C 6 The 3d Judge of Cuttack with the Dismissing Order &c.	12th March 1805 on the Judicial department with the recommendation of the Sudder Court to His Lordship in Council that Mr Shiels be directed to resume his duty as Judge on Circuit — and that the Register

To the Secretary to Govt in the Judicial Department —

Lieut Johnson's letter &c — The Register lays before the Court the following letters

No 2 From the 3d Judge of Circuit in the Division of Chalabar — stating the cause of delay of transmission of trials concluded in the late Circuit — which arose in this Court being obliged to have prepare the necessary documents for trial —

No 3 from the Asst Register in the Zillah of Chalabar — submitting observations on the cause of delay of business — & recommending a more summary method —

The Sudder Court having taken the above letters in relation to the late circumstance — and also approve the moderation of the Judge to the time past for his conduct by Sect XXX Reg VII 1802 in withholding from the public County the cause of delay in the business of this Circuit —

It appears that the same cause has operated in prevention of the causes which should have been brought before the Special Commission and it is satisfactory to the Sudder Court to have an impartial letter from the Acting Judge in Calicut — not only praising the to the Regulations in respect to the path but openly recommending the relinquishing of the forms therein prescribed, and requiring extracts from those very documents on which the judgment of the Law Officers is about to be established —

The Sudder Court are pleased to think from the letter before them that the acting Register has overlooked the Court to respect the powers of all the Regulations equally binding on all descriptions of people — the Government itself as well as its subjects — and they cannot if there did exist in the mind of the acting Magistrate an intention to alter the Law — that such intention was not expressed noted in conformity to Reg IX 1802 —

It is known that the Regulations were promulgated in 1802 — and the Sudder Court conceive the present impediments to the public business arise solely from the neglect of the duties therein prescribed by the local Officers in the first instance

Ordered that Extract of the above be sent to the Provincial Court and that the letter of the Acting Magistrate with the

The Register laid before the Court a Letter No 7 from the Judge of Circuit in Malabar

The Judges Court observe that the prosecution for the Murder is not entered upon by reason of the Bar urged by the Judge of an amnesty under the authority of the Bombay Government dated 8th July 1793 - as the amnesty pleaded in bar of the prosecution is not entered on the proceedings — the Sudder Court cannot judge of the propriety of its admission by the Judge of Circuit.

It was the peculiar business of the Judge to have every paper, record or proceeding before the Sudder Court and to shew the grounds of his admission of the amnesty to the particular case before them.

The Judges Court also observed the irregularity of the Mahomedan Law officer admitting on his Jetwah that an amnesty

Hence the Sudder Court conceive the Judge and the Law officer to have mistaken their relative situations and duties —

The Regulations expressly direct the Mahomedan Law officers to attend to the [illegible] part of [illegible]

Mahommed — the Court think nothing of the Law by the Regulations of Government — except when the exception is expressed and according to the modification Regulated —

Under this consideration Ordered that the trial be returned to the Judge that the document on which he stayed the prosecution for the murder be returned forthwith on the proceedings — the Sudder Court not being able to proceed to Judge= ment on the case — as the record of a trial appears to have been under the consideration of the Judge of Circuit is incomplete before the Sudder Court —

Ordered that Extract of the above be sent to Mr Hodgson with precept requiring the amendment of the record to be made and returned within Ten days from the date of receipt of the order of the Sudder Court —

The Indian Courts having given due consideration to the work offered for their acceptance are pleased to record their opinion of its general merit

The Pecuniary Interest of the Translator has afforded to the Indian Courts the strongest proof of his fitness for the Service and ability to execute it — and altho' some few inaccuracies in the Translate before them, yet they think just of Protection due to the industry of him who has so laboured endeavoured to clear the Road to the jurisprudence of the Mohammedans and, to provide for the dissemination knowledge of their practices, and religions — by which alone the Supremacy of the British Government can be justly contended and preserved —

The Judicial Regulations of the Mahomedans are so intricately connected with their Religion that any innovation on the former would almost appear to that people a violation of the latter — And although the wisdom of Government has suggested the expediency of modifying their System of jurisprudence — yet has it dictated the necessity of preserving inviolated many usages — essential to the existence and happiness of a people whose manners and customs are so widely different from their own —

In the infancy of the Judicial establishment on the Coast many have been appointed to superintend the proceedings of the Courts, who have had no opportunity of studying the Languages in which the Laws are written — and who have since been constrained mine their determinations to be guided by the knowledge and advice of native officers — men sometimes too ill informed to be capable of judging — or if informed too much for the rigid discharge of their duty

Hence appears the necessity of obtaining some further rule of direction whereby Officers might be guided without exposure to the misconstruction of ignorance — and which might assist them to determine for themselves — by the direct application of that Law — on the authority of which they were to decide —

For and the accomplishment of this great and important object — every effort to develope the Prospective Law is highly commendable — and it is this consideration applied to the work now before them that dispose the Judicial Court to recommend in the strongest terms of approbation this translation and completion of Mr Keene to the favorable notice of the Government

Ordered that Extracts of the above be sent to the Chief Secy to the Government for the information of His Right Honble the Governor in Council with the solicitation of the Judicial Court that Their Lordships in Council may be pleased favourably to consider the Representation the above letters from the Registrate in as a reference proceeding from the two Courts – the orders of the 20th Sept 1803 were opened expressly for the purpose of procuring publicity of the reasons for the execution of Criminals – and those orders direct that the sentences of each and every one punished either by death – transportation or imprisonment with hard labour shall into the language of the district in which the execution of the punishment shall should take place – and that they shall be fixed up in at least two of the most public places in the cutcherry of the district – those orders also directed that with the warrant returned, an Execution being made – by the Magistrate that he should upon specially the manner that appeared to be made on the part

It appears by Mr Thomas's Complaint that the Judge on Circuit did not furnish the Magistrate on the Jellah of the Proclamation day with copy of the sentences on Condict Pearkan – altho the copy was signed by the Judge by the Magistrate under date 21st July 1804 – and it further appears that the Judge on Circuit did not furnish copies of the sentences on Tootah Jaswanah and Tolsey Purwah before the copies of the said sentences were signed by the Judge to the Magistrate under date 27th July 1805 –

With the orders of the Sudder

To the judge on Circuit in the Southern Division

Sent the following letter

In reverting to the proceedings of the Court of Circuit on trial 1805 — the Jelmark of Salem the Inferior Court must reluctantly enforce the sentence of the Law —

The attendance of the judges on Circuit at each station will have to the cause and perpetration of the crime charged on the prisoners, and diverted to an enquiry — wholly secondary in its objects to the cause before him —

In the examination of the witnesses on the part of the prosecution, the Judge has rejected material facts on which proof of the guilt of the prisoners appears to the Inferior Court to have rested — how has he by a due consideration of the Law — or a proper application of Sect XX and XXI Reg VIII 1802 remedied the deficiency of the Magistrate in procuring the evidence necessary for the attainments of substantial justice —

The Inferior Court with respect consider that the subject now before them is not the first they have been incapacitated severely to censure — and the Jelwark of the Law officers of Inferior Courts are pleased to confer the Jelwork of the Lawful Courts and Sheriffs of the Inferior Courts and under the discretion of a Jelwark of Oakaclark do sentence the prisoner Odda Thennan to be imprisoned and kept to hard labour in Irons for the space of seven Years — and that Coopa Jaunder — Poonnen — Coora Cuny and Coma Veeren be released —

To the Judges on Circuit in the Southern Division

For the following reasons

In regarding to the jurisdiction of the Court of Circuit on trial 1805 — the Jelwark of Salem the Inferior Courts worth Reluctantly enforce the sentence of the Law —

Circuit at Jaffna settled on 24th ultimo

our enquiry — strictly secondary in its objects to the case before him —

has neglected material facts on which proof of the guilt of the prisoners appears to the Inferior Courts to have rested
of Sect XX and XXI Ch VIII Ld 1802 remedied the deficiency of the
necessary for the attainments of so substantial justice —

necessitated reverently to censure — nor can they conceive the want of cause this insinuation to manifest in the proceedings of the Judge on Circuit — but at [illegible] an almost positive interest in the administration of his Judiciary duties

With these remarks the Jurors consider all under pain of the Censure in respect to the results of cases which are not directly brought before them but which they take this occasion may effect such discrimination whereas and positively they feel it their solemn duty to caution the Judge on Circuit against any unjustifiable proceedings for the future

Much as the Ladies Court disapprove of the conduct observed on this trial by the Judge on Circuit they consider it justly the effect of the suspicious of the Magistrate in the previous proceedings

With the power of misrepresenting the intrigue evidently entered into for the purpose of depriving the ends of justice — the Magistrate has contented himself in taking depositions top connected with the crimes charged on the Prisoners — the with the strongly manifested partiality of certain Officers of his Court — and by this declination of his prescribed duty he has caused the Judge on Circuit to diversify his proceedings on the present trial with which ought to have formed the grounds of a separate Commencement by himself that the Jurors summoned might have had heard on the Circuit now pending

His manifest neglect of duty is of such highly reprehensible a nature as when it appears — that the instructions of the Court were contravened by their Officer — that no Report was made on their observance contrary and that the Judge on Circuit was from Sickness the very neglect of the Magistrate necessitated D. to pursue acts peculiarly the province of the Magistrate — the Judge Circuit are at a loss whether to condemn more — the positive malversation to prescribed duties — or the obvious of the Magistrate to that solemn Office remarked he was appointed to fulfil

Under these considerations the Judge Circuit directs the discharge from Office of every Servant in the Magistrates department implicated in this Prevarication — who will appointed under the Regulations by the Government — and that if any Servant appointed by Government be implicated therein — that the Judge Magistrate do report the same to the Inferior Court — that they under the Regulations may by a full Representation of the case to the Right Honble the Governor in Council cause the removal of the said persons from their respective Offices and declare them Infamous, again to act under the Government — in any capacity whatever —

It appears therefore to the Court — that the acts of the Prisoners were not of a nature they had received which orders as such from Baboo Gowda — in pursuance and avowed motive — and on these grounds. the Judicial Court think it is justifiable — by the principles of natural justice — and by the letter and Spirit of 45th Geo. III Cap 65 — to pronounce Baboo Gowda who although not present at the perpetration of Murder and Robbery — did procure, counsel and command a murder and Robbery in pursuance of a premeditated plan between him

The criminality of Baboo Gowdas conduct consists in his having a certain number of Persons to engage in criminal acts of Robbery Murder and appear to the Judicial Court that in the eye of the Law was responsible for all acts committed by those persons while upon their unlawful employment in the execution of the orders of Baboo Gowda

Sect IV & XV of 1803 — provide especially for the punishment of all persons before the Jack and the application of it in the present case by the Court of Cochin would have been consistent with every principle of Natural justice —

The delivery of Evidence to the Jury by the Judge on Circuit is the only possibility of redressing the grievance of the prosecutor on the principal of the act — The Indian Courts expressly state it is so — and inform the Circuit Judge that they are not inclined to receive from him any further argument on the subject —

The Indian Courts just object to note the circumstance of the Law officer attending to the Circuit Judge — at the commencement of the trial a plain and distinct question is put by the Judge to the Law officer — in respect to the cognizance of the case by the Court of Cochin — This question is distinctly and properly answered in the affirmative — and there does not appear any exception during the course of the trial —

In the present the Law officer virtually denies the power of the Courts to take cognizance of the offence having been committed in a foreign country — and accordingly exempts the prisoners Kaiks alias Kanoo and Kiawa from the punishment awarded by the Mussulman Laws against persons convicted of Highway Robbery and Murder — and on this Head attributes the Court of Cochin the power of action substitutes Deyut — a principle not that the Laws by which he is bound

The Criminal Court are sorry to observe an unfavorable opinion of the misconception on the part of the Magistrate in the person by Law committed as specified under Sect XIX Clause Second of Reg VI AD 1802 — Howsoever they may have been misled by Expressions which do not appear to have fallen from the Court, they cannot but lament that any Magistrate should have acted on his own consideration of the case without reference and on the answer to such application have suspended the Regulations to the case — instead of

By answering the writ of Habeas Corpus — and commanding the Sheriff of Madras to take and have custody of the Lord William Pelham in compliance with the tenor of the writ — the acting Magistrate has not fully obeyed the writ from the Supreme Court and is therefore liable to animadversion — therefore — but has the Magistrate by the measure they previously adopted

Judge on Circuit in Center Division

S. the Judge on Circuit in the Center Division

Here is the trial No 4

The Register says before the Court the said Judge on the Southern Division

The Judges Council proceed to deliver their sentiments on Mr Brown's Report

The Judges Court on entering on their proceedings of the 27th. Ult. did their satisfaction at the zeal manifested by Mr Brown in the discharge of his duty under Act XXXIII and XXXVII by VII C. D. & 2 conformable to those points of his Report which were taken conformably to those presented Cases —

The Judges Court did not in any respect adopt Mr Browns reasoning on the innovatory matter then introduced nor do they consider the objects suggested in that Report as being essential to the furtherance of justice or the better regulation of the present criminal code

The Judges Court trusted that that such Errors as appeared the effect of zeal — and as were caused by the novelty of the duties of the Judges of this would be corrected by a study of the Regulations — and that their forbearance of censure would have, be compensated by that perfect of opinion, from the third judge, in future communications which is generally the result of discussion and experience —

The Judges Court trusted that the Report before them should not only have disappointed their expectations, but that it should speedily be their entire pleasure to concur of opinion when united with the Regulations and stated in a style of language proper suitable for them to receive —

The third judge did not see any case found for the observations of the respondents of the Magistrates by pleading any Statements of circumstances on which the Lordships Court might form their decision — but he has acted without authority — by admitting the excuses he notices — and passes thereby an assumption of power to himself — not warranted by the Regulations. — not consistent with those duties his oath as a Judge of Circuit has bound him to perform

The Lordships Court have been presumed to question the propriety of the acts of Government — how can they conceive the epithets used by Mr Brown in his account of the Assistant Corps of Police — either as consistent with any official necessity from him incurred against their deserts of censure — or — with the Candour and Impartiality from one Judge to his

by whom the precautionary measure was originally adopted —

The Lordships Court are confident that the Regulations as they now stand are justly conceived, under the direction of the Magistrates, to answer both the purpose and effect the ends of substantial justice — they therefore do not adopt the reasoning of the third Judge in the precepts sent or proposed to be sent to the Magistrates on the Northern Division — and they think it necessary to notice to the third Judge — that any act more than ~~by the framework of Regulations is exceeded by him~~ ~~and beyond what is warranted~~ by the Regulations, is virtually contrary to the oath of a Judge of Circuit under these impressions the Lordships Court do not conceive it to be their province to enter upon the examination of the proposed precepts — and as the Lordships Court deem many parts of the report of the Kw judge highly exceptionable it is Ld directed to be returned to him — with the order of the Court that he do conform strictly to the tenor of the Regulation made to direct the report it is to be made

And further to caution the Kw Judge against the declaration either directly or indirectly on the acts of Government or Legislature not =cution which may have been adopted in the discharge of such his circuit it is to be made

And further that this third judge be informed, that the Lordships Court do not expect any other reply than submission to their Order.

Ordered that Extracts of the above be sent for the information of the third judge with direction to him to forward to them expence

To the 3d Judge of Circuit in the Northern Division. Lr to prepare &c.

The Registrar lays before the Court

The question before the Courts is whether or not the Courts of Circuit can try subjects of the Honble Company not subject to the East Government —

It allows to the Saddler Courts Both the Mahomedan Criminal Law as it exists the Law of the English Government in India as the Regulations thereto last are — the Enactments make no distinction in respect to that can apply in respect to the Local jurisdiction in which the crime is committed — the Mahomedan Law extends to the persons committing the crime in what part of Hindoostan soever the act is done —

Under this impression Journeyed in the Law the Saddler Court direct that the subjects of the Honble Company crimes cognizable under the Regulations be brought to trial before the Courts
