official correspondence (inland or overland), as service stamp supported by the required superscription and signature, being in fact equivalent in every respect to an ordinary postage stamp.

GENERAL ORDERS

By His Excellency the Commander in Chief

HEAD QUARTERS, MADRAS, 27th April 1870.

Telegraph Department.—No. 45.—In supersession of G. O. C. C., 9th March 1869, No. 28, page 45, the following Notification by the Government of India in the Foreign Department, is re-published:—

No. 76T, dated 26th January 1870.—The following revised Rules and Experimental Tariff relating to the despatch of Telegraph messages in India, including British Burmah and in Ceylon, are published for general information. They will come into force from the 1st March 1870.

Rules and Experimental Tariff relating to the despatch of Telegraph messages in India, British Burmah, and Ceylon, published in supersession of the Telegraph Notification, dated Simla, the 20th September 1869.

I.

General.

The accuracy of messages is not guaranteed, and the sender and receiver must accept all risks arising from non-delivery, errors, or delays.

II.

Classes of Offices.

Office hours.

Telegraph Stations are divided into three classes—1*st*, those performing permanent day and night duty; 2*nd*, those performing full day duty; and 3*rd*, those of limited day duty.

Except on the days stated in Clause III, stations in the 1st class are open day and night for the reception and transmission of messages.

Stations of the 2nd class are open from 7 A.M. till 9 P.M.

Stations of the 3rd class are open from 10 A.M. till 5 P.M., and on Sundays and the holidays enumerated in the next clause from 7 A.M. to 8 A.M. and from 4 P.M. to 6 P.M.

III.

Hours of business limited on Sundays and Holidays.

All offices will be closed to the public between the hours of 8 and 16 (4 P.M.) local time on Sunday, Christmas Day, New Year's Day, Good Friday, and the Queen's Birthday.

IV.

Exemptions in favour of emergent telegrams signed by competent authority.

In cases of life and death, or of extraordinary political emergency, a message counter-signed by the chief civil authority at a station, or by any of the authorities empowered to "clear the line" (see paragraph XLVI), can be sent from any Office at any time.

V.

Limit to length of a message.

No message or messages of more than 200 words in all can be sent at any one time by any private individual or firm, and no second message by the same individual or firm till after the lapse of three hours, unless the line be free and not required by any one else.

VI.

Messages should be legibly written and clearly expressed.

Senders of messages are advised to write their messages in an unmistakeable and distinct hand, and to use the shortest and most familiar words they can select. The more intelligible the message, the greater is the probability of its being correctly transmitted.

VII.

Acceptance of messages for transmission.
Messages must be written in the Roman character.

Messages must be in the Roman character, and legibly written.

VIII.

Form to be followed.

The body of the message must be preceded by the address, and followed by the signature.

IX.

Full address necessary.

The address must contain all the information necessary to ensure the delivery of the message at its destination.

The sender in all cases supports the consequences of insufficiency of address. After the message is once sent he can neither complete nor rectify it, except by sending a new despatch.

X.

Ordinary, cipher, Code, and foreign messages.

Messages may be written in the ordinary English language, in cipher, in words of concealed meaning, commonly called "Code," or in any foreign language written in the Roman character.

Ordinary messages can contain only standard English dictionary words.

Cipher messages are those which consist wholly or in part of groups of figures or letters not forming words.

Code messages are those in which a number of recognised words, but of concealed meaning follow each other without forming sense.

XI.

No unusual combinations or abbreviations permitted.

Messages in ordinary language can contain no unusual combinations, abbreviations, or constructions, nor words of more than seven syllables.

XII.

Authentication of corrections necessary.

Every interlineation, reference, erasure, or alteration of words should be authenticated by the sender of the message, or by his representative.

Verification of private messages may be insisted upon.

The sender of a private message can always be called upon to prove that the signature attached to it is genuine.

XIII.

Messages sent by Post to Telegraph Stations for transmission.

Messages from places where there is no Telegraph Station should be addressed to the nearest Government Telegraph Office by Post registered, together with Telegraph Stamps sufficient for their payment, or, if Telegraph Stamps be not procurable, Postage Stamps at the rate of seventeen annas per rupee. Such messages are charged at the day rate at whatever time they may reach the Telegraph Station.

XIV.

Treatment of messages received by post for transmission insufficiently stamped.

In the case of a message sent by Post to a Telegragph Station with an insufficient number of stamps, the message and stamps will be returned "bearing" to the sender, who should in all cases give his full address.

XV.

"Bearing" messages.

With the following exception, all charges for messages must be prepaid in cash or in stamps :—

Messages are sent "bearing" from sea-ports when received by mail steamers or other vessels for despatch, but no such message "prepaid" or "bearing" will be received for transmission until the name of the vessel has been made known. "Bearing" messages will not be delivered to the addressees until payment has been obtained.

XVI.

Objectionable messages to be refused acceptance.

Telegraph Masters are required to refuse to transmit a message which may be of a decidedly objectionable or alarming character. Should the character of the message be disputed, the matter may be referred to a Secretary to Government if the dispute occur at the seat of Government, or to the chief civil officer if at a provincial station.

XVII.

CHARGES.

Messages in ordinary language.

The charge for a message in ordinary English language between any two stations in India or Burmah will be one rupee for every ten words. A message can be sent from any Government Telegraph Station to any Railway Telegraph Station, or vice versâ, at the same rate.

XVIII.

Messages in cipher, in words of concealed meaning, or in a foreign language.

The charge for a message in cipher, in words of concealed meaning, or in a foreign language, will be two rupees for every ten words. These messages are always repeated back by the Receiving Office to ensure the greatest possible accuracy.

XIX.

Messages to and from Ceylon.

Messages between any stations in Ceylon and Calcutta, or places west of Calcutta, are charged one rupee for 20 words or less, in addition to the Indian charge.

Messages between Ceylon and places east of Calcutta are charged two rupees for 20 words or less, in addition to the Indian charge.

Ceylon local messages.

The local rates in Ceylon are one rupee for 20 words for any description of message between any two stations not exceeding 200 miles apart, with eight annas for every additional ten words. For distances greater than 200 miles, these charges are doubled. Double charges are levied on messages sent after hours or on holidays, the same as in India.

XX.

Double charges.

A double charge will be levied upon all messages tendered for transmission between the hours of 6 P.M. and 6 A.M. (local time), also on Sundays and the following holidays:—Christmas Day, New Year's Day, Good Friday, and the Queen's Birthday.

XXI.*

Method of counting words in the address.

In the address of a message (meaning thereby the stations from and to which a message is despatched, the name of the sender and the addressee, and the latter's address) three words will be reckoned as one word; the remainder, is less than three words, being also counted as one.

XXII.

Words joined by a hyphen.

Words joined by a hyphen are counted as so many separate words.

XXIII.

Words separated by an apostrophe.

Words separated by an apostrophe are counted as so many separate words.

XXIV.

Proper names, titles, &c.

Proper names of towns and persons, names of places, streets, ships, titles, Christian names, prefixes, and qualifications, are counted for the number of words employed to express them.

XXV.

Every separate character, including an underline, charged as a word.

Every separate character, whether letter or figure, is counted as a word. The same applies to an underline.

XXVI.

Signs of punctuation.

Signs which the instruments express by a single signal (signs of punctuation, hyphens, apostrophes, inverted commas, parenthesis, fresh paragraph) are not counted. But decimal points, commas, and bars of division, used with figures, are each counted as a figure.

Signs used to separate groups in cipher messages are counted each as a figure or letter, unless the sender expressly desires that they be not transmitted.

XXVII.

Charges for figures.

When numbers are expressed in figures in ordinary messages, each group of five or fewer figures is counted as a word; letters added to figures to form ordinal numbers are each counted as a figure.

XXVIII.

Method of counting cipher messages.

In cipher messages, the parts in cipher must consist exclusively of Arabic figures or of letters of the alphabet, and be placed between parenthesis, separating them from the rest of the message. All the characters, figures, letters, or signs employed in the cipher text are added together, the total divided by five, and the quotient, plus one for the remainder, if there be any, gives the number of words the ciphers represent.

XXIX.

All words to be transmitted charged for.

All that that the sender writes in his message to be transmitted is included in the cost, but in the address of a message, as defined in Rule XXI. three words will be charged as one word.

XXX.

Date and time of receipt added by the department and transmitted FREE.

The day, hour, and minute of receipt of a message into a Telegraph Office for despatch are in every instance added by the department, and telegraphed free of charge. Senders may, however, date their messages if they think fit; but the sender's date, if given, will be charged for, and, to avoid confusion with that given by the department, will, if written at the beginning, be transferred to the end of the message.

XXXI.

Multiple messages charged as separate massages.

A message addressed to several persons, or to the same person in localities where delivery is to be effected by different offices, is charged for as so many separate messages.

---

* The words "from" and "to" prefixed to the names of sender and receiver, and sending and receiving station, in the address of a message, are not counted.

XXXII.

Multiple messages charged as one message.

A message addressed to several persons in one locality, or to the same person at several places of residence in one locality, with or without retransmission by Post, is charged for as a single message, but a copying fee of four annas, independently of postage, if any, is charged for each destination after the first.

XXXIII.

Registration of messages.

The sender of any message has the power of registering it.

XXXIV.

Charge for registration.

The charge for registering is equal to the charge for the message. A registered message is indicated by the word "recommandée," which, to ensure the greatest accuracy, is telegraphed both in the official instructions and as the first word of the text of the message. The former is sent free, the latter charged for.

XXXV.

Treatment of registered messages.

When a message is registered, the different stations employed in its transmission collate it as it passes by, repeating it to each other integrally, and the terminal station, immediately after the delivery of the message, despatches a telegram to the sender announcing the exact time at which it reached its destination. If the message cannot be delivered, the return telegram indicates the circumstances which prevented delivery, and, if possible, gives the information necessary to enable the sender to cause his message to reach its destination.

XXXVI.

Priority of return message.

The return message has priority in transmission over other messages of the same rank.

XXXVII.

The return message can be sent to any station.

The sender of a registered message can have the return message addressed to him at any station by giving the necessary instructions.

The words necessary to convey these instructions will be considered as part of the message and charged for accordingly.

XXXVIII.

Prepaid replies.

The sender of a message can prepay a reply. He must add the words "reply paid" or "answer paid." These must form the concluding words of the message and will be signalled and charged for. The sender can add to the words "reply paid" or "answer paid," the cost to which he wishes the reply to be limited on paying the corresponding amount. When the words "reply paid" alone or given without any specified amount, it will be understood that one rupee only has been prepaid. The terminal station pays to the receiver in Telegraph Stamps the amount prepaid, leaving it to him to send his answer how and when he pleases, or not to send one at all. The reply is considered in every respect as a fresh message

XXXIX.

No unpaid message to be despatched under penalty.

No unpaid messages, except those specified in the Departmental Regulations, shall on any account be transmitted. A violation of this rule will subject the Signaller or Telegraph Master in charge of the station from which a message is improperly sent to dismissal from the public service.

XL.

DELIVERY.

Free delivery within five miles of a Telegraph Station.

Peons will deliver messages free of charge at any place within five miles of a Telegraph Station. Beyond this distance messages will be sent by Post, or by such other means as the sender may arrange and pay for.

XLI.

Words necessary to explain delivery are charged for.

Any additional words that may be necessary to explain the delivery of a message when its destination is more than five miles beyond the nearest Telegraph Station, will be considered as part of the message and charged for accordingly.

XLII.

Charge for re-addressing a message.

Should the addressee of a message leave the station to which it is addressed, and it be sent on by Telegraph to some other station, an additional charge of one rupee for every ten words of message in ordinary English language, and of two rupees for every ten words of message not in ordinary English language, must be paid by the addressee for every extra address before the telegram is delivered to him.

XLIII.

Messages addressed to non-telegraph stations.

Messages can be addressed to places where there are no Telegraph Stations. In such cases, the sender must state from what Telegraph Station the message should be posted.

Example :—To Kalka, "Post Umballa," or Kalka, "Post Kussowlie." To Gudduck, "Post Dharwar," or Gudduck, "Post Bellary." These extra words will be charged for, but no charge will be made for inland postage, the cost of which is defrayed by the Telegraph Administration.

If the sender of a message that has to be delivered by Inland Post wishes it to be sent to destination by registered Post, he must prepay the postal registration fee of four annas, and intimate that this has been done by placing the words "Post registered," instead of "Post," before the name of the Telegraph Station which is to post the message. These words will be charged for.

XLIV.

Charges on service messages.

Service messages from all public functionaries must be paid* for in cash or in stamps prior to despatch : the rates are the same for service messages as those charged to private individuals.

XLV.

Service messages take their turn for despatch with private messages.

Service messages have no right of precedence and take their turn of despatch with private messages, except in cases of pressing public emergency and importance, when priority may be claimed on special grounds.

XLVI.

"Clear the line" messages.

On certain emergent occasions of great importance, the public functionaries named below have the power of "clearing the line," that is, to suspend the receipt and despatch of all other messages, until the one for which the line is "cleared" is passed on :—

(1) The Governor-General of India.
(2) The Governors of Madras, Bombay, and Ceylon.
(3) Commanders-in-Chief, India, Madras, and Bombay.
(4) Lieutenant-Governors of Bengal, North-Western Provinces, and the Punjab.
(5) Secretaries to the Government of India.
(6) Secretaries to the Governments of Madras, Bombay, Bengal, North-Western Provinces, and Punjab.
(7) Chief Commissioners of Oudh, the Central Provinces, British Burmah, and Mysore and Coorg.
(8) Agents to the Governor-General, Rajpootana, and Central India.
(9) Commissioners of Sindh and Peshawur.
(10) Director-Generals of Telegraphs in India.
(11) The Resident at Hyderabad (Deccan).

The messages so sent are, however, to be paid for in cash or in stamps as other service messages.

XLVII.

REFUNDS.

Under no circumstance is a refund given for a non-registered message.

No refund will be made for a message delivered wholly or partially in an unintelligible state (or for late delivery, mis-delivery, or non-delivery of a message) unless it be registered (récommandée). Applications for refunds, as also all complaints respecting messages, should be addressed to the Telegraph Check Office, Calcutta.

XLVIII.

Conditions of refund in the case of a registered message.

If a registered message be delayed or mutilated to such an extent as to be manifestly unable to fulfil its object, the whole charge made for it will be returned to the sender.

XLIX.

Not admissible when a message is cancelled at the sender's request.

If the sender of a message wishes to cancel it before transmission has commenced he can do so ; but the charges upon it will not be returned when once the stamps are obliterated. If the message is in course of transmission, or has already been despatched, it can only be cancelled by a paid message from the sender to the Telegraph Master of the terminal station. If in addition the sender wishes to be informed by Telegraph in what manner his request has been acted upon, he must deposit the cost of the return telegram.

L.

Obligation of secrecy.

To secure secrecy as much as possible, all persons, including officers of the department not actually on duty, or strictly prohibited from entering the signal-room. Breach of the regulation renders an offender liable to a fine of one hundred rupees under Act VIII. of 1860.

LI.

Penalties for divulging the contents of a message.

Violation of secrecy on the part of any person in the department will be punished by dismissal from office, forfeiture of arrears of pay, and a declaration in the official Gazette of the incapacity of the delinquent to serve the Government in any capacity. Breach of this rule renders the offender liable to the further punishment of fine, or to imprisonment with or without labour not exceeding two years, or to both. It is a violation of secrecy to mention the fact that a message has been received or despatched by any particular person or firm.

* No. XLIV.—The only exceptions to this rule are enumerated in special printed instructions issued to each Office.

LII.

Certified copies of messages obtainable by sender and receiver.

The sender and receiver have a right to be furnished with certified true copies of the messages sent or received by them: a fixed charge of four annas is made for every copy furnished.

As no Telegragh Office keeps copies of messages longer than three days, application for copies required after that time has elapsed should be made to the TelegraphCheck Office, Calcutta.

Applications for copies must be made within 18 months of the date of the message. At the expiration of that period all message drafts are destroyed.

On anna must be enclosed for postage of the reply, failing which it will be sent "bearing."

IV.—Message in a Foreign Language.

Messages in a foreign language, which must be written in the Roman character, are treated in the same manner as Code Messages. The number of words in the text of the message and in the address are added together and the total charged at the rate of two rupees for ten words (Rule XVIII.)

The only point requiring explanation is the action of Rule XXIII., by which words separated by an apostrophe, such as d'Argent, d'Escompte, l'Avenir, &c., are counted as two words. This rule should be borne in mind in writing foreign words.

English nouns in the possessive case, in which an apostrophe is employed, such as brother's, General's, Charles', &c., are not chargeable as two words on that account.

It should be distinctly understood that it is not compulsory on the addressee to send a reply. The duty of the Telegraph Department consists simply in paying to him the amount deposited, leaving him at liberty to do what he pleases with it. Should it be impossible to effect delivery of a message, the terminal station sends a telegram to that effect to the sender, and this telegram takes the place of the return message for which a reply has been prepaid.

The Rules which regulate the despatch of Indo-European messages differ in several small particulars from these now published, which apply to Inland and Ceylon messages only.

The most important difference is that in Indo-European telegrams every word is counted and charged for in the usual way, whether in the address or in the body of a message, the name of the original Telegraph Station only being transmitted free.

By order of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief.

Furniture—Barrack Department.—On a Regiment marching into a Station, the Quartermaster or other Commissioned Officer deputed to receive the authorized articles of Barrack and Hospital furniture from the Barrack Department, is invariably to record in writing any observations he may desire to offer regarding the condition, &c., of the articles made over to the Corps or Battery. These remarks, countersigned by the Commanding Officer, with such others as he may feel inclined to record, are to be forwarded, through the regular channel, to the Quartermaster General, Army Head Quarters.

Section XI., Act 50, Military Regulations.

Adjutant General's Office, Head Quarters, Calcutta, 26th March 1870.

No. 60.

Returns—Drill.—With reference to the General Orders noted in the margin, the Commander-in-Chief is pleased to direct, under instructions received from the Horse Guards, that the Annual Returns of Lance practice and Swordmanship of British Cavalry Regiments shall be prepared on separate forms.

* G. O. Nos. 335, and 336, of 2nd November 1868, and 161 of 1869.

No. 61.

Royal Artillery—Inspections—Drill.—The annexed letter, from the Inspector, Royal Artillery, Northern Division, dated 11th March 1870, relating to a recent accident at a field day, by which a Gunner of the Royal Horse Artillery was killed, together with Sir William Mansfield's remarks thereon, is published for general information :—

"As the battery of Horse Artillery, to which the enclosed paragraph alludes, has only recently left my division, I wish to report, for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, that it has been my constant practice, at every Inspection I have held, to condemn as strongly as possible the very reckless pace so often customary in the batteries of Horse Artillery in this country.

"I can see no advantage whatever in this very rapid system of moving ; it endangers the lives and limbs of the men, and it is destructive to the horses and materiél of the battery.

"As a means of instruction, it is, I consider, the very reverse of useful ; coolness, steadiness, and that quiet but prompt deliberation which should be the characteristics of good Gunners, are lost in it ; whips and spurs are put in motion, and loud shouting, noise and confusion, with a hurried scrambling coming into action at the end, are its only results.

"Practically it is wrong, for if the ground is at all broken or full of holes, instead of opening fire with the guns complete, it is more than probable that one or more are disabled before the position for coming into action is reached.

"In the quietest drill of a battery of Horse Artillery there is always galloping enough in the formation into line from column when the battery is moving at a trot.

"I trust His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief will not think I go beyond the strict line of my duty in noticing the subject and writing this letter."

Extract.

"A serious accident is reported to have occurred at Morar, on the morning of the 17th February last, during a field day at that station, by which a Gunner of B Battery, F Brigade, Royal Horse Artillery, was killed on the spot, and several men and horses of No. 5 Gun left half battery, more or less injured. On getting on to the broad road, the detachment somehow fell into confusion, and a horse of one of the mounted gunners came down on its side. Two of the guns going at full speed passed over the fallen man and his charger, some of the Artillery horses being thrown down by the collision. The poor fellow was killed almost instantaneously, and several others were much hurt."

Remarks by His Excellency Sir William Mansfield.

"This may be published in General Orders for the guidance of Officers in command of brigades and batteries of Artillery.

"I quite concur in Major-General Fitzmayer's views.

No. 66.

Clothing and Necessaries—Discharges—Prisoners.—In order to prevent the possibility of prisoners, proceeding to England for discharge with ignominy, making away with their kits on the march to Bombay, Commanding Officers will cause the kit of each man to be tied up in bundles, and given over to the guard in charge of the men, with a list of the same, which must be signed by the Officer or Non-Commissioned Officer in charge.

G. O. 96 of 1866, para. 7.
(Madras G. O. C. C. 16th August 1866, page 179).

The prisoners are on no account to have access to their bundles, either on the march, or on board-ship, but when any Article of kit is required to be replaced, it will be issued to the men, and that for which it is exchanged is to be resumed.

On arrival in England, the kits should be handed over to the authorities who receive charge of the prisoners.

No. 71.

"2. In reply, I am to acquaint you that Royal Engineer Officers, who came to India under the provisions of the order referred to, are allowed the option of returning to England on the expiration of their tour of service in this country. Copy of a letter from the Military Department, Government of India, to the Military Department, Bombay,
No. 881, dated 18th March 1870.

"I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 1098, dated 6th March 1869, conveying the recommendation of the Government of Bombay that soldiers and their families who are debarred from drawing bedding on the 1st October, owing to their being under orders for England, shall be allowed compensation in lieu, if they are detained in India for any considerable time before embarking.

"2. In reply, I am to acquaint you, for the information of the Government of Bombay, that the Right Honourable the Governor-General in Council has been pleased to decide that in all cases where the detention is for less than three months, no compensation is admissible ; that when the period exceeds three but is less than six months, one-fourth value of the annual bedding shall be granted, and half value when the period exceeds six months.

"3. The annual value of the bedding, I am to state, should be calculated not on the issue of the particular year in which the compensation is given, but on the average cost of the three years' issue, as shown in the annexed statement.

"4. In the case of invalids, however, it should, His Excellency in Council is of opinion, be left to the discretion of Commanding Officers to apply for compensation or for the issue of a quilt, as may appear most advisable for the health of the men, with reference to the state of the bedding in their possesion at the time."

Statement shewing the cost of the several components of the annual issues of bedding at the three Presidencies on which the compensation is based.

5. The Government of India have been pleased to sanction the volunteering of Non-commissioned Officers without loss of rank under the following rules :—

I. The Sergeants and Corporals of every regiment shall be allowed to volunteer to regiments remaining in India to the extent of the difference between the actual numbers on the rolls and half the Indian Establishment of the corps, allowance being made for any Non-commissioned Officers whose discharge by invaliding will probably be effected during the ensuing cold season. Staff Sergeants may volunteer in the rank of Sergeant.

II. Sergeants and Corporals will be allowed to volunteer to particular corps in the proportion of 1 Sergeant and 1 Corporal to every 19 men of their regiment who volunteer for such corps; 1 Sergeant and 1 Corporal will also be allowed to select a particular corps for any fraction of 19 exceeding 9, going to it.

III. Should the number of Non-commissioned Officers eligible to volunteer under Rule I., exceed the numbers who may select particular corps under Rule II., Sergeants and Corporals to the extent of the difference will be allowed to volunteer to remain in India, provided they are willing to be transferred to any corps in which their services are required. The posting of these Non-commissioned Officers will be made at Head Quarters in India, and as far as possible, in accordance with the wishes of the Non-commissioned Officers, which should be recorded.

IV. Non-commissioned Officers volunteering under Rule II., will retain their rank and pay.

V. Non-commissioned Officers volunteering under Rule III., will be allowed to retain their rank, but it must be understood that they will revert to the pay of a private until vacancies occur in the establishment of the regiments to which they are posted. No promotions will be made in such regiments until the Non-commissioned Officers received by volunteering have been advanced to the pay of their rank.

6. Field Officers of British regiments are to be appointed to superintend the Volunteering, and Medical Boards convened for the examination of the Volunteers under the orders of the General Officer commanding the Meerut Division. Neither the Field Officers nor the Presidents of the Boards will belong to the regiments concerned.

7. The Superintending Field Officers will be careful that men of bad character are excluded from the privilege of volunteering. The Commander-in-Chief will hold them personally responsible for any neglect of this instruction. (Vide G. O. C. C. 13th September 1865, h. page 206 S. O.) A careful inspection of the Defaulters' Book must be made, with reference to para. 8 of G. G. O. No. 695 of 1863, and the preference given to the best conducted men.

"By desire of the Field Marshal Commanding-in-Chief, I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 14th ultimo, and to acquaint you, that His Royal Highness entirely concurs in your opinion, expressed therein, that the interchange of Officers between Service and Depôt companies, not recommended in sufficient time to admit of the arrangement being effected by means of Her Majesty's Indian steam troop-ships during the relief season, should stand over until the following season."

Discipline—Medical Department.—It has lately been brought to the notice of the Commander-in-Chief in India, that a Medical Officer in charge of a regiment has reported matters of discipline connected with the Medical Subordinates attached to the corps, to the superior medical authority on the spot, who is powerless to take action in such cases; and has neglected to make any report of the occurrences to his Regimental Commanding Officer.

2. The Commander-in-Chief desires it to be pointed out, that this course must necessarily occasion delay in the final settlement of such cases. It is the duty of a Medical Officer to bring all matters of this nature, in the first instance, to the notice of his Commanding Officer, under whose immediate orders the Medical Subordinates are serving, and who is held responsible for the discipline of all under his command.

*Letter from Controller of Military Accounts, to Major-General * * * commanding * * * Division, No.* 6811, dated 18*th November* 1867.

"In reply to your letter, dated 4th instant, I have the honour to inform you that the only limit to the grant of leave in India to General Officers commanding Divisions is that applicable to the service generally.—A General Officer commanding a Division, like any other Officer who is granted general leave of absence by the Commander-in-Chief, is entitled to pay and allowances and half staff for a period of six months on private affairs, and for two years on medical certificate; and if while absent on privilege leave an extension on general leave is granted, the full staff is passed during the period of privilege leave and half staff afterwards; but the total period of absence, including privilege leave, cannot exceed six months on private affairs, and two years on medical certificate.

"2. The G. G. O. No. 952 of 22nd October 1861, applies to leave out of India only, such leave being, in the case of General Officers commanding Divisions, restricted to one period during the tour of command of six months on medical certificate, or four months on private affairs."

Letter from the Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department, to the Controller of Military, Accounts, No. 547, dated 15*th February* 1870.

"With reference to your letter No. 1030F, of the 10th September 1869, I am desired to acquaint you that it has been determined by Government that, as General Officers commanding divisions are only allowed leave of absence to the extent of six months, once during their tour of command, they should, on taking further leave, if such leave be preparatory to furlough, which necessitates vacation of command, cease to belong to the Staff and to draw their Divisional allowances from the date of their making over command prior to availing themselves of such leave.

"2. Under this decision Major-General * * * * ceased to have any lien on his Divisional Command from the date on which he made it over, * * *

Lock Hospitals.—With reference to the selection of Medical Officers for the charge of Lock Hospitals at military stations, it has been decided by the Government of India in the Military department, that Medical Officers shall be selected for this duty by Commanding Officers of stations, on the recommendation of the Deputy Inspector-General, or other superior medical authority of the Indian Forces of the Circle, and that such nominations shall be forwarded under the countersignature of the General Officer commanding the division or district, for the confirmation of the local Government.

2. In selecting an Officer for the post, regard should be had not only to the military and regimental qualifications of the candidate, but also to his acquaintance with the language and customs of natives of the country. A Medical Officer, who has not passed in the Colloquial, should not be nominated to such a charge, when a suitable Officer who has passed is available; but when such a nomination is made, the nominee must engage to pass within six months, or failing to pass in that time he will be remanded to his regiment.

Received with Military Department No. 244, dated 11th May 1870.

"I am directed to acknowledge your letter No. 1424, dated 1st April 1870, asking for an authoritative ruling on the question of admitting charges from Commissioned or Warrant Officers granted passage money, or a passage in a private steamer, (when accommodation is not available in a troopship) for baggage in excess of the quantity allowed by the rules of the Company.

"2. In reply, I am to acquaint you, for the information of the Right Honourable the Governor in Council, that such charges are not to be admitted, and that the rule laid down in your Government General Order No. 555, of 28th October 1865, paragraph 2* is to be held to apply equally to such cases as those under advertence."

* Officers travelling at the public expense by horse dâk or in river steamers can only take such quantity of baggage with them as is authorized by the rules of the companies providing the carriage, and Government will not recognize any separate charge on account of the baggage of Officers proceeding by such means.

No. 132.

Medical Department—Passage—Pay.—Under instructions from Government, the following extract of a despatch from the Right Honourable the Secretary of State for India, to His Excellency the Right Honourable the Governor-General of India in Council, No. 34, dated India Office, London, the 31st January 1870, is published for information and guidance:—

"3. * * * * * it was intended thereby to avoid additional expense to the public service by the despatch of troops, under the medical charge of Officers who were not entitled to a free passage, while others who were so entitled were detained in India, and subsequently sent home without employment.

"4. It will rest with the local authorities to determine in each case, whether the interests of the public will be best promoted by the detention of a British Medical officer to take charge of troops, or by allowing him to return immediately on the expiration of his tour of foreign service; but it must be borne in mind that unless there is a sufficient supply of Medical Officers about to return home at the public charge, the detention for a short time of an Officer for whom a free passage must be provided may prove to be the most economical arrangement.

"5. An Officer so detained is entitled to Indian pay and allowances up to the date of his embarkation."

No. 133.

Discipline.—With reference to Horse Guards' G. O. * No. 62 of 1869, re-published in G. O. C. C. of the 28th August last, page 374, it is notified, for general information and guidance, that it has been ruled by His Royal Highness the Field Marshal Commanding-in-Chief, that when a soldier commits an act of drunkenness, not on duty, in addition to some other crime which it is deemed expedient to bring to trial by a District Court Martial, the prisoner shall be arraigned upon both or all the offences, which he may have committed; in other words, the offence of drunkenness is not to be disposed of independently, as in the case of a private soldier intended to be brought to trial by a Regimental Court Martial for similar offences.

Exchanges.—Misconception being found to exist in regard to the date from which an Officer of Her Majesty's British service, who exchanges to a corps not serving in India, is to be struck off the returns of his former Regiment, Commanding Officers are enjoined, on receipt of the G. O. C. C. publishing an extract from the London Gazette in which the exchange is notified, to act upon it at once, and strike the Officer concerned off the Returns from the date of receipt of the General Order.

* G. O. 376 of 1868.

In the case of an exchange from one to another Regiment in India, provisionally gazetted by the Commander-in-Chief, a similar course is to be followed, and the Officers permitted to proceed at once to join their new Regiments, respectively, on the understanding that if the exchange be not finally sanctioned they will rejoin their former Regiments at their own expense.

Arms—Ammunition—Reliefs.—General Order No. 4* of 1870 is cancelled, and the following substituted :—

Under instructions from the Government of India, the following orders are issued for the guidance of Officers commanding British regiments, armed with the muzzle-loader Enfield Rifle, returning to England, in substitution of G. O.† 283, dated 15th September 1868, which is cancelled so far as they are concerned :—

I. When a regiment is under orders to England, and shortly before it moves from its station, all arms in possession, with the exception of a proportion equivalent to ten per cent. of the number of men who proceed with the regiment to England, are to be surveyed as laid down in memo. dated 28th May 1867, from the Chief Inspector of Musketry,‡ in view to their ultimate return into store in this country under instructions from the Inspector-General of Ordnance and Magazines.

‡Published in G. G. No. 305, dated 30th December 1867.

II. The arms retained with the regiment to be taken home will be the oldest and least serviceable of those in possession.

III. Forty rounds of ammunition per arm retained with the regiment will be taken in pouch to the port of embarkation, and will be then returned into store, as ammunition is provided on board Her Majesty's Indian troop ships.

IV. In ample time before leaving their stations, Commanding Officers of regiments should communicate with the Inspector-General of Ordnance and Magazines for detailed instructions regarding the place and mode of return into store of the surplus arms which under the above orders will be left behind in this country.

† Do. 5th October 1868, page 246.
‡ Madras G. O. C. C. 24th February 1868, page 44.

V. The remainder of the ammunition of a regiment returning home will be retained at the station, or returned into store, at the discretion of the General Officer commanding the Division or District, who is responsible under G. O. No. * 151 of 1869, for the proper description of ammunition being available for the relieving regiment.

VI. One set of accoutrements for each soldier will be taken home with the regiment, the remainder being returned into store at the same time the arms are despatched.

Women and Children.—It having been represented to the Commander-in-Chief that the adoption of the children of British soldiers by irresponsible persons is open to grave abuse if not carefully guarded, His Excellency directs that in future, Commanding Officers shall discountenance the practice, unless they can thoroughly satisfy themselves that the children will be benefited by the proposed adoption.

Returns Musketry Practice.—No. 93.—The following Annual Musketry Practice Returns of the British and Native Troops serving in the Madras Presidency, are published for the information of the Army.

Notwithstanding the increased number of points required to pass out of the 3rd Class, the figure of merit has increased in the cases of the 2nd-10th, 2nd-21st, and 2nd-24th—and in the 3rd-60th Rifles and 45th Regiment, the decrease is so small, as in point of fact to indicate improvement.

The shooting of the Native Army as shown by the Returns, is good, but it appears necessary to call attention to the number of non-exercised men which is generally high, and in some cases extremely so :—

GENERAL ORDERS
BY HIS EXCELLENCY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF.

HEAD QUARTERS, OOTACAMUND, 15th September 1870.

No. 100.—The following General Order by His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief in India is re-published :—

Adjutant-General's Office, Head Quarters, Simla, 3rd August 1870.

No. 193.

Cholera—Sanitary—Epidemics.—With the sanction of Government the following revised rules regarding the measures to be adopted on the outbreak of cholera amongst British* Troops, are published in supersession of all former orders on the subject.

Military Department letters No. 640, dated 30th June 1870, and No. 492, dated 25th July 1870, to Quartermaster-General.

II. Rules regarding the measures to be adopted on the appearance of small-pox among British or Native troops, are given in Section V. attached hereto.

SECTION I.

PRECAUTIONS NECESSARY IN ANTICIPATION OF THE APPEARANCE OF CHOLERA.

Necessity for constant attention to the sanitary condition of the station.

The outbreak of cholera is often so sudden and virulent, that all precautionary measures must be taken before-hand. Experience has shown that, like many other diseases, the extent of its diffusion is in no small degree dependent on local in-sanitary conditions, and it is therefore essential that every station should be preserved in a state of constant preparation to meet a danger which may come at any time. The personal cleanliness of the men is a matter of much consequence as a preventive measure.

Increased vigilance demanded if cholera threatens.

2. General and other Officers in command should at all times give their utmost attention to the conservancy and general sanitary condition of a station. If an outbreak appears probable, every ordinary precaution should be attended to with increased vigilance, but if the disease has actually appeared in the cantonment or its vicinity, more harm than good is likely to arise from any attempts at improvement which may then be made. This is not the time to cleanse foul drains or to remove nuisances which may have hitherto been neglected, and such possible sources of disease should, in these circumstances, be left undisturbed.

Duties of Staff Surgeon and Cantonment Magistrate as regards the Bazaars.

3. Whenever cholera is to be apprehended, the Staff Surgeon and Cantonment Magistrate should keep a special watch on the condition of the bazaars, and any case of cholera should be immediately reported to the Officer Commanding the station. The register of deaths should be carefully scrutinized.

Precautionary measures in Barracks.

4. Especial care should be taken to prevent crowding in barracks and hospitals, and, when considered advisable during the hot season, a portion of the men should be permitted to sleep in the outer verandahs, or in tents pitched for the purpose in the vicinity of the barracks. If cholera threatens, even though the men may have the full regulated amount of space, they should be spread out as much as possible, advantage being taken of any spare buildings which can be conveniently employed.

5. The early treatment of premonitory symptoms is of very great importance, and of these looseness of the bowels is the chief. At seasons, therefore, when cholera threatens, and still more so when it is more than usually prevalent, Commanding Officers should give the most precise orders on this subject, and see that measures are taken for paying the most vigilant attention to the health of the men in barracks, and for treating there, or in observation wards entirely separate from the hospital, all slight cases of diarrhœa or other disease which, if neglected, might pass into cholera. As the men during cholera time have a natural dread of going into hospital, and are apt on this account to conceal the early symptoms in order to escape being sent there, it is of importance that every facility for the immediate treatment of diarrhœa should be afforded them in barracks. Non-Commissioned Officers in each room should accordingly be provided with suitable medicines, care being taken that the proportion of opium or any other dangerous drug should be small.

Sanitary measures necessary when new buildings are being carried on.

6. Whenever new buildings are being carried on, it is most important, with regard to the health of their future occupants, that the ground and water in the neighbourhood should be protected from pollution. Special care must be taken that proper conservancy arrangements are organized for workmen, coolies, &c., and that the orders are strictly enforced. The workmen should not be allowed to sleep in or about barracks and other public buildings under construction. They can generally find shelter in the neighbouring city or bazaars; but in exceptional cases, where no such facilities exist, temporary huts should be erected for them outside the boundary pillars.

Communication with infected localities to be prevented.

7. If cholera appears among the Native population in the neighbourhood, communication with the infected locality should, as far as possible, be prevented. The same principle should be acted upon on all occasions during the continuance of the disease; for frequent communication with places where the disease is prevalent, will always be likely to cause alarm and to produce bad results. As one valuable means of attaining this object, the provision of stores attached to the regimental canteen should be encouraged, so that soldiers and their families may be able to supply their wants without going to the city or bazaars.

* NOTE.—The same principles as are contained in these Rules should govern the measures to be taken when cholera appears among Native Troops; but as the disease rarely attacks them with any great severity, it is left to the Military and Medical authorities on the spot to determine in their case how far the procedure herein prescribed ought to be adopted under the particular circumstances.

Management of Native Soldiers returning from leave.

8. With the same object, native soldiers rejoining from leave, or otherwise returning from a part of the country in which cholera was prevailing at the time of their residing in it or passing through it, should not be allowed to rejoin their regiments until it has been shown that they are free from the disease. This can easily be done by pitching a tent for their temporary accommodation outside cantonments when required.

Military and Sanitary Authorities to make themselves acquainted with the country in the neighbourhood of their stations.

9. Officers Commanding Divisions, Districts or Stations, as well as all Sanitary Officers, will make themselves thoroughly acquainted with the ground in the neighbourhood of their stations to the extent of 20 miles, with a view to the selection of sites for encampments in the event of cholera appearing, as well as to such measures being taken as they may deem advisable to remove or counteract any probable source of disease.

Officer of the Quartermaster General's Department attached to the command to prepare plan of the neighbouring country.

10. The Officer of the Quartermaster General's Department attached to each command will prepare a plan of the required extent of country, on a scale of one inch to the mile, with the different encamping grounds marked on it, so that the troops may be placed under canvas without delay, whenever such a measure is considered advisable.

Points to be attended to in choosing encamping grounds.

11. In selecting these encampments, enquiry should be made into the previous character of the neighbourhood with regard to liability to cholera or exemption from it. The ground should, when possible, be high, with natural facilities for drainage with a plentiful supply of good water, and, if possible, easy of access. Although rank vegetation is objectionable, the presence of large trees should be considered advantageous, because they add to the salubrity of the air, and because their shade will be valuable.

Number and situation of such grounds.

12. The circumstances of different cantonments vary so much that no definite rule can be laid down either as regards the number of such encamping grounds or their situations, but it is very desirable that several such places should be selected, and that their distance from cantonments should vary, some being close at hand and others further off.

Selection can best be made in the rainy season.

13. The greatest care is necessary in selecting good sites, and this can only be properly done, during those days in the rainy season when sudden and heavy falls of rain afford ready and reliable proof as to the real suitability of any spot for a camp. The selection should be made in communication with the local Civil authorities, whose knowledge of the locality will enable them readily to point out the most eligible site.

The use of selected camps obligatory, except when suitable buildings are available.

14. When sites for camps have been selected and approved by competent authority, care must be taken that they are always kept in a fit state for occupation, and it must be understood that, in the event of the troops going under canvas, these are the places which, as a general rule, are to be used. If however, during the hot and rainy seasons, any buildings entirely separate and away from cantonments are available, they should be used in preference to placing men in camp, especially when the ground is either covered with water, or when it is drying up in the months of August and September.

Encamping grounds on great lines of communication are objectionable.

15. The existing encamping grounds, which are ordinarily used by troops on the march, are very commonly situated upon great lines of communication, and are, therefore, objectionable, for bodies of men supposed to be infected with disease ought always to be isolated as much as possible. For the same reason, if the supply of good water and other circumstances admit of a choice, the vicinity of a village, and especially of any large village should be avoided.

And should only be resorted to when no others are available.

16. It may sometimes happen that these encamping grounds must be resorted to, either because no other places suitable in themselves can be found, or because during the rainy season they are the only ones easily accessible; but, when it is possible, ground not in the vicinity of great thoroughfares should be preferred.

Expense of preparing the encamping grounds need be very little.

17. In some instances a slight expenditure may occasionally be requisite in clearing the ground, in improving its drainage, in increasing or improving the water-supply, or in making it easy of access, and these, especially the two first, are matters of very great importance, which should receive frequent and careful attention. If ground be judiciously chosen, the expense need be very little.

Construction of earthen platforms not considered generally necessary.

18. As the sites will be selected almost with the certainty of their being required during the rainy season, they must be in themselves tolerably high and well-drained; the construction, therefore, of raised earthen platforms at these camps is not, as a rule, considered necessary, but where the nature of the ground is such that a dry site cannot otherwise be obtained for pitching the tents, the circumstances should be specially reported to the Quartermaster General, and sanction solicited for any such works of this nature as may be deemed advisable.

Selection of encamping grounds on the line of railway.

19. In all Divisions or Districts on the line of railway, encamping grounds, in addition to those already referred to, will be selected in suitable localities within 50 or 70 miles of Military Cantonments on these lines, in order that, should it be considered expedient, regiments or detachments may proceed thence by rail in the hope of getting clear of the radius within which the epidemic may have pronounced itself. In selecting these grounds the general principles already laid down should be adhered to, but as carriage from the line to the encampment may frequently be a matter of difficulty, the spots chosen should not be further than one or two miles from the railway, and if possible, in its immediate vicinity.

SECTION II.

MEASURES TO BE ADOPTED ON APPEARANCE OF CHOLERA.

General preparations.

20. On cholera appearing, either in the neighbouring villages, or in the cantonments, the authorities must be prepared for immediate action; every ordinary sanitary precaution must continue to receive increased attention and every necessary measure prepared for placing the troops under canvas, should this be required. Everything must, as far as possible, be considered before-hand, so that, when the necessity occurs, there may be no doubt regarding the course to be pursued, and no reason for delay. The most suitable encamping grounds must be decided on, the vicinity of places in which cholera is prevalent being of course scrupulously avoided. General and other Officers in command should act in anticipation of sanction on their own responsibilty, and on the advice of the senior Medical Officer, reporting fully at the same time to the Qurtermaster General, for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, the measures they may have adopted to arrest the progress of the disease.

Preparatory Camp.

21. If cholera has been prevalent in the neighbourhood, and there is therefore reason to fear that it may attack the troops, a preparatory camp should at once be formed. This need not ordinarily be done until the disease has actually appeared in the cantonment; but if more than one case occur among the European soldiers or their families under such circumstances as have been above-stated, the formation of the preparatory camp should be considered Imperative. Tents should be pitched at the nearest selected ground, which, if possible, should not be further distant than two or three miles from the cantonments, so that all may be in readiness for a move in case it may be necessary. The size of this camp will, of course, depend on the strength of the garrison, and other circumstances. In some cases, it will be advisable to provide for a proportion of the whole garrison, in others only for part of a particular regiment or battery. The exact size of the camp must be decided by the local authorities after a full consideration of all the facts and of the amount of danger to be anticipated. The previous history of the station as regards cholera will afford valuable data on this point.

All unnecessary alarm should be prevented.

22. All unnecessary alarm among the troops or the community should be prevented, yet every arrangement should, under the authority of the Officer Commanding, be made by the Commissariat Department in connection with the Civil authorities, for providing the carriage required to convey tents and baggage to and from the encamping grounds or railway stations, so that it may be at once available in case of its being required.

Military Authorities to send to other stations intelligence regarding outbreak and progress of cholera.

23. It is of the utmost importance that every station should receive notice of the possible approach of danger, and whenever cholera shows itself at a station or in a district, the fact must be at once reported by telegraph, when practicable, to the neighbouring stations. Information must also be sent from time to time of the progress or cessation of the disease, any circumstances being noticed, the knowledge of which may appear likely to be useful at other stations. These reports may be always made in a few words, and need give but little trouble.

Military and Civil authorities to communicate freely with each other regarding outbreak and progress of cholera.

24. All information received by the Military authorities should be at once communicated by them to the Chief Civil authorities of the District, who in their turn must be held responsible for obtaining immediate notice of the outbreak of cholera in their jurisdiction, and of communicating the fact to the Military authorities without delay.

Transmission of information need cause no alarm.

25. The transmission of information regarding cholera need cause no alarm. If it be thought necessary, the reports may be considered confidential, but it is believed that this will seldom or never be desirable. The knowledge that the attack of the disease is considered possible will be far more likely to produce beneficial than mischievous results, and the belief that the authorities are alive to the danger, and prepared to meet it, will tend to allay rather than to increase unnecessary alarm.

Utmost unanimity in all Departments and hearty co-operation with the Civil authorities essential.

26. The utmost unanimity is essential in all Departments to give effect to the above recommendations; all should work cordially for the public good and in constant communication with the Civil authorities, whose hearty co-operation is especially needed with regard to the supply of carriage. They should use every lawful means to prevent delay in obtaining carriage for the troops as the loss even of a few hours in moving troops away from a station may lead to most serious consequences. On all occasions every use should be made of the moveable column carriage. All movements of troops and changes of camping grounds should be at once reported to the Civil authority of the District.

Telegraphic communication to be made daily to the Quarter master-General during the continuance of cholera.

27. On the appearance of cholera at any station, and during its continuance, the officer in command of that station is to report daily, by telegraph, when possible, to the Quartermaster-General, for the Commander-in-Chief's information, giving the number of admissions into hospital, the class of persons attacked, and the number of deaths in each corps at the station. Directions to be observed in despatching telegraphic messages are given in Appendix A.

Every effort to be made to provide means of healthy amusement and occupation for the Soldiers.

28. Special attention should be paid to everything which can tend to the improvement of the general health of the men. Every effort should be made to relieve them from duties which cause needless exposure and fatigue, and especially to avoid night duty, so far as this may be possible with due regard to military considerations; to ensure that their food is wholesome, and their clothing appropriate; and to promote every means of healthy amusement and occupation.

Use of spirituous liquors to be guarded against.

29. It often occurs that soldiers, on a visitation of cholera, indulge in the use of spirituous liquors, under the impression that they are a preventive against the disease. Medical authorities unanimously condemn this baneful practice as a certain promoter of the disease, and Commanding Officers should therefore exert their influence in every way to prevent it.

Abandonment of buildings in which one or more cases of cholera has appeared, and arrangements for accommodation of the inmates.

30. On a case of cholera occurring in any building occupied by European troops, the room, or portion of the building in which it occurred, should be IMMEDIATELY vacated, and, except for the purpose of purifying it, no one should be allowed to enter it,—if the whole building can be left, it will be still better. This is laid down as an absolute rule; for, although individual cases of cholera sometimes occur when there is no reason for anticipating an outbreak, instant removal from an infected spot is the best safeguard; and besides, it is necessary that the room or building in which the disease has shown itself should be vacated for the purpose of being purified. When men, under the above circumstances, are removed from a building supposed to be infected, they must be kept separate, so far as may be possible, from the men among whom the disease has not shown itself, and, in arranging for their accommodation, care must be taken that there shall be no overcrowding either of them or of others. Should no separate buildings be available, it is desirable that they be placed under canvas.

31. In carrying out this rule, it is not, however, necessary that the tents should be pitched in one of the encamping grounds. They may be placed in some convenient spot in the cantonment; and where only an individual case has occurred among the body of men so removed, this arrangement will, as a rule, be the best which can be adopted.

Purification of vacated buildings.

32. When any case of cholera occurs, even though it may be but a solitary case, the room in which the disease has shown itself must be thoroughly purified without the least delay. The walls, floors and punkahs should be scraped and white-washed; the wood-work should be subjected to the action of hot caustic lime-wash, furniture and ropes washed, punkah-fringes boiled, and generally everything possible done for the purification of the building; the latrine, urinary, and wash-house used by the man who was attacked must be instantly closed, and their use must not be permitted until they have been completely purified. Chloride of lime, Condy's fluid, or some other chemical disinfectant should be freely used. All filth and rubbish from the latrine must be buried at a distance, and all vessels used for their removal must be carefully cleaned and disinfected at the place where the refuse is deposited. Until the purification of the buildings is complete, the troops must, under no circumstances, be allowed to re-occupy them.

Buildings vacated on account of cholera when to be re-occupied.

33. Ten days after removal, and when the room or building which was vacated has been purified in the manner above described, it may be re-occupied, provided no other circumstances have occurred meantime which may render such re-occupation undesirable. On this point the opinion of the principal Medical Officer on the spot must be taken.

Procedure to be adopted on the occurrence of further cases.

34. If a second case of cholera appears among the particular body so removed, they should be again moved, and the infected building or tent which they occupied should be at once vacated and purified. If a third case occur among this particular body within one week from the occurrence of the first case, then the men composing it should be immediately removed from the station to the preparatory camp.

35. The procedure here laid down, if carried out with promptitude in successive instances, will often be found sufficient to arrest the further spread of the disease; but when cases occur in several buildings, either simultaneously or at short intervals, and especially if there be at the same time any unusual prevalence of diarrhœa, an outbreak of cholera is seriously to be apprehended, and it will, under such circumstances, be advisable at once to remove the inmates of infected buildings to the encampment outside cantonments.

36. It is to be remembered that, when an outbreak threatens, removal from the infected locality is the only remedy in which any confidence can be placed, and that the earlier the movements are carried out, the greater will be the chance of success.

As a rule only such buildings to be vacated as have actually presented cases.

37. Cholera evidently attaches itself to particular localities. The principle to be borne in mind, therefore, is that the particular locality in which cholera shows itself must be looked upon as dangerous, that it must be immediately abandoned and all communication with it stopped, and that the body of men who have been exposed to danger by their occupation of the place in which the cause of the disease is presumed to be, present, must be separated from the rest of the troops. If, for example, this body consists only of the inmates of some one building, the measure need only be applied to them; if some particular battery, troop, or company be attacked, it will be similarly dealt with. A whole regiment or the whole of the troops at the station need only be sent into camp when it is found that the measures already adopted have not stopped the progress of the disease, or there is reason to fear they will be insufficient. As a rule, it is necessary only to vacate such buildings as have actually presented cases.

Detachments to be kept separate.

38. When separate detachments are moved into camp in the manner indicated, it is advisable that they should be kept distinct as far as possible. Officers commanding stations are authorized to call freely for medical aid from other stations, districts, or divisions free from cholera. And, where a separate hospital establishment cannot be assigned to each party, it may be convenient to place a hospital in some central position not far removed from two or more camps, the sick from which may be treated together. Such arrangements must be left to the decision of the local authorities. A central cholera hospital should on no account be established in cantonments for the reception of cases from camp and other quarters.

Special preparations necessary on appearance of cholera at stations on the line of Railway.

39. On the first appearance of cholera at any of the stations on the line of Railway, intimation should be given to the Railway officials of the probabilities of a movement being required, in order that the necessary trains may be in readiness, so that if any move be decided upon, it may be carried out without delay. Tents should also be forwarded by rail and pitched at the selected camp.

No move by rail to be made without sanction from Army Head Quarters.

40. As however all stations on the line of Railway are in telegraphic communication with Army Head Quarters, no move by rail should be made without the sanction of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, obtained through the Quartermaster-General, every preparation being meanwhile made in anticipation, and the troops, if necessary, being moved temporarily into a convenient camp.

All movements by rail to be made during the day.

41. In travelling by rail it will be better to select the day than the night. On no account are cases of cholera or choleraic diarrhœa to be placed in a Railway carriage, and any persons who have come in contact with such cases should have their clothes fumigated with sulphur, and their hands and other uncovered portions of the body washed with a solution of McDougal's disinfecting powder before starting.

Camps at station of departure and arrival.

42. In some cases to avoid fatigue it may be advisable to encamp the men close to the station of departure, so that they may start by rail in the early morning, and they may encamp again for a night close to the station of arrival before going on to the selected ground next morning.

Trenches should be dug at convenient intervals on the line.

43. Previous to detachments proceeding by rail, the military authorities must arrange for trenches being dug in the vicinity of one or two of the stations at convenient intervals on the journey, so that all discharges may be received in them. The troops on no account should be allowed to use the Railway Station latrines.

Purification of carriages occupied by troops.

44. After occupation by the troops, and in the presence of the Railway authorities, all the carriages, which must be only those of the 2nd and 3rd class, are to be washed under regimental arrangements with boiling water, containing in each gallon a wine glass full of carbolic acid, after which sulphur should be burned in each, and the doors and windows kept closed on the sulphur fumes for two hours. These disinfectants must always accompany the troops, and their supply be ensured by the medical authorities.

Conservancy of camps.

45. As the movement will be made in the hope that the troops may be in this manner carried out of the infected area, the camp will probably be occupied for some time, and the strictest possible attention should be paid to the conservancy, trenches should be dug to leeward, tents pitched over them, and all filth instantly covered with earth. A similar system should be adopted for the camp followers and other natives. The strictest regulations must be laid down and enforced by the Commanding Officer to ensure attention to this all-important point.

Arrangement of the camp.

46. In arranging the camp, the tents should be spread over a large area, and any military considerations or regulations in regard to distances between tents, should give place to the desirability of allowing free ventilation so far as this can be done with convenience. Tents should not be pitched immediately under trees, as they prevent the free access of air at night, and during the rains prevent their drying.

Number of men in a tent.

47. As a rule, not more than eight men should be placed in each tent.*

Immediate benefit from change not always to be expected.

48. Immediate benefit is not always to be expected from the movement into camp, and the occurrence of a few cases of cholera ought not to be looked upon as proof that the change has proved a failure. It is clear that men often take with them the seeds of cholera, and although the immediate cessation of the disease is by no means uncommon, it is unreasonable to suppose that this will be always the case. Even if the first apparent result be an aggravation of the disease, this need cause no discouragement.

Removal of camps—marches to be short.

49. If the disease continues to be virulent for more than three or four days, a fresh encamping ground may be tried, either on the line of rail, or by a short movement, at right angles if possible to the prevailing wind, or track of the disease. The marches should always be short, if possible, not more than two or three miles; movements should generally be made in the morning, in time to admit of the new ground being reached soon after sunrise, but if the march is very short, it may be made in the evening, whenever the delay of a night is regarded as an unadvisable risk. The men will be supplied with hot tea or coffee before starting; they will invariably wear flannel belts, and every precaution must be taken to prevent their remaining in damp or wet clothes, especially when the movements are made by rail. It is of the utmost importance that fatigue and exposure should be avoided, and everything possible should be done to keep the men cheerful and in good spirits.

* This rule is to be read in connection with No. 66. It is by no means intended that every regiment should be provided with a double supply of tents. The necessity for vacating all the buildings in a station which are occupied by the troops will rarely occur. Experience has shown that many stations have not suffered from cholera with any severity for years, and to provide extra tents for them would therefore be unnecessary. Again, there are other stations which are on the line of rail, and which can thus be supplied with extra camp equipage if required on very short notice. In such stations, whenever cholera appears, notice should be given to the nearest magazine, that tents may perhaps be needed; and when it seems that those on the spot are likely to prove inadequate, they can be telegraphed for. In a third class of stations there is an arsenal on the spot.

Isolation of camp hospitals.

50. If any case of cholera or diarrhœa occurs in camp, isolation and disinfection should be had recourse to, and all communication between the camp and any neighbouring station or village should be interdicted. The hospitals in particular should be isolated to as great an extent as may be practicable.

Separate hospitals in Camp.

51 When all the troops in a station are sent into camp on account of an outbreak of cholera, all ordinary sick capable of being removed without evident danger should go into camp also; the few patients who cannot possibly be moved should be transferred to one small general hospital, which will usually be found sufficient for all those who must remain in cantonments. Separate hospitals should always be organized in the camps, and under no other circumstances should patients be brought for treatment from the camps to a hospital in cantonments.

Cots to be taken into camp.

52. When considered desirable by the principal Medical Officer on the spot, cots are to be taken into camp for all the men, so that there may be no necessity for their sleeping on damp ground. In the event of carriage being insufficient for the regular cots, the Commissariat Department will usually be able to arrange for the supply of light Native charpoys, which answer admirably. Should the season of the year not necessitate cots being taken, straw will be supplied, on requisition, by the Commissariat Department. If the troops travel by rail, the straw can either be taken in the train, or be furnished by the Commissariat at the selected camp.

Water-supply.

53. The utmost attention must be paid to the drinking water. At encamping grounds which have been frequently used, and which are situated upon great thoroughfares, caution will be especially necessary, and, if considered desirable, temporary wells must be sunk, so that there may be no danger of water contaminated by organic matter being supplied to the troops. As a precautionary measure the water used for drinking should be boiled; and as the taste of water subjected to this process is incipid, the reason for this proceeding should be carefully explained to the men. It is left to the local Military and Medical authorities to decide whether the filters belonging to British regiments are to be taken with them when the troops are moved into camp on account of cholera or not.

Wood fires to be maintained when necessary.

54. Wood fires may be maintained to the windward of camp when considered necessary by the Medical authorities.

Return of troops to cantonments.

55. It not unfrequently happens that troops are allowed to return far too soon to cantonments or to buildings which have been infected with cholera, and the consequence is the re-appearance or aggravation of the disease. The return to cantonments must only be allowed with the greatest caution. No part of the cantonment from which the disease has not altogether disappeared should be re-occupied. Under no circumstances can the re-occupation of any building which has been attacked by cholera be allowed, unless at least ten days have elapsed since the last case of cholera in the building, nor until every measure for the purification of the building, as laid down in paragraph 32, has been carried out. The prevalence of fever or other diseases in camp is no reason for returning to cantonments while danger from cholera remains. It must be accepted as the lesser evil of the two.

All movements to be communicated by post to the Quartermaster-General on the day of occurrence.

56. Officers in command of stations are required to communicate, by post to the Quartermaster-General on the same day the occurrence takes place, all movements of troops including changes of camping grounds consequent on cholera or other sickness, stating the number and class of persons attacked, the number of deaths, and any other matter appertaining to the Quartermaster-General's Department.

Weekly communications to be made to the Quartermaster-General during the continuance of cholera.

57. During the continuance of cholera at any station, the officer in command is to report by post weekly to the Quartermaster-General, for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief (with respect to the step to be taken for the mitigation of the evil), on the general sanitary condition of the station, including bazaars, and on the health of the population around on a considerable radius. The report should state in detail the number of cases, the class of persons attacked, the number who may have died, and the general character of the disease, whether virulent or not.

Returns required from Regiments of British Cavalry and Infantry, and Batteries of Royal Artillery.

58. When cholera appears at a station, the following returns are to be kept by regiments of British Cavalry and Infantry, and batteries of Royal Artillery:—No. 1 is to be furnished daily by Medical Officers to the Officer Commanding the regiment or battery, as the case may be, for the information of the Officer commanding the station, and a duplicate to the Deputy Inspector-General of Hospitals, Her Majesty's British Forces. At the termination of the epidemic the Nominal Register (Form No. 2) is to be submitted to the Deputy Inspector-General of Hospitals, and by him forwarded for the information of the Inspector-General.

Surgeon in Medical charge.

Return required from Regiments of Native Cavalry and Infantry.

59. From regiments of Native Cavalry and Infantry Return No. 1 only will be required.

Special Report required on disappearances of disease.

60. On the disappearance of the disease, Officers Commanding Divisions and Districts in which cholera has recently occurred among the troops, are required to submit a special report (in duplicate) to the Quartermaster-General, for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, showing, in detail, the number of cases, the class of persons attacked, and the number of each who have died; the general character of the disease, and whether any and what extra expense was caused to Government by movement into camp, &c.

Return required showing the further progress of the disease among the inmates of any particular building that has been vacated.

61. In all cases where buildings have been evacuated on account of the appearance of cholera, a very careful record of the further progress of the epidemic among the individual body of men, women, and children who occupied each building so vacated, should accompany the above report, prepared according to the following form:—

Progress Report of cholera at——————in Her Majesty's——regiment, submitted in accordance with No. 61 of the Revised Rules regarding measures to be adopted on outbreak of cholera.

Station.	Corps.	Number or name of building.	Number and detail of occupants.	Date of first case.	Date of evacuation of building.	Number of cases before evacuation.	Number of cases among those occupants after evacuation.	Date of re-occupation.

Surgeon in charge.

Commanding Regiment.

Information required as to size and relative position of huts by occupied Native Troops attacked by cholera.

62. When cholera has appeared among Native troops, full particulars are required as to the size and relative position of the huts of each Native Regiment which suffered from the disease; the exact accommodation allotted to the several ranks should be shown, and the nature and description of the several buildings should be specified.

Report of any expense incurred for hiring bungalows, &c., to be made at once.

63. When it has been found necessary to incur any expense, such as the hiring of bungalows, &c., for the benefit of the troops during the prevalence of cholera, a special report, giving every particular, should be at once made to the Quartermaster-General, for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief and of the Government.

Tents are to be retained for Regimental purposes only.

64. Tents belonging to a regiment are to be retained in all cases for regimental purposes, and are not to be lent to the Civil authorities for the use of prisoners in the event of epidemics breaking out in jails, or on other occasions.

Oldest and least serviceable tents to be used for cholera cases.

65. When tents are required for cholera cases among the troops, the oldest and least serviceable must be selected, provided they are fit for the purpose.

Supply of camp equipage.

66. In most cases the established proportion of camp equipage will be sufficient to accommodate that portion of the garrison which it may be necessary to move into camp. Extra camp equipage should, therefore, not be indented for unless the epidemic should prove severe, and render it probable that a large proportion than half the garrison may have to be removed from cantonments. When the necessity for this has been admitted, Commanding Officers are to indent on the nearest magazine for such additional camp equipage as they may require; the indents to be countersigned by the Deputy Inspector-General of the Circle, or the senior Medical Officer on the spot, and by the Officer Commanding the Station.

Hospital Management.

67. The question of hospital management during the prevalence of cholera is one of urgent importance. No sanitary precaution must for a moment be neglected; no approach to anything like crowding must be permitted; all unimportant cases, the treatment of which in hospital is not essential, should be discharged; every case in hospital must be carefully watched; and it must be borne in mind that in very numerous instances it is in the hospital, among patients under treatment for other diseases, that cholera first appears. Precautionary measures in the hospitals must be commenced, whenever it may be possible, before the actual appearance of the disease; and, as laid down in paragraph 5, all slight symptoms of disease must be treated in the barracks, or in observation wards entirely separate from the hospital.

Separate temporary hospital to be prepared for cholera cases.

68. If no separate building can be set apart as a temporary hospital, tents should be pitched for the purpose in some convenient place at a little distance. Every arrangement must be made, so that if a case of cholera should occur, it may be immediately removed there, and not be treated in the regular hospital. For the treatment of patients suffering from cholera, tents are unobjectionable at all seasons of the year. The air in a tent is less likely to become contaminated, and the ground can be changed as often as may be desirable. Medicines, and everything considered requisite for the treatment of the disease, should be prepared in the temporary hospital, and a portion of the establishment should be kept in readiness to be transferred there, so that if a case of cholera occurs, the means will exist for separate treatment and subsequent communication with the regular hospital will be unnecessary.

Prevention of fresh cases more important than medical treatment.

69. If, in spite of every effort, the sub-division of hospital establishments should lead to difficulty in the medical treatment of the disease, this must be accepted as the lesser of two evils; for it must be always remembered that the main object during an epidemic of cholera is the prevention of fresh cases, much more than the treatmnet of those who have already been attacked; that prevention is often possible but that treatment is almost useless after virulent symptoms have appeared.

Separation of cholera patients and abandonment of hospital buildings if cholera occur in them.

70. No patient attacked by cholera should ever, under any circumstances, be placed in the same ward with patients suffering from other diseases. If a patient in hospital suffering from another disease be attacked with cholera, or if a case occur among the hospital attendants or others, the same system must be adopted as has been ordered in the event of cholera appearing in other buildings occupied by troops. The ward in which the case has shown itself must be IMMEDIATELY abandoned, and every precaution laid down with respect to other buildings must be taken.

Funeral parties.

71. During the prevalence of cholera funeral parties should be discontinued, and the band should not play at the burial either of Officers or men.

Removal of cholera excreta.

72. Every effort should be made, during the actual treatment of the disease, to get rid, as completely as possible, of all the discharges from the sick or to render them innocuous. The vessels in which they are received should contain some powerful disinfectant; they should never be emptied into the usual receptacle, or carried to the common latrine, but taken away separately, and the contents thrown into a trench dug for the purpose and reserved for this use. A man should be constantly employed in the duty of throwing fresh earth over all filth the moment it is deposited, and all vessel should be thoroughly cleaned at the trench into which the filth is thrown.

Supply of extra articles of diet during prevalence of epidemics.

73. During the prevalence of cholera at a station, such changes in the diet and such other medical comforts are to be allowed to the troops as the Deputy Inspector-General of the Circle or other principal Medical Officer may deem expedient. In directing these comforts to be freely supplied, particularly to the women and children, the senior Medical Officer on the spot will be required to exercise a wise discretion to avoid unnecessary expenditure, and to see that the indulgence is not abused.

Employment of Native servants in attendance on cholera patients.

74. On the occasion of an outbreak of cholera at a station, the entertainment of Natives to attend European soldiers in hospital suffering from that disease is authorized to such an extent as the local medical authorities may consider necessary—the men being provided on requisition by the Commissariat Department.

European soldiers to be employed on Hospital duty as seldom as possible.

75. When the employment of European soldiers as orderlies in hospitals during the prevalence of cholera is considered unavoidable, men will be selected, as far as possible, by volunteering in such numbers as the medical authorities may deem necessary. The complete tour of duty shall in no case exceed 24 hours, and no man who is not in good health shall be thus employed. No orderly is to be kept in actual attendance in the hospital for a longer period than four hours, at one time, nor is he to have a less interval of rest than six hours between successive tours of duty, whatever be the period of attendance in the ward. A room entirely separate from the hospital buildings must be provided for the accommodation of men relieved from attendance on the sick, in which they can remain until their tour of duty again comes round. Men not upon actual duty are not to be allowed to remain in the hospital. The strictest precautions must be taken to prevent men employed in the hospital from making use of the latrines, urinaries, or wash-houses used by the sick in hospital. The utmost care must be taken that the hands of all attendants on cholera patients be scrupulously cleaned by means on sand and water containing some disinfectant, or other thoroughly efficacious means, and that if the cloths of any of the men should become soiled by cholera discharges, they be at once taken off and thoroughly purified. Every man employed as a hospital orderly on attendance upon cholera patients is to be provided with tea or coffee before and after each tour of duty.

Female nurses for attendance on women and children.

76. For attendance on women and children suffering from cholera, Native female nurses should, if possible, be procured.

Removal of the sick and of the dead.

77. Careful arrangements must be made for the removal of the sick from the barracks to the hospital, and on no account should the doolie employed for this purpose be made use of for the removal of the dead.

Purification of bedding and clothing.

78. All bedding and clothing used by cholera patients which can be subjected to this process must be immediately purified by being boiled for a quarter of an hour in water. There is no difficulty in boiling such articles as bed tape (newar) blankets and linen. The bug-boilers offer facilities for boiling the cots. Rezais and other such articles which can never be thoroughly cleansed should be burned.

Purification of cots and pukah-fringes.

79. Cots and punkah-fringes which have been used by cholera patients, or in wards set apart for them, should be subjected, in a similar way, to the action of boiling water, when they are no longer required for such cases.

Purification of Tents.

80. Tents used by cholera patients, before being struck, should be disinfected by one or other of the following gaseous disinfectants,—chlorine, nitrous acid, or sulphurous acid, and then left exposed to the weather for ten days. Tents which have been used for cholera purposes in camps within cantonments should first be removed to an out-of-the-way but airy spot outside, and then subjected to the process of fumigation.

Burning only to be resorted to when thorough purification cannot be at once carried out.

81. It will only be necessary to burn such articles as bedding, body linen, cots and punkah-fringes when their thorough purification cannot be at once carried out in the manner above laid down, but with proper arrangements this destruction will rarely be required.

Rules applicable to women and children.

82. It is to be distinctly understood that the above rules are equally applicable to the women and children if cholera should appear in their quarters, and that they are to be as strictly carried out; but endeavours should always be made to assign available buildings to them, so that the necessity of moving them into camp may, if possible, be avoided.

Measures to be adopted on the appearance of cholera in the Sudder or Regimental Bazaar.

83. On the appearance of cholera or any other epidemic in the sudder or regimental bazaar of a station, arrangements should be made for the isolation and treatment of the cases. One or more grass huts should be placed on the outkirts of cantonments in a convenient and selected position, a fresh site being selected weekly, as the grounds becomes contaminated and proves a source of danger. Stringent orders should be issued to ensure all cases of the disease being sent to this isolated hospital for treatment.

Station Staff Surgeon to have charge of the hospitals for Natives.

1 Native Doctor.
1 Compounder.
1 Cook.
1 Bheesty.
2 Sweepers.
1 Doolie with 4 bearers.

84. The hospital will be under the medical charge of the Station Staff Surgeon, or other Medical Officer selected by the Duputy Inspector-General of Hospitals, and the establishment as per margin, to be increased if necessary, will be attached to it—the servants to be discharged on the subsidence of the epidemic.

Expenses to be defrayed from Cantonment Funds.

85. When cantonment funds can be made available, without withdrawing them from such measures of conservancy as may be considered of even more importance, all expenses incurred by the establishment of these temporary hospitals, including the dieting of the patients, if that be also involved, should be defrayed by them, the primary object of such funds being to secure the proper sanitary condition of a station in every possible way.

Record of buildings and camps in which cholera occurs.

86. As experience in such matters is of great value, a careful record should be preserved in the Brigade or Station Staff Office showing the number of cases occurring in each building, and the number of attacks in the different camps.

SECTION III.

OTHER POINTS REQUIRING THE SPECIAL ATTENTION OF MEDICAL OFFICERS.

Investigation into the circumstances of the first case.

87. In any epidemic, it is of the greatest importance to ascertain all the circumstances connected with the appearance of the first case, and a very careful investigation should be made at once in order to discover, if possible, whether it was due to importation. Such enquiries if delayed are usually unsatisfactory.

Condition of camp followers.

88. The condition of the camp followers, of the punkah coolies and others who come about the barracks should receive attention, and orders should be issued that any suspicious cases occurring among them be reported, so that they may be at once investigated. With the assistance of the Non-commissioned Officers, such cases of sickness should not escape detection. Arrangements should be made for the early treatment of those attacked either in camp or cantonments, and where the general cholera hospital for Natives is distant, measures should be adopted for attending to their wants on the spot. A careful note of all such seizures, and of the circumstances under which they occur, should be preserved.

Abolition of the term "choleraic dirrhœa.

89. In the forms now adopted, the term choleraic diarrhœa has been abolished. All such cases distinguished by rice-water evacuations should be returned as cholera.

Disuse of the words "sporadic" and "epidemic."

90. It is very desirable that the terms "sporadic" and "epidemic" should not be used in connection with reports of cases of cholera. There is no means of distinguishing between the two, and the exact significance of individual attacks can be known only when all the facts regarding the prevalence of the disease throughout the year have been ascertained and considered as a whole.

Cholera cases not to be returned as "discharged" until all symptoms of the disease have disappeared.

91. In some instances, cases of cholera, in which re-action has taken place have been discharged, and the fatal event which afterwards occurred recorded under the head of fever. This system produces great error in the statistics, and it ought on no account to be followed. No cases of cholera should be "discharged" until every symptom either directly or indirectly due to the disease has disappeared.

A lull in the number of cases not to lead to any relaxtion of precautionary measures.

92. When no cases of cholera have occurred for several days, an opinon is apt to prevail that the disease has disappeared, but it must be remembered that at certain seasons a lull is to be expected. This generally occurs in the early part of the monsoon. With regard to it no decided rule can yet be laid down, but it is important that the fact of there having been no cases for some time should not lead to any relaxation of the necessary precautions and preparations in anticipation of a further and generally more severe outbreak,

Effect of upper stories on proportion of attacks.

93. As it is important to ascertain the effect of upper stories in warding off attacks, a daily register in the annexed form should be kept :—

DATE.	Number occupying upper stories on that date.	Number of attacks in upper stories on that day.	Number occupying lower stories on that date.	Number of attacks in lower stories on that day.	* REMARKS.

* In the remarks, the case of any man lately on guard, or particulars regarding other influences which may have caused the attack, should be noted.

SECTION IV.

RESPONSIBILITY OF COMMANDING OFFICERS.

These rules to be carried out by the Officer Commanding the Station.

94. On the Officer Commanding the station will devolve the responsibility of having all the directions contained in these rules, as regards the evacuation and purification of buildings, the movements into camp and all other details, carefully carried out.

Discretionary powers of Officers in Command.

95. These rules, founded on the general experience of the past, must be considered as the guide on all ordinary occasions. As in outbreaks of Cholera, however, so much depends on the judgment and action of General and other Officers, they must exercise their own discretion whenever extraordinary emergencies or unforeseen circumstances occur, and, in consultation with the senior Medical Officer, must take upon themselves the responsibility of action incumbent on their position.

Whenever it may be considered advisable to deviate from the procedure prescribed in these rules, a special report explaining fully the reasons for so doing must be forwarded to the Quartermaster-General for the information of the Commander-in-Chief.

The following letter from the Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department, to the Quartermaster-General ; dated Simla, 25th July 1870, No. 492, is re-published :—

I am directed to acknowledge your letter No. 2729 of the 13th July 1870, regarding the disposal of Camp Equipage which has been used by small-pox patients, and with reference thereto, to acquaint you, for the information of the Right Honourable the Commander-in-Chief, that the Right Honourable the Governor-General in Council is pleased to approve of the Rules on the subject, a copy of which is now forwarded.

2. These rules should be issued as an addendum to the "revised rules regarding the measures to be adopted on the out-break of cholera among British Troops,"* which are now being published in a pamphlet form, and in which the following alterations should be made, viz :—

*Forwarded with my letter No. 640, dated 30th June 1870.

In Rule 30 the words "room or" to be omitted, and the words it is necessary that the inserted between the words "besides" and "building."

In Rule 53 the commas between the words "local military and" to be omitted:

In Rule 55 the words "or small-pox" to be omitted

Rule 80 to be altered as follows :—

Tents used by cholera patients, before being struck, should be disinfected by one or other of the following gaseous disinfectants,—chlorine, nitrous acid, or sulphurous acid, and then left exposed to the weather for ten days. Tents, which have been used for cholera purposes in camps within Cantonments, should first be removed to an out-of-the-way but airy spot outside, and then subjected to the process of fumigation.

In Rule 81, line two, the words "and tents" to be omitted.

3. I am also to forward copy of an appendix, which it is proposed to add to the Rules containing directions to be observed in despatching telegraphic messages regarding cholera.

No. 495.

Copy of the above and of its annexures forwarded to the Secretary to Government, Fort Saint George, Military Department, for the information of the Right Honorable the Governor in Council, in continuation of No. 643, dated 30th June 1870.

(By order.)

(Signed) W. M. LEES, Major,
Offg. Dy. Secy. to the Govt. of India.

SECTION V.

Rules regarding the measures to be adopted on the appearance of Small-pox among British or Native Troops.

I.—Whenever a case of small-pox appears among either British or Native troops, it should be immediately isolated, and all communication between the sick person and others, whether direct or indirect, should, as far as possible, be prevented.

II.—In some cantonments a building, no longer required for other purposes, and occupying an unfrequented site, has been set apart for the reception of small-pox cases, and whenever such a building is available, the case should be at once removed to it.

III.—In these cantonments where no such building exists, the case must be removed either to a tent, or to a grass hut.

IV.—As cases are most apt to occur in the hot months, a grass hut is in every way better suited for the purpose than a tent. If lined on the sides with a coating of mud, it affords very good protection.

V.—If, owing to the small number of sick in hospital or to other circumstances, a ward or other room well separated from the other patients or other persons, can be made available for the temporary reception of the case, there is no objection to its being treated there during the first day or two of the disease when the eruption is still advancing, and its power of spreading to a distance is comparatively limited. Time will thus be allowed for the preparation of a grass hut.

VI.—If this course should have been followed, the room temporarily occupied by the case should be immediately purified in the manner described in Rule 32 regarding cholera.

VII.—Whether a tent or grass hut is employed, it should be pitched in some secluded spot, and the shelter of trees, if possible, secured.

VIII.—If a tent is used, the oldest and least serviceable should be selected.

IX.—Good tents should never be employed for the purpose, except in very exceptional cases, which should in each instance be explained.

X.—Unless there is an immediate prospect of their being further required, tents or huts used by small-pox patients should be destroyed by fire, in presence of a responsible person, as soon as vacated.

XI.—If there is an immediate prospect of the tent or hut being again required, it should be purified in the manner described as suitable for buildings in Rule 32, for cholera. It should then be left standing with the sides and doors kept closely shut down.

XII.—Bedding and clothing, cots and punkah-fringes, should be thoroughly disinfected as described in Nos. 78, 79 and 81 for cholera.

APPENDIX A.

Directions to be observed in despatching Telegraphic Messages regarding cholera.

I.—The message should usually be despatched soon after 8 A.M., so as to agree with the morning state—Form No. 1 required by Rule No. 58.

II.—The number of cases and deaths among men, women and children in each regiment of Europeans at the station during the preceding 24 hours, should be stated separately.

III.—The number of cases and deaths in each Native regiment should also be stated.

IV.—Particulars regarding camp followers or the city and bazaars should be given only when they are important as indicating the advance or decline of the disease.

V.—All particulars regarding movement of troops should be included in the message, and the condition of each detachment in camp.

VI.—When there is no Telegraph Station in or near the cantonment attacked, the message should be sent by Post to the nearest Telegraph Station.*

* As, in such Stations, Telegraph Stamps are not generally procurable, Officers are required to adopt the procedure set forth in Notification dated Calcutta, 22nd December 1868, paragraph 3, General Order, dated 18th January 1869, namely :—

"Para. 3. Telegrams can be sent from out-stations by Post but they must be enclosed in registered covers ; at Stations where Telegraph Stamps are not procurable, they may be paid for by Postage Stamps at the rate of 17 annas to the rupee. In such cases, the Post Office registration receipt will take the place of the ordinary telegraph receipt. If any telegram be received insufficiently stamped, it will be returned bearing to the sender."

VII.—The following specimens of telegrams are appended for guidance :—

From—Allahabad. | To—Army Head Quarters.
From—Officer Commanding. | To—Quartermaster-General.

22nd March, one case, 58th Regiment, a soldier. Building vacated and disinfected.

25th March, twelve admissions from British and five from Native troops since yesterday's report.

58th Regiment, eight in new barracks, six deaths, two companies moved to Camp Jhosee. Affected building vacated. Reports from city and district more favourable.

"5. Breech-loading small-arm ammunition should not, however, be broken up without the special order of the Inspector-General of Ordnance and Magazines."

* "[Para. 2. A similar privilege may be extended to trained army schoolmistresses on duty in India, who may be declared by a Medical Board to be in such a state of ill health that a return to Europe is absolutely necessary for their recovery, but in all cases where it may be practicable, a change of residence in India should be tried before charging the revenues with the expense involved in sending persons of this class to England, and others from this country to replace them."

"2. In reply I am to acquaint you that the Right Honorable the Governor-General in Council concurs with the Government of Madras in the opinion that an army schoolmistress, sent on medical certificate to a station in India, should, according to the spirit of para. 2 of military despatch from the Secretary of State for India, No. 175, of 8th November 1860,* be allowed her travelling expenses.

GENERAL ORDERS

BY HIS EXCELLENCY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF.

HEAD QUARTERS, BANGALORE, 24th October 1870.

Soldiers—Discharge-documents—Instructions.

No. 118.—The following General Orders by His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief in India is re-published :—

Head Quarters, Simla, 10th September 1870.

The Commander-in-Chief has directed the publication of the following instructions regarding the discharge and the preparation of the discharge documents of soldiers of the British Forces. A copy will be placed before all Discharge Boards.

2. A Schedule, drawn up for the sake of convenience in the form of "Nominal Return" is attached; it prescribes the documents to be prepared for each man and for each party proceeding to the ports of embarkation, and the foot notes indicate what papers are to be forwarded to the Adjutant-General's Office* at Simla,† and to the Regimental Depôt. The instructions are intended to assist Commanding Officers in complying with the Regulations and to draw attention to the matters in which experience has shown that mistakes most frequently occur.

3. A Discharge Depôt has been formed at Chichester for the purpose of carrying out, with the least possible delay, the discharge of men (with the exception of invalids, who go to Netley,) arriving from abroad; and it is of the utmost importance that men should arrive with their documents in such a state as to effect the object for which this depôt was established.

4. The following section and paragraphs of the Queen's Regulations are to be carefully consulted and followed, excepting in such matters as are specially provided for by local orders :—

Queen's Regulations, paras. 445, ‡511, 517, 1324, ‡1408, 1510 and 1511; and section 28.

The War Office Forms named are invariably to be used unless they have not been introduced, and are consequently not procurable. In the latter case a note to this effect must be made on the return sent. No return is to be made out on less than a half-sheet of foolscap.

5. The embarkation of all soldiers for discharge out of India is effected between the 15th October and the 15th March, and no soldier is to be despatched from his regiment unless he can reach the port of embarkation by the latter date.

6. All men (not recommended for the long sea route) whose destination is the United Kingdom, and who are entitled to a passage at the public expense, will be sent to Bombay for embarkation under instructions from the Quartermaster-General.

7. All Invalids recommended for the long sea route will be sent to Chinsurah¶ under instructions from the Quartermaster-General.

8. All men proceeding to the Colonies, or who have to pay their own passages, will be sent to Chinsurah¶ Depôt after direct communication with the General Officer commanding the Presidency District in regard to their passages.‖

9. All soldiers, not being convicts in irons, who have been sentenced to undergo a term of imprisonment and on the expiry thereof to be discharged with ignominy, are to be sent to England by the overland service.

Insanes and military convicts in irons are not permitted to embark in Her Majesty's Indian Troops-ships, but will be sent, viâ Calcutta, to England by long sea route. The kits of insanes will be sent to the Commandant of the Chinsurah¶ Depôt. These kits will be available for the use of the men when embarked for England. Lists of kits forwarded will accompany the other discharge documents, (see G. O. 244 of 1869). Madras G. O. C. C. 5th October 1869.

10. All men for embarkation for England, whose period of service will be completed before the 15th March in each year, may be forwarded to Bombay, and may be embarked for England before their term of service has actually expired; but if proceeding to the Colonies, they must complete their term in this country, their final discharge being effected, before they leave India, at the Chinsurah¶ Depôt.

11. In the same manner men who will become eligible for a free discharge before the 15th March, the requisite authority for discharge having been obtained, may, if necessary, be embarked from Bombay for England before the time entitling them to a free discharge is actually completed, but as a rule such term should have expired before embarkation, as the loss of a good conduct badge may cause them to forfeit their title at the last moment.

12. The importance of submitting the applications for authority for discharge at a sufficiently early period, is apparent from the foregoing instructions, and it will be seen that in the case of men who will become eligible for free discharge at a late period of the season, the prospective authority is necessarily conditional on the soldier conducting himself properly, and thus fulfilling the conditions of discharge. Commanding Officers of regiments and depôts are authorized to detain men who, by the loss of a badge or by not obtaining one, are ineligible for free discharge which has been sanctioned. In such cases a report will be made to Head Quarters in order that the authority may be cancelled.

13. Again, in the case of discharges by purchase if the application is not submitted in proper time the men may be detained another season in India, as it may be too late to admit of the men reaching the port of embarkation before the 15th March. (See G. O. 215 of 1868.) Madras, G. O. C. C. 15*th July* 1868, Page 170.

14. Regimental Discharge Boards will be assembled at such times as may be most convenient, but in cases where authority is necessary, such authority must have been previously received.

* In forwarding to Head Quarters, for confirmation, the Discharge documents of men who have proceeded to Chinsurah, the fact of their having left the regiment should be stated, that their parchment Certificates may be sent accordingly.

† Fort St. George.

‡ See G. O. 39 of 1869 and G. O. 171 of 1870. (Madras G. O. C. C. No. 34 of 1869 and 24th August 1870.)

‖ The object of the reference is to provide against men whose service must expire before they are embarked or for whom passages cannot be readily found, being detained at the depot for unnecessarily long periods.

¶ Poonamallee.

 Madras.

15. All claims of men for discharge must be investigated, and, if possible, settled before the men leave their regiments. If settlement is impracticable, the fullest particulars of the case must be transmitted with them, and reference made to the proper quarter. No claims can be entertained at the embarkation depôts, unless they have been previously preferred at the Head Quarters of regiments, or have arisen after departure from the regiments.

16. The discharge documents, with exception of the Company Defaulter Sheets, Medical History Sheets, Ledger Sheet (W. O. F. 338,) and No. 1 Report (Bengal* Form No. 40,) of men proceeding to the ports of embarkation will be despatched, by post and packed in wax cloth,† to the depôt direct from the regiment on or before the day of departure of the party, and addressed to the Commandant or Paymaster as indicated in the schedule. The only exception to this rule is when the corps is stationed so near the depôt in point of time, that there is no probability of the packets by post being delivered before the arrival of the party itself, and in this case the papers will be sent in charge of the Officer Commanding the party. The No. 1 Report, as above, Ledger Sheet, Company Defaulter Sheets and Medical History Sheets will invariably accompany the men and be handed to the officers in military and medical charge respectively.

17. In the case of men at Convalescent depôts any documents requiring the soldier's signature will be forwarded by the Regiment for the same, and will be returned to the Regiment for despatch to the embarkation depôt, so soon as a report is received of the soldier's departure to the port of embarkation.

18. Each packet containing documents sent by post is to be registered and a list of enclosures put up in the packet.‡

19. The list above referred to is to record the documents in the same order in which they are placed in the accompanying schedule, and the documents of each man are to be attached together in the upper left hand corner by a loop of silk or strong thread, and folded lengthwise, the board's proceedings being the inner document in the series and not outside the others.

20. The officer commanding the party will be furnished with a list in duplicate of the documents he has in possession (see para. 16.) These lists will be receipted by the officer commanding the depôt.—One copy to be given to the officer who commanded the party, and the other sent to the corps for record.

21. Officers proceeding in charge of parties are to be instructed that the non-effective accounts of men who die en-route to the depôt are to be handed to the Paymaster of the depôt on arrival and not forwarded to the Paymaster of the corps.

22. The Commandants of depôts, whether at the ports of embarkation, or elsewhere, are empowered to address themselves direct to Commanding Officers, and His Excellency desires that all communications from these officers, concerning the discharge documents or matters connected with them, may be regarded in the light of instructions transmitted by Staff Officers. The Commander-in-Chief further desires to impress upon Commanding Officers the necessity of paying prompt and strict attention to all such communications, as the greatest inconvenience and delay must arise from any neglect in this respect.

23. Officers commanding embarkation depôts will forward, without fail on the day after the troop ship sails, to Commanding Officers of regiments and batteries a report of the embarkation, not only of detachments but of individuals (including prisoners, see Circular 87 of 1869,)—Madras Circular 3924 of 9th November 1869. accompanied by a nominal list, with regimental numbers attached, of the men referred to.

24. Commanding Officers will, on receipt of the above reports, correct the rolls of their corps and send the requisite advices home, in continuation of the returns previously transmitted to England (see G. O. 39 of 1869 and G. O. 171 of 1870)—(Madras G. O. C. C. No. 34 of 1869, and 24th August 1870)

By order of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief.

P. B. ROE, Colonel,
Adjutant-General.

* Madras.
† To be sent with the officers proceeding in charge of the Party in the Madras Presidency.
‡ This list when compared and checked with the documents received will be returned to the corps duly receipted by the officer commanding the depôt.

Non-commissioned Officers—Promotion, Soldiers—Schools.—With reference to para. 460, Queen's Regulations, the Right Honorable the Commander-in-Chief considers it very desirable that non-commissioned officers of British regiments should be in possession of school certificates, and His Lordship desires that Commanding Officers will bear this in mind when making their selections for promotions in the non-commissioned ranks. It is highly desirable that Sergeants should be in possession of a 2nd class and Corporals of a 3rd class certificate.

Commanding Officers may use their discretion in promoting men without certificates, but such men should be required to attend school, when duty permits, until they have obtained them.

This rule may however be relaxed at the discretion of Commanding Officers, in the cases of men of inferior educational abilities, whom it may be considered desirable to promote for peculiar qualifications or merit.

No. 279.

Clothing—Invalids—Discharge—Effects.—

G. O. 105* of 1870 is cancelled and the following substituted :—

With reference to G. G. O. No. 918† of 24th September 1870, re-published herewith, the following rules are laid down for the settlement of claims on account of clothing and for the preparation of clothing and compensation returns of corps, of detachments, of invalids, of time-expired and other men proceeding to England, of men for discharge in India, and of deceased men, all previous orders on the subject being considered cancelled.

A separate Clothing Return in duplicate is to be prepared in the form prescribed in G. G. O. No. 918† of 1870, for each soldier proceeding to England invalided or for discharge.

Madras, G. O. C. C. 9th September* 1870.

†Madras, G. O. C. C. 4th October 1870.

The Commanding Officers who sign these Returns will be held strictly responsible for their correctness, and will be liable for any double payment which may occur through inaccuracies.

These Returns in the case of regiments are to be made up to the end of the month prior to the date of their embarkation, and in that of invalids, time-expired men, &c., to the date of quitting their corps, and they will be forwarded by the Commanding Officers to the Examiner of Clothing Accounts in sufficient time to admit of verification and transmission; one copy to the Commanding Officer of the Embarkation Depôt to which the men are proceeding, to be made over to the Commanding Officer of the Corps, or of the Detachment of Invalids or Time-expired men, as the case may be, to take with him to England. The other copy will be sent direct from the Examiner's Office for transmission through the Military department to the India Office.

The sums due to the men as shown in the Returns are to be credited in their account, and are to be charged by the Paymaster in the next Pay list supported by a verified copy of the Return.

In the Returns of Corps the name of every soldier going home must be entered, whether compensation is due to him or not, a note being inserted in the latter case that no compensation is due.

When a soldier dies, compensation for clothing up to date of his demise is to be credited with his other effects in the Casualty Return, the amount being charged in the next Pay list; and in the case of discharge at the Head Quarters of Regiment, the amount is also to be charged in the Pay list. When a man is discharged after quitting his regiment with the view of residing in India, or proceeding to the colonies, compensation will be paid him up to actual date of discharge and delivery to him of his parchment certificate, and the amount charged by the officer commanding the depôt in his Pay list or in a separate bill as the case may require.

No. 283.

"With reference to the correspondence marginally cited, I am directed to acquaint you, for the information of the Right Honorable the Governor in Council, that the Government of India, is pleased to admit the claim of * * * * * to travelling expenses when proceeding to join his battery on return from leave on private affairs, which he obtained on arrival in England on duty with invalids, &c., in November 1868.

From Bombay Government, No. 4838, dated 28th October 1869.
To Bombay Government, No. 353, dated 10th February 1870.

Clothing.—The following letter from the Assistant Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department, No. 51, dated 1st July 1870, to the Superintendent and Agent Army Clothing, is published for general information, with reference to G. O. No. 130 of 1868 :—

"I am directed to acknowledge your Memo. No. 3440, dated 9th February 1870, submitting for orders a question raised by the Officer Commanding * * * as regards the recovery of the value of Serge Frocks issued in advance to a draft recently arrived from England, in the event of any of the men becoming non-effective prior to April 1871.

"2. In reply, I am to observe that the issue of the Clothing in advance is a concession, which was made in lieu of any money payment being demanded for such Clothing, and that the value of the Clothing in question would therefore be recoverable, when practicable, from the men who may become non-effective before the period of the regular issue falls due.

"3. In some instances, however, the value of such Clothing might not be recoverable, in which case, the charge would have to be borne by Government; but such instances will, it is believed, be comparatively few."

Commissariat Dept.—Staff, Soldiers—Quarters—Pay.—The following letter from the Military Department, No. 672, dated 29th August 1870, is published for information :—

G. O. 48 of 1867. (Madras, G. O. G. 1st March 1867), No. 89.

"With reference to your letters Nos. 2092 and 647, dated 14th April and 1st August 1870, submitting the cases of non-commissioned officers of the Commissariat Department who were deprived of house-rent while temporarily detached from their stations, I am directed to state that the General Order by the Commander-in-Chief, No. 48 of 1867, had reference to the continuance of the grant of house-rent to departmental non-commissioned officers when detached on duty, who were already drawing it instead of being furnished with quarters; but the grant of house-rent is exceptional, and departmental non-commissioned officers for the most part are, and should generally be, supplied with public quarters.

"2. When detached on duty and furnished with camp equipage and carriage, or when allowed any equivalent travelling or marching allowance, they have no claim to house-rent and no lien on their quarters, if required for other purposes, in so far as they are themselves concerned. Government, however, undertakes to provide shelter for their families, and if these are left behind when the non-commissioned officer is detached, he has a lien on their account upon his temporarily vacated quarters, or, if these are required, to an equivalent allowance to enable him to provide suitable shelter for his family, which may be regulated on the usual house-rent of grade.

Page 177, Article 39, Pay Code 1849; also G. G. O. 711, page 167, S. O. 1865.

"4. I am, however, to request that, in all possible cases, the detached non-commissioned officer's family may not be moved out of any quarters they may occupy."

Quarters—House-rent.—The following ruling of the Government of India, in regard to the grant of house-rent to departmental non-commissioned officers, when detached on duty, is published for general information and guidance :—

From Colonel H. K. Burne, Secretary to the Government of India, Military department, to the Commissary-General, No. 672, dated Simla, the 29th August 1870.

With reference to your letters Nos. 2092 and 647, dated 14th April and 1st August 1870, submitting the cases of non-commissioned officers of the Commissariat Department who were deprived of house-rent while temporarily detached from their stations, I am directed to state that the General Order by the Commander-in-Chief, No. 48 of 1867, had reference to the continuance of the grant of house rent to departmental non-commissioned officers when detached on duty, who were already drawing it, instead of being furnished with quarters, but the grant of house-rent is exceptional, and departmental non-commissioned officers for the most part are, and should generally be, supplied with public quarters.

No. * 550 of 1868, and Public Works Department Circular No. 109 of 1868, the Government of India is pleased to sanction the grant of compensation at the rate of Rs. 10, 7, and 5 per mensem, respectively, to Hospital Purveyors of the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd class, when suitable quarters cannot be provided for them, and its adjustment as a charge against the Public Works' budget grant.

Colonels' Allowances—Leave—Staff.—The following letter from the Government of India in the Military department, to the Controller of Military Accounts, No. 545, dated 19th October 1870, is published for general information :—

(b) G. G. O. No. 663 of 1862.
A. G. Cir. No. 31, dated 21st February 1865, page 27 S. O.
(c) G. O. Nos. 217, 309, and 311 of 1867.

"I am directed to acknowledge your letter No. 995F, dated 6th September 1869, submitting certain questions affecting officers who succeed to Colonel's allowance, and in reply to acquaint you, with reference to the first point raised, that an officer succeeding to that allowance will, from the date of succession thereto, be held as vacating his appointment if absent on furlough.

2. As regards the second question, I am to observe that it is obvious that in the case of an officer succeeding to Colonel's allowance while present at his staff duties, he would cease to draw staff salary only from the date of his being relieved, under the orders of Government or of the Right Hon'ble the Commander-in-Chief, when he would be regarded as having vacated his appointment."

Taxes.—The following correspondence, defining the class of Presidency house-rent liable to the Income Tax, is re-published for information, in continuation of G. O. * 180 of 1869 :—

From Colonel F. D. Atkinson, Controller of Military Accounts, to the Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department, No. 382G, dated Calcutta, the 31st May 1870.

I have the honour to enquire whether presidency house-rent, when drawn as a separate item by staff officers at the presidency, in addition to their staff corps pay and staff salary, is to be exempt from income tax, in the same manner as horse allowance when not included in military pay and allowances. —Financial Resolution No. 443 of the 15th May 1869.

* Madras Circular by Controller, No. 164 of 3rd July 1869.

No. 1665, Government of India, Financial Department, Simla, the 30th June 1870.

RESOLUTION.—The Governor-General in Council is of opinion that if presidency house-rent is an allowance which is paid irrespective of the fact of the officer being at the presidency, and therefore irrespective of his incurring a charge for house-rent at the presidency, it is subject to the tax. But if this allowance be not paid unless the disbursing officer is certified that a charge on account of presidency house-rent is incurred, then it is exempt from taxation.

Office Memorandum from Colonel H. K. Burne, Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department, to the Secretary to the Government of India, Financial Department, No. 437, dated Simla, the 20th August 1870.

The Secretary in the Military department is directed to enquire of the Financial department whether the resolution, marginally cited, means that any officer living at the presidency, and drawing presidency house-rent, to secure exemption from income tax on house-rent, is required to produce a certificate of his paying some charge for rent.

No. 1665, dated 30th June 1870.

Office Memorandum from R. H. Hollingbery, Esq., Assistant Secretary to the Government of India, Financial Department, to the Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department, No. 3183, dated Simla, the 31st August 1870.

In reply to the Office memorandum from the Military department, No. 437, dated 20th August 1870 the Assistant Secretary in the Financial Department is directed to state that the exemption or non-exemption of presidency house-rent from Income Tax depends on the nature of the allowance.

If it is an allowance made whether the charge is incurred or not, then it is assessable, whether the charge is incurred or not. If it is an allowance only made when the charge is incurred, then it is not assessable.

Accordingly, the Financial Resolution of 30th June 1870, does not require the production of any certificate, which is dispensed with in passing presidency house-rent.

No. 325.

Inspections—Veterinary Department.—G. O. Nos. 18 * and 275 * of 1870 are cancelled, and the following substituted :—

The following procedure will be observed in future on occasions when Inspecting Veterinary Surgeons visit regiments of British and Native Cavalry, or batteries of Artillery, for the purpose of veterinary inspection.

† G. O. 248 and 299 of 1866.

2. The Inspecting Veterinary Surgeon on arrival at a station will wait officially on the Brigader General or other Officer Commanding, in order that the day and hour for his inspection may be published in station orders.

3. When there is a Veterinary Surgeon in charge of the horses of the corps concerned, he will accompany the Inspecting Veterinary Surgeon during his inspection. Officers in command of squadrons, troops or batteries will invariably be present on these occasions, and will afford every facility for a thorough examination of the horses, as regards all subjects connected with their clothing and stable management, in order to enable the Inspecting Veterinary Surgeon to prepare the report required by Government.

4. Before leaving, Inspecting Veterinary Surgeons will forward to the Officer commanding the station a memorandum embodying the result of their inspection, together with such professional remarks or suggestions as they may consider it necessary to make for the improvement of the health or condition of the horses.

5. The horses will invariably be inspected at their pickets.
